Report of Independent Auditors

To the Board of Directors of
Highmark Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying combined balance sheets and the related combined statements of operations, changes in reserves and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Highmark Inc. and its subsidiaries and affiliate (the "Corporation") at December 31, 2009 and 2008, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

1. Nature of Operations

Highmark Inc. ("Highmark") is incorporated as a nonprofit corporation and operates as a hospital plan and a professional health service plan in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As a licensee of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association ("BCBSA"), Highmark underwrites various indemnity and managed care health insurance products for national accounts (primarily groups headquartered in Pennsylvania that have operations in other locations), regional accounts and individual accounts. Highmark also underwrites Medicare supplemental, dental, vision and long-term care insurance products and provides administrative services under contractual arrangements. In addition, Highmark jointly markets various health insurance products with Hospital Service Association of Northeastern Pennsylvania d/b/a Blue Cross of Northeastern Pennsylvania and Independence Blue Cross ("IBC").

Highmark's for-profit and nonprofit subsidiaries and affiliates offer health insurance, dental insurance, vision services, workers compensation insurance, stop-loss insurance, real estate management services and other administrative services. Highmark's controlled affiliate, Highmark West Virginia Inc. d/b/a Mountain State Blue Cross Blue Shield ("MSBCBS"), is a West Virginia nonprofit health services corporation.

Highmark's wholly owned subsidiary, Highmark Medicare Services Inc. ("HMS"), operates as a Medicare Contract Administrator ("MAC") for Jurisdiction 12, comprised of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and the District of Columbia. As a MAC, HMS is responsible for performing Medicare Part A and Part B fee-for-service claims adjudication and other administrative services for hospitals, other institutional providers, physicians and other health care practitioners in the named states. In January 2009, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS") selected HMS as the MAC for Jurisdiction 15, comprised of Ohio and Kentucky. Jurisdiction 15 also includes the home health and hospice workload for several other states. Subsequently, a protest was filed by a competitor and a stop work order was issued by CMS. In February 2010, CMS issued a termination for convenience, and the corrective action of the Jurisdiction 15 procurement is still pending.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Financial Presentation

The combined financial statements include the accounts of Highmark and its wholly owned subsidiaries (collectively "Consolidated Highmark") and MSBCBS and its wholly owned subsidiary (collectively "Consolidated MSBCBS").

As the sole corporate member of MSBCBS, Highmark has the authority to elect all the members of the Board of Directors of MSBCBS. In accordance with its articles of incorporation, no part of the funds, income or net earnings of MSBCBS may inure to the benefit of Highmark, and in the event of dissolution or winding up of its affairs, MSBCBS's assets are required to be distributed in the manner provided for nonprofit corporations by West Virginia or the rules and regulations of the Offices of the Insurance Commissioner of West Virginia. Creditors of Highmark may not anticipate that any of the assets or revenues of MSBCBS are or will be available to pay their claims, either currently or at any time in the future. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, MSBCBS's total reserves were $209,066 and $187,323, respectively.

Consolidated Highmark and Consolidated MSBCBS are herein referred to as the "Corporation." The combined financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated from the combined financial statements.

(in thousands of dollars)

The Corporation uses the equity method of accounting for 50% or less owned affiliates and those affiliates for which the Corporation does not hold a controlling financial interest but may influence operating or financial decisions.

The financial position and results of operations of foreign subsidiaries of HVHC Inc. ("HVHC"), a wholly owned holding company for Highmark's vision services subsidiaries, are measured using local currency as the functional currency. Assets and liabilities are translated at current exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet dates. Revenue and expenses are translated using an average exchange rate during the year. Translation gains and losses are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) in the combined statements of changes in reserves.

New Accounting Pronouncements
In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") established The FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC"). The ASC is the source of authoritative GAAP standards and supersedes all existing accounting and reporting GAAP standards. The FASB's adoption of the ASC is effective for 2009 financial statements. The adoption of the ASC standard changes the way accounting standards are referenced in these financial statements.

In May 2009, the FASB issued new guidance establishing general standards of accounting for disclosure of events that occur after the balance sheet date but before financial statements are issued or are available to be issued, or subsequent events. Subsequent events were evaluated for recognition or disclosure through March 26, 2010, the date these combined financial statements were issued.

In April 2009, the FASB issued guidance for recognition and presentation of other-than-temporary impairment. The new guidance applies to debt securities only and defines the criteria for determining other-than-temporary impairments and the amount of the impairments which is to be recorded to net realized gain (loss) on investments in the combined statements of operations. The adoption of this guidance did not impact the Corporation's financial position or results of operations.

In March 2008, the FASB issued guidance for disclosures about derivative instruments and hedging activities. The guidance requires expanded disclosures regarding the accounting, location and amounts of derivative instruments and was effective January 1, 2009. The adoption of this guidance did not impact the Corporation's financial position or results of operations.

Use of Estimates
The preparation of the Corporation's combined financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the combined financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
The Corporation considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

Investments
All debt securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and are carried at fair value (based on quoted or estimated market prices), and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), net of deferred income taxes. Premiums and discounts are amortized using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are based on amortized cost. Equity securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and carried at fair value (based on quoted or estimated market prices), and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), net of deferred income taxes. Realized gains and losses are based on cost (specific identification method).

(in thousands of dollars)

Equity securities include investments in grantor trusts, comprised of mutual funds related to certain nonqualified retirement and deferred compensation plans. Grantor trusts are carried at fair value with changes in fair value reported as unrealized gains and losses in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), net of deferred income taxes.

The Corporation monitors its available-for-sale investment portfolio for unrealized losses that appear to be other-than-temporary. Beginning in 2009, the Corporation considers whether it has intent to sell the debt security or whether it is more likely than not that the Corporation will be required to sell the debt security before recovery of its amortized cost basis, which may be at maturity. If the Corporation intends to sell the debt security or it is more likely than not that the Company will be required to sell the debt security before recovery of its amortized cost basis, an other-than-temporary impairment is recorded as a realized loss in the combined statements of operations for the difference between fair value and amortized cost.

If the Corporation does not have the intent to sell and it does not believe that it is more likely than not that it will be required to sell the debt security before recovery of its amortized cost, the Corporation performs a detailed review to determine the underlying cause of the unrealized loss and whether the debt security is other-than-temporarily impaired. At the time a debt security is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the credit component of the other-than-temporary impairment is recorded as a realized loss in the combined statements of operations and the non-credit component of the other-than-temporary impairment is recorded in other comprehensive income (loss).

Other investments include investments in limited partnerships. Limited partnerships are accounted for under the equity method with changes reported in net realized gain (loss) on investments.

The Corporation participates in securities lending transactions. The Corporation maintains effective control over the loaned securities and requires collateral initially equal to at least 102% of loaned domestic securities and 105% of loaned international securities at the loan date. Collateral received consists of cash and fixed-income securities. Noncash collateral is not recorded in the combined balance sheets, as the Corporation does not have the right to sell, pledge or otherwise reinvest the noncash collateral. Cash collateral is invested in short-term debt securities and is carried at fair value. Changes in fair value are reported as unrealized gains and losses in accumulated other comprehensive income (loss), net of deferred income taxes. The fair value of securities held as invested collateral was $276,272 and $566,914 at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively. The corresponding liability that represents the Corporation's obligation to return the collateral was $277,646 and $591,347 at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

The Corporation's assets are invested in a variety of financial instruments. Accordingly, the related values as presented in the combined financial statements are subject to various market fluctuations, which include changes in the interest rate environment, equity markets and general economic conditions.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments
In accordance with FASB fair value measurements guidance, financial assets and liabilities recorded at fair value in the combined balance sheets are categorized based upon the level of judgment associated with the inputs used to measure their fair value. Input levels, as defined by FASB fair value measurements guidance, are as follows:

Level 1 – Pricing inputs are based on unadjusted quoted market prices for identical financial assets in active markets. Active markets are those in which transactions occur in sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis. Equity securities and actively traded United States Treasury securities are generally considered Level 1 assets.

Level 2 – Pricing inputs are based on other than quoted prices in active markets included in Level 1 that are observable unadjusted quoted market prices for similar financial assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted market prices for identical assets in inactive markets. Publicly traded corporate debt securities, United States government agencies' securities, mortgage-backed securities and interest rate swaps are generally classified as Level 2.

Level 3 – Pricing inputs include unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity that reflect management's best estimate of what market participants would use in pricing the asset at the measurement date. Privately held equity securities, distressed debt and other debt securities priced solely on other proprietary pricing methodology are generally classified as Level 3.

Accounts Receivable
In the normal course of business, the Corporation grants credit to its customers under various contractual arrangements. The Corporation carries its accounts receivable at estimated net realizable value, which reflects the impact of potential credit losses. Trade accounts receivable include amounts due from commercial health, dental and vision businesses. Government program accounts receivable relate to amounts due in connection with government business, including the TRICARE Dental Plan, the Federal Employee Program and the Medicare program.

Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade accounts receivable are limited due to the large number of employer groups that constitute the Corporation's customer base. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, there were no significant concentrations in a single investee or industry.

Reinsurance
In the normal course of business, the Corporation seeks to reduce losses that may arise from risks or occurrences of an unexpected nature that may cause unfavorable underwriting results by reinsuring certain levels of risk in various areas of exposure with other insurance enterprises or reinsurers. Reinsurance premiums and benefits paid or provided are accounted for in a manner consistent with the original policies issued and the terms of the reinsurance contracts. The Corporation also assumes reinsurance risks from other insurance companies. Such assumed reinsurance activity is recorded principally on the basis of reports received from the ceding companies.

Pharmacy Rebates Receivable
Pharmacy rebates receivable is an actuarial estimate based on prescriptions filled and terms of rebate contracts. The actuarial estimates are continually reviewed and any resulting adjustments are included in current operations.

Property and Equipment, Net
Property and equipment is recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. Maintenance, repairs and minor improvements are expensed as incurred. Certain costs related to the internal development of software or software purchased for internal use are capitalized. Gains or losses on sales or disposals of property and equipment are included in operations. Depreciation is computed under the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives as follows: building and building improvements, seven-40 years; leasehold improvements, lesser of lease term or useful life; electronic data processing ("EDP") equipment, three years; office furniture and equipment, three-10 years; and capitalized software, three years.

Property and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. Impairment losses are recognized to the extent the carrying amount of an asset exceeds the undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposal. No impairment losses were recorded in 2009 or 2008.

(in thousands of dollars)

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, Net
Intangible assets with definite lives are amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated lives, which range from three to 25 years. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, including goodwill, are not amortized, but are tested for impairment at least annually and more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that an asset may be impaired. If fair value is less than carrying value, an impairment loss is recorded in the combined statements of operations. Management tested goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives for impairment and concluded that no impairment existed at December 31, 2009 or 2008.

Goodwill consists primarily of amounts related to HVHC subsidiary acquisitions. Other intangible assets principally include the trademark and licensing agreements of HVHC's wholesale vision subsidiary. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, HVHC reported goodwill and other intangible assets of $745,076 and $755,100, respectively. HVHC goodwill was adjusted by $6,297 in 2009 for the unamortized deferred tax asset associated with debt financing charges. This adjustment did not affect net income in 2009 or 2008.

Other Assets
Other assets include prepaid expenses, vision business inventory, cash surrender values of corporate-owned life insurance policies held in grantor trusts and deferred bond issuance costs. Vision business inventory consists of eyewear components including frames, lenses and cases, contact lenses and solutions, laboratory supplies and packaging materials, and is stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined by using the weighted average method or the first-in first-out method. Changes in cash surrender value are reported in net investment income in the combined statements of operations.

Claims Outstanding
Claims outstanding include claims reported and adjudicated but unpaid as well as an estimate of incurred but not reported claims ("IBNR"). The liability for IBNR claims is an actuarial estimate based on historical claims paid data, modified for current conditions and coverage changes. The methods to determine the estimate of IBNR claims use past experience adjusted for current trends. The methods and assumptions are continually reviewed and any resulting adjustments are included in current operations. Corresponding administrative costs to process outstanding claims are estimated and accrued and are included in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

In the ordinary course of business, the Corporation advances operating funds to health care providers. Claims outstanding are reported net of such advances, which were $20,719 and $22,832 at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

The Corporation recorded $692,841 and $687,258 in claim liabilities for certain non-risk administrative arrangements at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively. The non-risk group receivable is included in trade accounts receivable and the corresponding provider liability is included in claims outstanding in the combined balance sheets.

Amounts Held for Others
Amounts held for others include reserves for refunds and deposits received from groups for non-risk administrative arrangements. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, the Corporation held deposits received from groups of $138,263 and $143,285, respectively. Amounts held for others also include fees related to the BlueCard program, which allows the Corporation's members access to other Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans' provider networks.

(in thousands of dollars)

Premium Deficiency Reserves
The Corporation establishes a premium deficiency reserve ("PDR") when it determines that it is probable that future claims expense and related maintenance costs will exceed future premiums from contracts in force for a given line of business or product grouping within a contract period. The Corporation evaluates the need for a PDR by grouping policies consistent with the way the business is acquired, serviced and measured.

At December 31, 2009 and 2008, the Corporation determined that, due to insufficient premium rates related to several individual and state-sponsored products, establishment of a PDR of $124,081 and $116,156, respectively, was necessary.

Revenue Recognition
The Corporation's business consists of both at-risk insurance arrangements and non-risk administrative arrangements. The administrative fees received under non-risk administrative arrangements are shown as management services revenue and recognized in the period in which the related services are performed. Management services revenue also includes fees for management of medical services, claims processing and access to provider networks. Under non-risk administrative arrangements, the customer assumes the risk of funding claims. The Corporation does not record premium revenue or claims incurred on non-risk administrative arrangements.

Risk business includes all insurance contracts. Premiums are generally billed in advance of the contractual coverage periods and are included in premium revenue as they are earned during the coverage period. The unearned portion of premiums collected is reflected in the combined balance sheets as unearned premium revenue. The expenses associated with administering the risk and non-risk business are included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

Medicare Part D
The Corporation serves as a plan sponsor offering Medicare Part D prescription drug insurance coverage under a contract with CMS. Premiums received in advance are recorded as unearned premium revenue. Costs for covered prescription drugs are expensed as incurred. Low-income claims subsidy and reinsurance paid in advance by CMS are recorded as liabilities in other payables and accrued expenses and reduce claims expense as incurred. The CMS contract includes risk corridor provisions. Risk corridor provisions compare a target amount of premiums received from members and CMS based on the Corporation's annual bid less administrative expenses to actual prescription drug costs incurred during the contract year. Based on actual claims incurred, a receivable or payable is recorded as an adjustment to premium revenue. A reconciliation of the final risk sharing, low-income subsidy and catastrophic amounts is required annually.

Vision Revenue
Vision revenue includes sales from fully integrated eye care services, optical retail stores and the wholesale design and distribution of ophthalmic frames and sunglasses. Fully integrated eye care services revenue is recognized based upon services rendered. Sales are recognized when title and the risk of loss transfer to the customer, there is evidence of a contractual arrangement and collectability of the resulting receivable is reasonably assured.

Other Revenue
Other revenue includes pharmacy rebates earned on non-risk administrative arrangements, the Corporation's proportionate share of net income of affiliates and revenue for Medicare claim processing and other services.

(in thousands of dollars)

Premium Equivalents
Premium equivalents are equal to incurred claims under non-risk administrative arrangements. The Corporation would have recorded the amount of these incurred claims as additional premiums if these arrangements had been written as insured business.

Premium equivalents for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 were as follows:

	2009	2008
Premium revenue and management services revenue	$ 12,194,279	$ 11,646,134
Premium equivalents	6,706,182	6,410,988
Total premium and premium equivalents	$ 18,900,461	$ 18,057,122

Comprehensive Income (Loss)
Comprehensive income (loss) is net income plus certain other items, including unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities, interest rate swaps, foreign currency translation adjustments, and changes in certain benefit plan assets and liabilities.

Income Taxes
Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to federal income taxes, although they remain exempt from state and local taxes. Highmark and MSBCBS file separate consolidated federal income tax returns with their respective wholly owned subsidiaries. Only the non-insurance and health maintenance organization ("HMO") subsidiaries of Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to state income taxes. Insurance subsidiaries, other than the HMOs, are generally subject to state premium taxes.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities and are measured using tax rates and laws that are expected to be in effect when the difference is reversed. The Corporation records a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets when it determines that it is more likely than not that the entire deferred tax asset will not be recognized.

The Corporation records uncertain tax positions in accordance with Accounting Standards Codification 740 ("ASC 740"), Income Taxes. ASC 740 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes by defining criteria that a tax position on an individual matter must meet before that position is recognized in the financial statements. ASC 740 also provides guidance on measurement, classification, interest and penalties, disclosure and accounting in interim periods. The Corporation classifies interest and penalties on tax uncertainties as a component of the provision for income taxes.

Reclassifications
Certain 2008 balances were reclassified to conform to the 2009 presentation. The reclassification affected other investments, equity securities, unearned premium revenue and amounts held for others in the combined balance sheets and other revenue and operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

3. Regulation

Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS file financial statements with insurance departments in their states of domicile. These financial statements are prepared in accordance with statutory accounting principles prescribed by such regulatory authorities. Prescribed statutory accounting principles include state laws, regulations and general administrative rules, as well as a variety of publications of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners ("NAIC"). Permitted statutory accounting practices encompass all accounting practices not prescribed.

Financial statements prepared for state insurance departments in accordance with statutory accounting principles differ from the combined financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. The principal differences are: in statutory accounting (1) certain assets, such as accounts receivable aged more than 90 days, office furniture and equipment, nonoperating software, certain provider advances, certain intangible assets and prepaid expenses, are excluded from statutory reserves; (2) pharmacy rebates receivable are limited based on the timing of billing and collection activities; (3) debt securities are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, not fair value as required under GAAP; (4) equity income or loss of subsidiaries, affiliates and limited partnerships is recorded directly to reserves rather than in results of operations as required under GAAP, with dividends or distributions recognized in statutory net income when declared; (5) the liability for qualified pension and other postretirement benefits is limited to vested benefits and is not reported at the funded status in the statutory balance sheet in accordance with FASB guidance on employers' accounting for defined benefit pension and other postretirement plans; (6) deferred tax asset recognition is limited; and (7) uncertain tax position assessments are based on Statutory Accounting Principles No.10R criteria.

As a result of the foregoing, statutory reserves at December 31, 2009 and 2008 and statutory net income for the years then ended were:

		2009		2008
Highmark (excluding MSBCBS)
Statutory reserves	$	3,394,765	$	3,063,138
Statutory net income	$	74,206	$	51,752
MSBCBS
Statutory reserves	$	212,779	$	205,315
Statutory net income	$	5,344	$	49,623

Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS are subject to minimum risk-based capital ("RBC") requirements that were developed by the NAIC and adopted by various state legislatures. The formula for determining the amount of RBC specifies various weighting factors that are applied to financial balances and various levels of activity based on perceived degrees of risk.

The RBC ratios of Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS are compared to authorized control levels established by the NAIC. Companies below specific ratio thresholds may be required to take specific corrective actions. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS exceeded their respective minimum RBC requirements.

(in thousands of dollars)

The Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner (the "Commissioner") has determined that an appropriate sufficient operating surplus range for Highmark is 550% - 750% of the health RBC ratio or the Pennsylvania Insurance Department's consolidated risk factor ratio, whichever is lower. As long as Highmark operates above the 550% ratio, it is not permitted to include a risk and contingency factor in its filed premium rates. If Highmark's ratio exceeds 750%, it will be required to justify its surplus level and could be required to submit a plan to bring its surplus within the designated appropriate sufficient operating surplus range. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, Highmark's health RBC ratio was within the appropriate sufficient operating surplus range of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department.

Highmark is party to a six-year Community Health Reinvestment ("CHR") Agreement with the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, which established an annual CHR commitment for Highmark based on certain Pennsylvania direct written health premiums, and quantified Highmark's minimum social mission commitment at approximately $115,000 and $110,000 for 2009 and 2008, respectively. Sixty percent of the CHR, less certain taxes and losses incurred on certain low-income programs, is directed by Pennsylvania and is dedicated to programs for uninsured persons of low-income. Forty percent of the CHR is directed by Highmark, subject to approval by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, and is dedicated to permitted CHR endeavors. The Pennsylvania-directed net expenses were $58,682 and $60,711 in 2009 and 2008, respectively, and were recorded in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. The Highmark-directed CHR obligation was reported in the combined statements of operations in 2009 and 2008 as incurred.

4. Investments

The cost or amortized cost, gross unrealized gains and losses and fair value of investments in securities classified as available-for-sale at December 31, 2009 were as follows:

	2009
	Cost or Amortized Cost	Gross Unrealized Gains	Gross Unrealized Losses	Fair Value
U.S. Treasury and other U.S. government corporations and agencies	$ 850,705	$ 17,311	$ (8,396)	$ 859,620
Obligations of states and political subdivisions of the U.S.	22,457	302	(309)	22,450
Corporate debt securities	1,209,783	61,131	(9,645)	1,261,269
Mortgage- and asset-backed securities and collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMOs")	492,898	14,198	(4,504)	502,592
Other debt securities	142,515	6,956	(1,074)	148,397

At December 31, 2009, the Corporation held debt securities with gross unrealized losses of $23,928. Management evaluated the unrealized losses in the debt securities and determined that they were due primarily to volatility in the interest rate environment and market conditions. The Corporation does not intend to sell the debt securities and it is not likely that the Corporation will be required to sell the debt securities before recovery of their amortized cost bases, which may be maturity. Therefore, management does not consider the debt securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired as of December 31, 2009.

At December 31, 2009, the Corporation held equity securities with gross unrealized losses of $16,754. Management reviews marketable equity securities in which fair value falls below cost. In determining whether a marketable equity security is other-than-temporarily impaired, management considers both quantitative and qualitative information. The impairment review process is subjective and considers a number of factors, including, but not limited to, the length of time and extent to which the fair value has been less than book value, the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer, recommendations of investment advisors, the intent and ability to hold securities for a time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in value, and general market conditions and industry or sector-specific factors, including forecasts of economic, market or industry trends. The Corporation believes that the unrealized losses do not represent an other-than-temporary impairment at December 31, 2009.

Gross realized gains on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2009 and 2008 were $105,283 and $80,324, respectively. Gross realized losses on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2009 and 2008 were $59,395 and $83,631, respectively. The Corporation recognized losses for other-than-temporary impairment in the amounts of $23,363 in 2009 and $95,605 in 2008, which were included in net realized gain (loss) on investments in the combined statements of operations. Other-than-temporary impairments recognized in 2009 resulted from market conditions, including bankruptcies, credit downgrades and the extent and duration of fair value declines in light of current market conditions. Impaired securities covered a number of industries, led by the banking and financial services sectors.

The following is a summary of gross realized gains (losses) on investments for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008:

The changes in fair value for assets measured using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 were as follows:

	2009	2008
Balance at January 1	$ 82,221	176,747
Total gains or losses
Realized gain on investments	186	10,760

Balance at December 31	$ 18,018	$ 82,221

In addition to the preceding disclosures on financial assets and liabilities recorded at fair value in the combined balance sheets, FASB guidance requires the disclosures of fair values for certain other financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate fair value, whether or not such values are recognized in the combined balance sheets. The carrying amounts reported in the combined balance sheets for accounts receivable, reinsurance recoverables, pharmacy rebates receivable, income tax recoverables, unearned subscription revenue, amounts held for others, income tax payable and other payables and accrued expenses approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these items.

6. Property and Equipment, Net

Property and equipment at December 31, 2009 and 2008 was comprised of the following:

	2009	2008
Land, buildings and leasehold improvements	$ 430,837	$ 399,179
EDP equipment	119,410	128,396
Office furniture and equipment	223,883	212,944

Less accumulated depreciation and amortization	(672,579)	(631,630)
Property and equipment, net	$ 470,715	$ 402,377

Depreciation and amortization expense related to property and equipment amounted to $96,173 and $93,952 for 2009 and 2008, respectively.

7. Claims Outstanding

Activity in the liability for claims outstanding for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 was as follows:

	2009	2008
Claims outstanding at January 1	$ 1,821,922	$ 1,763,258
Reinsurance recoverables	(155,509)	(160,405)

Change in non-risk claim liabilities	5,517	62,966
Net balance at December 31	1,766,657	1,666,413
Reinsurance recoverables	130,601	155,509
Claims outstanding at December 31	$ 1,897,258	$ 1,821,922

Negative amounts reported for prior year incurred claims of $69,754 and $61,779 in 2009 and 2008, respectively, resulted from claims being settled for amounts less than originally estimated due to lower than anticipated utilization.

Management has established estimates for claims outstanding to satisfy its ultimate claim liability. However, these estimates are inherently subject to a number of highly variable circumstances. Consequently, actual results could differ materially from the amounts recorded in the combined financial statements.

8. Employee Benefit Plans

The Corporation covers certain employees through two non-contributory defined benefit pension plans (the "pension plans"). The Highmark Retirement Plan (the "Highmark pension plan") covers all eligible Highmark employees meeting certain age and service requirements and certain employees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The Non-Contributory Retirement Program for Certain Employees of Highmark West Virginia Inc. (the "MSBCBS pension plan") covers all full-time MSBCBS employees meeting certain age and service requirements.

In July 2009, the Highmark pension plan was amended to, among other changes, freeze accrued benefits under the final average pay formula and provide a cash-balance account to participants, effective April 3, 2010. The impact of this amendment was a reduction to the Highmark pension plan's benefit obligation of $371,722 and a decrease in 2009 net periodic benefit cost of $24,412. In 2009, lump-sum payouts in the MSBCBS pension plan of $9,859 in benefit payments resulted in recognition of a pension settlement loss of $5,473.

The Corporation's policy is to fund its pension plans according to the limits specified by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"), as amended. From time to time, the Corporation may contribute additional amounts to the pension plans as it deems appropriate, subject to funding limitations. In 2008, an additional contribution of $200,000 was made to the Highmark pension plan. During 2010, the Corporation expects to contribute $56,000 to the pension plans for the 2010 plan year, depending on completion of the 2010 actuarial valuation.

Highmark and MSBCBS each sponsors a defined benefit other postretirement plan (collectively the "other postretirement plans"). Highmark and MSBCBS use voluntary employees' beneficiary association ("VEBA") trusts and, in the case of MSBCBS, a 401(h) account to fund their respective other postretirement plans. The other postretirement plans provide various postretirement health and life insurance benefits to Highmark and MSBCBS retirees and certain retirees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates.

In September 2009, the Highmark other postretirement plan was amended to, among other things, provide an account-based benefit to participants retiring on or after April 3, 2010. Employees hired on or after January 1, 2010 will not be eligible to participate in the Highmark other postretirement plan. The impact of this amendment was a reduction in the other postretirement benefit obligation of $24,163. As a result of the change in benefit design for active employees, the expected future working lifetime of the other postretirement plan was reduced, which resulted in the recognition of a curtailment gain of $15,662 in 2009. For measurement purposes, the discount rate used to determine net periodic benefit cost when the plan was amended was 5.70%.

(in thousands of dollars)

The Corporation's contributions for other postretirement coverage vary based on employees' age and length of service at retirement. VEBA trust funding contributions are determined using entry age actuarial cost as the acceptable actuarial method. From time to time, the Corporation may contribute additional amounts to the other postretirement plans as it deems appropriate, subject to funding limitations. In 2008, an additional contribution of $15,000 was made to the Highmark other postretirement plan. The Corporation expects to contribute $22,500 to the VEBA trusts and $1,500 to MSBCBS's 401(h) account in 2010 to fund other postretirement plan benefits for the 2010 plan year, depending on completion of the 2010 actuarial valuation.

The funded status of the pension plans and other postretirement plans of the Corporation and amounts recognized in the combined balance sheets were as follows:

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the Highmark and MSBCBS pension plans for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 were as follows:

	Pension Benefits
	2009	2008
Highmark pension plan
Projected benefit obligation	$1,057,992	$ 1,324,069
Accumulated benefit obligation	$1,057,992	$ 970,800

Accumulated benefit obligation	$ 39,995	$ 41,187
Fair value of plan assets	$ 46,467	$ 40,202

The estimated prior service credit and actuarial loss for the pension plans that will be amortized from accumulated other comprehensive income in 2010 are $28,110 and $13,688, respectively. The estimated prior service credit, actuarial loss and transition obligation for the other postretirement plans that will be amortized from accumulated other comprehensive income in 2010 are $4,664, $8,030 and $323, respectively.

The assumptions used in the measurement of the Corporation's benefit obligations were as follows:

The assumptions used in the measurement of the Corporation's net periodic benefit cost were as follows:

	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits
	2009	2008	2009	2008
Weighted-average assumptions for the years ended December 31
Highmark Plans
Discount rate	5.90%	6.00%	5.90% / 5.70%	6.00%

Rate of compensation increase	3.50 - 8.00%	3.50 - 8.00%	3.50 - 8.00%	3.50 - 8.00%

The expected return on pension plan assets is developed using inflation expectations and risk factors to arrive at a long-term nominal expected return for each asset class. The nominal expected return for each asset class is then weighted based on the target asset allocation to develop the expected long-term rate of return on plan assets. The expected return on other postretirement plan assets is developed based on historical returns and the future expectations for returns for each asset class as well as the asset allocation of the other postretirement plan assets.

For measurement purposes at December 31, 2009, the assumed annual rate of increase in the per capita costs of covered health care benefits was 8.15% in 2010, gradually decreasing to 4.50% by the year 2028, for the Highmark other postretirement plan, and 8.00% in 2010, gradually decreasing to 5.00% by the year 2013, for the MSBCBS other postretirement plan.

(in thousands of dollars)

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the other postretirement plans. At December 31, 2009, a one-percentage-point change in assumed health care cost trend rates would have had the following effects:

	One-Percentage-Point
	Increase	Decrease
Effect on total of service and interest cost components	$ 1,226	$ (998)
Effect on other postretirement benefit plan obligations	$ 13,265	$ (11,252)

Estimated benefit payments are expected as follows:

	Pension Benefits	Other Postretirement Benefits
2010	$ 34,243	$ 11,458
2011	$ 40,602	$ 13,722
2012	$ 47,916	$ 15,800
2013	$ 54,782	$ 18,291
2014	$ 61,983	$ 20,621
2015-2019	$ 442,701	$ 141,778

The asset allocation for the pension plans at December 31, 2009 and 2008, by asset category, was as follows:

	2009	2008
Pension plan assets
Debt securities	54%	41%
Equity securities	40%	32%
Other	6%	27%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the Highmark pension plan is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal. The Highmark pension plan asset allocation is reviewed quarterly to determine whether the portfolio mix is within an acceptable range of the target allocation. Target asset allocations are based on asset and liability studies with the goal of enhancing the expected return of the pension portfolio while maintaining acceptable levels of risk. The target asset allocation for the portfolio is 51% debt securities, 36% equity securities and 13% cash and cash equivalents. At December 31, 2008, the additional contribution remained invested in cash.

The MSBCBS pension plan and 401(h) account are administered by BCBSA's National Employee Benefits Association ("NEBA"). NEBA maintains the National Retirement Trust for MSBCBS's pension and 401(h) other postretirement plan assets. Investments are made for the sole interest of the participants and beneficiaries of the programs participating in the National Retirement Trust.

The asset allocation for the other postretirement plans at December 31, 2009 and 2008, by asset category, was as follows:

Other postretirement plan assets
Debt securities	22%	32%
Equity securities	53%	44%
Other	25%	24%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the other postretirement plans is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, credit quality, diversification and adequate liquidity. Excluding cash and cash equivalents, the investment goal is to outperform an unmanaged hybrid index, 65% of which is the Morgan Stanley Capital International All Country World Index and 35% of which is the Barclays Capital U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. The performance of the portfolio is reviewed periodically to determine the most effective structure of the assets and investment managers to achieve these objectives.

The following table summarizes the fair value measurements by level at December 31, 2009:

The Corporation sponsors defined contribution savings plans (the "savings plans") covering substantially all of Highmark's employees and employees of certain participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The savings plans allow participating employees to contribute a percentage of their annual salaries, subject to current Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") limitations. Employee contributions are matched by the Corporation at various percentages. The Corporation's contributions to the savings plans were $19,608 and $18,148 in 2009 and 2008, respectively. In July 2009, the Highmark savings plan was amended to adopt a Section 401(k) safe harbor design effective January, 1, 2010, which means that the savings plan automatically complies with the nondiscrimination requirements of Section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC").

The Corporation also sponsors deferred compensation plans for certain eligible employees. Participating employees may contribute a certain amount of their annual compensation to these plans. The Corporation matches a portion of these employee deferrals and pays interest on the deferrals at various rates. The Corporation made matching contributions to the deferred compensation plans of $486 and $441 in 2009 and 2008, respectively. Deferred compensation plan liabilities of $33,587 and $33,973 were recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively. Changes in the liability are reported in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

The Corporation also sponsors unfunded nonqualified supplemental retirement plans (the "supplemental retirement plans") covering certain eligible employees. The weighted-average assumptions used in the measurement of the supplemental retirement plans benefit obligation and net periodic benefit cost are consistent with the assumptions used in the measurement of pension plan benefits. The supplemental retirement plan liabilities recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2009 and 2008 were $47,766 and $62,704, respectively. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, net losses included within accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) were $14,746 and $26,023, respectively.

9. Debt

Debt at December 31, 2009 and 2008 consisted of the following:

	2009	2008
Unsecured Senior Notes due August 15, 2013, with interest payable semi-annually at 6.80%, net of an unamortized discount of $306 in 2009 and $396 in 2008	$ 369,872	$ 374,604
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $325,000 expiring December 2013, with interest payable at a varying rate of interest (5.75% at December 31, 2009 based on Prime Rate plus 2.50%), collateralized by substantially all assets of HVHC	281,300	-
Senior Subordinated Notes due February 15, 2015, with interest payable semi-annually at 10.75%, net of an unamortized discount of $1,408	-	150,592
Senior secured term loan due August 1, 2013, with interest payable quarterly at a varying rate of interest (3.71% based on three-month LIBOR plus 2.25%), collateralized by substantially all assets of HVHC excluding Eye Care Centers of America, Inc. ("ECCA")	-	108,513
Term loan due December 31, 2013, with interest payable at a varying interest rate (5.75% at December 31, 2009 based on Prime Rate plus 2.50%), collateralized by substantially all assets of HVHC	75,000	-
Senior secured term loan due March 1, 2012, with interest payable at a varying interest rate (3.95% based on average LIBOR plus 2.50%), collateralized by substantially all assets of ECCA	-	85,225
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $75,000 expiring June 2010, with interest payable at a varying rate of interest (1.24% and 0.82%, respectively, based on LIBOR)	50,000	50,000
Notes payable due through 2012 at 5.25%	74	-
Unsecured Promissory Note due August 1, 2024, with interest payable monthly at 5.19%	9,853	1,150
Mortgage payable due November 1, 2028, at 7.00%	304	269
Capital leases payable, due through 2017, at varying interest rates ranging from 5.19% to 35.71%	8,508	7,679
Total	$ 794,911	$ 778,032

(in thousands of dollars)

A summary of the scheduled principal repayments on debt is as follows:

Year ending December 31
2010	$ 51,661
2011	26,692
2012	26,857
2013	677,889
2014	1,673
Thereafter	10,139
	$ 794,911

The Corporation is party to multiple revolving credit arrangements with financial institutions that provide for borrowings totaling $415,000, including the arrangements set forth in the table above and a $15,000 revolving credit facility with no amounts outstanding. The revolving credit facilities expire at varying dates between June 30, 2010 and December 31, 2013.

All debt agreements referred to above contain covenants, including covenants relating to such matters as indebtedness, minimum net worth and financial ratings. The Corporation was in compliance with all debt covenants at December 31, 2009 and 2008.

The Corporation is party to multiple interest rate swap agreements which meet the criteria of fair value hedges with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the “counterparties”) pursuant to which it has synthetically converted $125,000 of its unsecured fixed rate Senior Notes (the “Highmark Notes”) to variable notes through maturity. The Corporation received $2,239 and $20, respectively, from the counterparties in 2009 and 2008 for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. These amounts were included in interest expense in the combined statements of operations. The Corporation recorded assets of $9,352 and $11,457 at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively, under the interest rate swap agreements, each of which was offset by a fair market value adjustment to the Highmark Notes.

In order to reduce the variability of expected future cash flows associated with variable rate debt, the Corporation was party to two interest rate swap agreements which were designated as cash flow hedges with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the “counterparties”) pursuant to which it synthetically converted a portion of the variable rate term loan due in 2013 to a fixed rate. These interest rate swaps terminated September 30, 2009. The notional amounts of the interest rate swap agreements corresponded to scheduled principal payments of the loan. For the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008, the Corporation paid $2,344 and $1,285, respectively, to the counterparties for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. These amounts were included in interest expense in the combined statements of operations. The Corporation recorded a net liability of $2,258 at December 31, 2008 under the interest rate swap agreements. Deferred net holding losses of $1,468 under the interest rate swap agreements were included in accumulated other comprehensive loss, net of deferred income taxes of $790 at December 31, 2008.

As a result of these interest rate swap agreements, the Corporation is subject to interest rate risk and default risk. Only cash flows related to the differential in the fixed interest rates and the variable interest rates as applied to the notional amounts of the interest rate swaps are subject to interest rate risk over the terms of the interest rate swap agreements. The notional amounts do not represent the amounts at risk; rather, they are used only as the basis for calculating the amounts due under the interest rate swap agreements.

The carrying amount of debt reported in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2009 and 2008 was $794,911 and $778,032, respectively. Using a discounted cash flow technique that considered the Corporation's credit rating, with adjustments for duration and risk profile, the Corporation determined that the fair value of its debt at December 31, 2009 and 2008 was $811,044 and $761,723, respectively.

10. Reinsurance

The Corporation is party to various reinsurance agreements. Reinsurance contracts do not relieve the Corporation from its obligations to policyholders. Failure of reinsurers to honor their obligations could result in losses to the Corporation; consequently, allowances are established for estimated uncollectible amounts. The Corporation evaluates the financial condition of its reinsurers and monitors concentrations of credit risk to minimize its exposure to significant losses from reinsurer insolvencies. Reinsurance recoveries amounted to $30,133 in 2009 and $35,019 in 2008.

The effect of reinsurance on premium revenue for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 was as follows:

	2009	2008
Direct business	$ 11,538,394	$ 11,031,057
Assumed business	81,117	84,516
Ceded business	(78,682)	(95,433)
Premium revenue	$ 11,540,829	$ 11,020,140

11. Income Taxes

The components of the income tax provision for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 were as follows:

	2009	2008
Federal
Current	$ 22,799	$ 4,751
Deferred	64,624	38,699
	87,423	43,450

(in thousands of dollars)

The components of deferred income taxes at December 31, 2009 and 2008 were as follows:

	2009	2008
Deferred tax assets
Benefit plan liabilities	$ 22,313	$ 178,191
Accrued expenses	98,892	94,240

Total deferred tax asset	293,572	472,571
Less valuation allowance	(73,719)	(55,948)
Total deferred tax assets, net of valuation allowance	219,853	416,623
Deferred tax liabilities
Net unrealized gains on available-for-sale securities	63,951	-
Property and equipment	21,491	-
Prepaid expenses	4,667	4,777
Other	11,351	4,428
Total deferred tax liabilities	101,460	9,205
Deferred income taxes, net	$ 118,393	$ 407,418

In addition to the income tax provision, the deferred tax asset decreased $230,568 in 2009 and increased $260,743 in 2008, as a result of the tax effect of changes in foreign currency translation adjustments, interest rate swaps, changes in certain benefit plan assets and liabilities and the net unrealized gain or loss on available-for-sale securities.

The valuation allowance is recognized primarily to reflect the uncertainty surrounding the realizability of alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards and state net operating loss carryforwards. The realization of net deferred tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future periods. The amount of deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could change if estimates of future taxable income change.

At December 31, 2009, the Corporation had non-expiring alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards related to MSBCBS of $54,356 available to offset future taxes. Utilization of the alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards will not take place until such time as MSBCBS ceases to be in an alternative minimum tax position or a change in the tax laws occurs. The Corporation recognized a valuation allowance due to the uncertainty of realizing a tax benefit for alternative minimum tax credits and because the lower alternative minimum tax rate is expected to apply when net deductible temporary differences reverse.

(in thousands of dollars)

At December 31, 2009, various subsidiaries of Highmark had state net operating loss carryforwards totaling $266,402 that expire between 2010 and 2029 and are available to offset future state taxable income of the subsidiary that generated the loss carryforward. The utilization of the state net operating loss carryforwards is subject to certain limitations; therefore, the Corporation recognized a valuation allowance given uncertainty surrounding the realizability of the carryforwards.

A reconciliation of income tax expense recorded in the combined statements of operations and amounts computed at the statutory federal rate for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 was as follows:

	2009	2008
Income taxes at statutory rate	35.0 %	35.0 %
State taxes, net of federal tax benefit	(1.1) %	8.1 %
Corporate-owned life insurance	(0.9) %	3.5 %
U.S. tax on foreign earnings	0.2 %	4.2 %
Tax credits	(0.7) %	(2.0) %
Contributions of appreciated property	(1.2) %	(1.9) %
Valuation allowance adjustments	(0.3) %	(5.2) %
Other	(0.1) %	0.7 %
Effective tax rate	30.9 %	42.4 %

In December 2008, the Corporation changed its permanent reinvestment assertion under amended guidance on accounting for income taxes with respect to its foreign subsidiaries. As a result of the change in this assertion, the Corporation recorded a tax charge in 2008 of $3,153, net of foreign tax credits, related to certain previously unrecorded deferred tax liabilities.

The changes in the carrying amount of gross unrecognized tax (benefits) expenses from uncertain tax positions for the years ended December 31, 2009 and 2008 were as follows:

	2009	2008
Balance at January 1	$ (83,541)	$ (86,855)
Additions for tax positions related to
Current year	13,417	2,322
Prior years	1,750	(289)
Reductions to balance relating to
Changes in tax positions of prior years	-	(326)
Advance payments	(2,756)	-
Statute of limitation expiration	(3,315)	(1,176)
Settlements	(1,425)	2,783
Balance at December 31	$ (75,870)	$ (83,541)

At December 31, 2009 and 2008, gross unrecognized tax benefits (excluding the federal benefit received from state positions) were $69,203 and $72,964, respectively, and, if recognized, would have impacted the effective tax rate.

(in thousands of dollars)

The Corporation recognizes interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in income tax expense. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, the Corporation recorded a net receivable of $11,946 and $9,927, respectively, for the potential payment of interest and penalties in income tax recoverable, net in the combined balance sheets.

The Corporation's consolidated federal income tax return has been examined by the IRS through 2005. While the examinations are complete, the 1991 through 2005 tax years remain open pending resolution of the matter referred to below.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 (the "Act") made all Blue Cross and Blue Shield organizations subject to federal income tax as of January 1, 1987. The Act included certain provisions designed to ease the burden of the organizations' transition to taxable status. One transition benefit allowed the step-up in the organizations' tax basis of all assets at January 1, 1987 to fair market value. The assets of the relevant organizations include subscriber and provider relationships as well as assembled workforce. Highmark and the IRS were unable to reach agreement as to the value of and consequent deductions associated with Highmark's intangible assets. As a result, Highmark filed suit in the United States Court of Claims. In July 2009, the government and Highmark stipulated that judgment should be entered against the United States in the principal sum of $8,047 (plus interest) for the tax years ending December 31, 1991 through December 31, 1995. In September 2009, the court entered judgment in accordance with this stipulation, and the period for appeal of this judgment has expired. The judgment relates to the intangible assets of only one of Highmark's predecessors, Medical Service Association of Pennsylvania, d/b/a Pennsylvania Blue Shield, for the indicated years. The value of and deductions associated with tax years beginning January 1, 2006 and for all years for a second of Highmark's predecessors, Veritus Inc., d/b/a Blue Cross of Western Pennsylvania, remain in dispute. In accordance with guidance on uncertainty for income taxes, the Corporation recorded a tax benefit of $130,797 and $127,036 at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively, related to this matter. The final resolution of this matter could result in a material impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

With the exception of the matter described above, the Corporation does not anticipate that any significant increase or decrease to unrecognized tax benefits will be recorded in 2010.

12. Leases

Several noncancellable operating leases, primarily for EDP equipment, software and office space, were in effect at December 31, 2009. Rental expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Aggregate future rental commitments for all operating leases having initial or remaining noncancellable lease terms in excess of one year with commitments in one or more of the next five years and thereafter are shown in the following table:

Year ending December 31
2010	$	106,841
2011		80,702
2012		49,514
2013		39,705
2014		28,520
Thereafter		64,957
	$	370,239

Total rental expense was $114,306 and $107,078 in 2009 and 2008, respectively.

13. Medicare Claims Processing

In 2009 and 2008, the Corporation processed claims of $29,179,946 and $19,305,502, respectively, on behalf of the Medicare program. Fees for claim processing and other related services of $110,727 and $91,142 were reported in other revenue in the combined statements of operations in 2009 and 2008, respectively. These claims were paid directly from the Medicare trust fund and were not included in the combined statements of operations. Medicare program services are subject to audits conducted by CMS and other government agencies.

14. Contingencies

A class action lawsuit was filed September 10, 2009 in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois against BCBSA and twenty-three Blue Cross Blue Shield plans, including Highmark. The complaint alleges that the defendants have violated and are continuing to violate ERISA and the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations ("RICO") Act by conducting retrospective provider payment reviews and audits and demanding immediate recoupment of amounts determined to be overpayments. The Corporation is unable to predict the outcome of this matter or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss.

A lawsuit was filed on April 21, 2009 in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania by West Penn Allegheny Health System, alleging that Highmark and UPMC violated federal antitrust laws by entering into an illegal agreement to restrain trade and by conspiring to create monopolies in the market for acute inpatient services and/or high-end tertiary and quaternary acute care inpatient services in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania and in the market for health care financing and administration for private employers and individuals in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania. On October 29, 2009, the District Court dismissed the suit. The plaintiff has appealed to the Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

Highmark is a defendant in a class action lawsuit in the Court of Common Pleas of York County, Pennsylvania alleging violation of the Pennsylvania Nonprofit Corporation Law and breach of subscriber contracts by reason of its maintenance of allegedly "excessive" surplus. In January 2010, the court dismissed the suit. Plaintiffs have appealed to the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania.

On February 12, 2010, a class action lawsuit was filed in the United States District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania by a statewide ambulance association and a number of local ambulance service providers on behalf of all non-participating ambulance service providers against Highmark, its subsidiary, Keystone Health Plan West, Inc., the three other Pennsylvania Blue plans, and Keystone Health Plan Central, Inc., a subsidiary of Capital Blue Cross. The suit alleges that defendants' practice of making benefit payments to enrollees, rather than making payments directly to plaintiffs, violates Pennsylvania law. The suit also accuses defendants of using threats of making direct payments to enrollees to coerce plaintiffs into entering into contracts with defendants and alleges that such practice is a violation of the RICO Act. Plaintiffs are seeking treble damages for unpaid services, interest and attorney fees. The Corporation is unable to predict the outcome of this matter or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss. This lawsuit did not impact the Corporation's financial position or results of operations as of December 31, 2009 or 2008.

The Corporation is subject to various other contingencies, including legal and compliance actions and proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of its business. Due to the complex nature of these actions and proceedings, the timing of the ultimate resolution of these matters is uncertain. In the opinion of management, based on consultation with legal counsel, adequate provision has been made in the combined financial statements for any potential liability related to these matters, and the amount of ultimate liability is not expected to materially affect the financial position of the Corporation.

15. Related Party Transaction

The Highmark Foundation (the "Foundation") is a private foundation exempt from federal taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the IRC. The Foundation was formed for charitable, scientific and educational purposes which promote health and well-being of the communities served by Highmark. The Foundation is not a subsidiary of the Corporation and financial results of the Foundation are not combined with the Corporation's combined financial results. At December 31, 2009 and 2008, the net present value of the Corporation's commitments to the Foundation of $19,276 and $37,628, respectively, was recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

16. Guarantees and Commitments

Because Highmark is not eligible to participate in a Pennsylvania-sponsored guarantee fund, it has established and funded a trust in order to meet a licensing requirement of BCBSA. The fair value of the trust was $289,909 and $277,429 at December 31, 2009 and 2008, respectively, and is reported as debt securities in the combined balance sheets.

At December 31, 2009, the Corporation had committed $15,035 to various limited partnership investments. These commitments are due upon capital calls by the general partners of the partnerships.

Report of Independent Auditors

Highmark Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying combined balance sheets and the related combined statements of operations, changes in reserves and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Highmark Inc. and its subsidiaries and affiliate (the "Corporation") at December 31, 2008 and 2007, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

1. Nature of Operations

Highmark Inc. ("Highmark") is incorporated as a nonprofit corporation and operates as a hospital plan and a professional health service plan in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As a licensee of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association ("BCBSA"), Highmark underwrites various indemnity and managed care health insurance products for national accounts (primarily groups headquartered in Pennsylvania that have operations in other locations), regional accounts and individual accounts. Highmark also underwrites Medicare supplemental, dental, vision and long-term care insurance products. In addition, Highmark jointly markets various health insurance products with Hospital Service Association of Northeastern Pennsylvania d/b/a Blue Cross of Northeastern Pennsylvania and Independence Blue Cross ("IBC").

Highmark's for-profit and nonprofit subsidiaries and affiliates offer health insurance, dental insurance, vision services, workers compensation insurance, stop-loss insurance, real estate management services and other administrative services. Highmark's controlled affiliate, Highmark West Virginia Inc. d/b/a Mountain State Blue Cross Blue Shield ("MSBCBS"), is a West Virginia nonprofit health services corporation.

Highmark's wholly owned subsidiary, Highmark Medicare Services Inc. ("HMS"), operates as a Medicare Contract Administrator ("MAC") for Jurisdiction 12, comprised of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and the District of Columbia. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS") awarded the Jurisdiction 12 contract to HMS in October 2007. As a MAC, HMS is responsible for performing Medicare Part A and Part B fee-for-service claims adjudication and other administrative services for hospitals, other institutional providers, physicians and other health care practitioners in the named states. Previously, Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary services were provided in Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia and Medicare Part B carrier services were provided in Pennsylvania. In January 2009, CMS selected HMS as the MAC for Jurisdiction 15, comprised of Ohio and Kentucky. Jurisdiction 15 also includes the home health and hospice workload for several other states. Subsequently, a protest was filed by a competitor and a stop work order was issued by CMS. CMS is defending the Jurisdiction 15 award.

In March 2007, Highmark and IBC entered into an agreement to consolidate their two companies to form a new Pennsylvania nonprofit corporation. The parties subsequently filed applications with the Pennsylvania Insurance Department for approval of the consolidation and of the change of control of their Pennsylvania-domiciled insurance subsidiaries. On January 21, 2009, the parties withdrew their applications and announced that they were no longer pursuing the consolidation.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Financial Presentation

The combined financial statements include the accounts of Highmark and its wholly owned subsidiaries (collectively "Consolidated Highmark") and MSBCBS and its wholly owned subsidiary (collectively "Consolidated MSBCBS").

(in thousands of dollars)

As the sole corporate member of MSBCBS, Highmark has the authority to elect all the members of the Board of Directors of MSBCBS. In accordance with its articles of incorporation, no part of the funds, income or net earnings of MSBCBS may inure to the benefit of Highmark, and in the event of dissolution or winding up of its affairs, MSBCBS's assets are required to be distributed in the manner provided for nonprofit corporations by West Virginia or the rules and regulations of the Offices of the Insurance Commissioner of West Virginia. Creditors of Highmark may not anticipate that any of the assets or revenues of MSBCBS are or will be available to pay their claims, either currently or at any time in the future. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, MSBCBS total reserves were $187,323 and $161,561, respectively.

Consolidated Highmark and Consolidated MSBCBS are herein referred to as the "Corporation." The combined financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated from the combined financial statements.

The Corporation uses the equity method of accounting for 50% or less owned affiliates and those affiliates for which the Corporation does not hold a controlling financial interest but may influence operating or financial decisions.

The financial position and results of operations of foreign subsidiaries of HVHC Inc. ("HVHC"), a wholly owned holding company for Highmark's vision services subsidiaries, are measured using local currency as the functional currency. Assets and liabilities are translated at current exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet dates. Revenue and expenses are translated using an average exchange rate during the year. Translation gains and losses are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income in the combined statements of changes in reserves.

New Accounting Pronouncements
In March 2008, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standard ("SFAS") No. 161, Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities. SFAS No. 161 requires expanded disclosures regarding the accounting, location and amounts of derivative instruments. SFAS No. 161 was effective January 1, 2009. The adoption of SFAS No. 161 did not impact the Corporation's financial position or results of operations.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141 (revised 2007), Business Combinations. SFAS No. 141R requires an acquiring entity to recognize all assets acquired and liabilities assumed in a transaction at fair value on the acquisition date and changes the accounting for the treatment of acquisition costs. SFAS No. 141R was effective for business combinations of the Corporation's for-profit subsidiaries with acquisition dates on or after January 1, 2009. Early adoption was prohibited.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements. SFAS No. 157 defines fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. The adoption of SFAS No. 157 effective January 1, 2008 did not impact the Corporation's financial position or results of operations.

Use of Estimates
The preparation of the Corporation's combined financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the combined financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
The Corporation considers all highly liquid investments with maturities of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

Investments
All debt securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and are carried at fair value (based on quoted or estimated market prices), and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income, net of deferred income taxes. Premiums and discounts are amortized using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are based on amortized cost. Marketable equity securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and carried at fair value (based on quoted or estimated market prices), and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income, net of deferred income taxes. Realized gains and losses are based on cost (specific identification method).

The Corporation monitors its available-for-sale investment portfolio for unrealized losses that appear to be other-than-temporary. The Corporation performs a detailed review of these securities to determine the underlying cause of the unrealized loss and whether the security is impaired. At the time a security is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the Corporation reduces the book value of the security to the current market value and records a realized loss in the combined statements of operations. Any subsequent increase in the security's market value is reported as an unrealized gain.

Other investments include investments in limited partnerships and grantor trusts, comprised of cash equivalents and mutual funds, related to certain nonqualified retirement and deferred compensation plans. Limited partnerships are accounted for under the equity method with changes reported in net realized (loss) gain on investments. Grantor trusts are carried at fair value with changes in fair value reported as unrealized gains and losses in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income, net of deferred income taxes.

The Corporation participates in securities lending transactions. The Corporation maintains effective control over the loaned securities and requires collateral initially equal to at least 102% of loaned domestic securities and 105% of loaned international securities at the loan date. Collateral received consists of cash and fixed-income securities. Noncash collateral is not recorded in the combined balance sheets as the Corporation does not have the right to sell, pledge or otherwise reinvest the noncash collateral. Cash collateral is invested in short-term debt securities and is carried at fair value. Changes in fair value are reported as unrealized gains and losses in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income, net of deferred income taxes. The fair value of securities held as invested collateral was $566,914 and $617,952 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively. The corresponding liability that represents the Corporation's obligation to return the collateral was $591,347 and $617,952 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively.

The Corporation's assets are invested in a variety of financial instruments. Accordingly, the related values as presented in the combined financial statements are subject to various market fluctuations, which include changes in the interest rate environment, equity markets and general economic conditions.

Accounts Receivable
In the normal course of business, the Corporation grants credit to its customers under various contractual agreements. The Corporation carries its accounts receivable at estimated net realizable value, which reflects the impact of potential credit losses. Trade accounts receivable include amounts due from commercial health, dental and vision businesses. Government program accounts receivable relate to amounts due in connection with government business, including the TRICARE Dental Plan, the Federal Employee Program and the Medicare program.

Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade accounts receivable are limited due to the large number of employer groups that constitute the Corporation's customer base. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, there were no significant concentrations in a single investee or industry.

(in thousands of dollars)

Reinsurance
In the normal course of business, the Corporation seeks to reduce losses that may arise from risks or occurrences of an unexpected nature that may cause unfavorable underwriting results by reinsuring certain levels of risk in various areas of exposure with other insurance enterprises or reinsurers. Reinsurance premiums and benefits paid or provided are accounted for in a manner consistent with the original policies issued and the terms of the reinsurance contracts. The Corporation also assumes reinsurance risks from other insurance companies. Such assumed reinsurance activity is recorded principally on the basis of reports received from the ceding companies.

Pharmacy Rebates Receivable
Pharmacy rebates receivable is an estimate based on prescriptions filled and terms of rebate contracts.

Property and Equipment, Net
Property and equipment is recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. Maintenance, repairs and minor improvements are expensed as incurred. Certain costs related to the internal development of software or software purchased for internal use are capitalized. Gains or losses on sales or disposals of property and equipment are included in operations. Depreciation is computed under the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives as follows: building and building improvements, seven-40 years; leasehold improvements, lesser of lease term or useful life; electronic data processing ("EDP") equipment, three years; office furniture and equipment, three-10 years; and capitalized software, three years.

Property and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. Impairment losses are recognized to the extent the carrying amount of an asset exceeds the undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposal. No impairment losses were recorded in 2008 or 2007.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, Net
Intangible assets with definite lives are amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated lives, which range from three to 25 years. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, including goodwill, are not amortized, but are tested for impairment at least annually and more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that an asset may be impaired. If fair value is less than carrying value, an impairment loss is recorded in the combined statements of operations. Management tested goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives for impairment and concluded that no impairment existed at December 31, 2008 or 2007.

Goodwill consists primarily of amounts related to HVHC subsidiary acquisitions. Other intangible assets principally include the trademark and licensing agreements of HVHC's wholesale vision subsidiary. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, HVHC reported goodwill and other intangible assets of $755,100 and $761,637, respectively.

Other Assets
Other assets include prepaid expenses, vision business inventory, cash surrender values of corporate-owned life insurance policies held in grantor trusts and deferred bond issuance costs. Vision business inventory consists of eyewear components including frames, lenses and cases, contact lenses and solutions, laboratory supplies and packaging materials, and is stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined by using the weighted average method or the first-in first-out method. Changes in cash surrender value are reported in net investment income in the combined statements of operations.

(in thousands of dollars)

Claims Outstanding
Claims outstanding include claims reported and adjudicated but unpaid as well as an estimate of incurred but not reported claims ("IBNR"). The liability for IBNR claims is an actuarial estimate based on historical claims paid data, modified for current conditions and coverage changes. The methods to determine the estimate of IBNR claims use past experience adjusted for current trends. The methods and assumptions are continually reviewed and any resulting adjustments are included in current operations. Corresponding administrative costs to process outstanding claims are estimated and accrued and are included in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

In the ordinary course of business, the Corporation advances operating funds to health care providers. Claims outstanding are reported net of such advances, which were $22,832 and $25,810 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively.

The Corporation recorded $687,258 and $624,292 in claims liabilities for certain non-risk administrative arrangements at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively. The non-risk group receivable is included in trade accounts receivable and the corresponding provider liability is included in claims outstanding in the combined balance sheets.

Amounts Held for Others
Amounts held for others include reserves for refunds and deposits received from groups for non-risk administrative arrangements. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, the Corporation held deposits received from groups of $143,285 and $139,194, respectively. Amounts held for others also include fees related to the BlueCard program which allows the Corporation's members access to other Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans' provider networks.

Premium Deficiency Reserves
The Corporation establishes a premium deficiency reserve ("PDR") when it determines that it is probable that future claims expense and related maintenance costs will exceed future premiums from contracts in force for a given line of business or product grouping within a contract period. The Corporation evaluates the need for a PDR by grouping policies consistent with the way the business is acquired, serviced and measured.

At December 31, 2008, the Corporation determined that, due to insufficient premium rates related to several individual and state-sponsored products, establishment of a PDR of $116,156 was necessary. At December 31, 2007, a PDR of $8,729 related to certain state-sponsored products existed.

Revenue Recognition
The Corporation's business consists of both at-risk insurance arrangements and non-risk administrative arrangements. The administrative fees received under non-risk administrative arrangements are shown as management services revenue and recognized in the period in which the related services are performed. Management services revenue also includes fees for management of medical services, claims processing and access to provider networks. Under non-risk administrative arrangements, the customer assumes the risk of funding claims. The Corporation does not record premium revenue or claims incurred on non-risk administrative arrangements.

Risk business includes all insurance contracts. Premiums are generally billed in advance of the contractual coverage periods and are included in premium revenue as they are earned during the coverage period. The unearned portion of premiums collected is reflected in the combined balance sheets as unearned premium revenue. The expenses associated with administering the risk and non-risk business are included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

(in thousands of dollars)

Medicare Part D
The Corporation serves as a plan sponsor offering Medicare Part D prescription drug insurance coverage under a contract with CMS. Premiums received in advance are recorded as unearned premium revenue. Costs for covered prescription drugs are expensed as incurred. Low-income claims subsidy and reinsurance paid in advance by CMS are recorded as liabilities in other payables and accrued expenses and reduce claims expense as incurred. The CMS contract provides for risk corridor provisions. Risk corridor provisions compare a target amount from members and CMS based on the Corporation's annual bid less administrative expense to actual prescription drug costs incurred during the contract year. Based on actual claims incurred, a receivable or payable is recorded as an adjustment to premium revenue. A reconciliation of the final risk sharing, low-income subsidy and catastrophic amounts is required annually.

Vision Revenue
Vision revenue includes sales from fully integrated eye care services, optical retail stores and the wholesale design and distribution of ophthalmic frames and sunglasses. Fully integrated eye care services revenue is recognized based upon services rendered. Sales are recognized when title and the risk of loss transfer to the customer, there is evidence of a contractual arrangement and collectability of the resulting receivable is reasonably assured.

Other Revenue
Other revenue includes pharmacy rebates earned on non-risk administrative arrangements, the Corporation's proportionate share of net income of affiliates and revenue for Medicare claim processing and other services.

Premium Equivalents
Premium equivalents are equal to incurred claims under non-risk administrative arrangements. The Corporation would have recorded the amount of these incurred claims as additional premiums if these arrangements had been written as insured business.

Premium equivalents for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007 were as follows:

	2008	2007
Premium revenue and management services revenue	$ 11,646,134	$ 10,873,628
Premium equivalents	6,410,988	5,800,495
Total premium and premium equivalents	$ 18,057,122	$ 16,674,123

Comprehensive (Loss) Income
Comprehensive (loss) income is net income plus certain other items, including unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities, interest rate swaps, foreign currency translation adjustments and certain benefit plan liabilities.

Income Taxes
Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to federal income taxes, although they remain exempt from state and local taxes. Highmark and MSBCBS file separate consolidated federal income tax returns with their respective wholly owned subsidiaries. Only the non-insurance and health maintenance organization ("HMO") subsidiaries of Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to state income taxes. Insurance subsidiaries, other than the HMOs, are generally subject to state premium taxes.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities and are measured using tax rates and laws that are expected to be in effect when the difference is reversed. The Corporation records a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets when it determines that it is more likely than not that the entire deferred tax asset will not be recognized.

The Corporation records uncertain tax positions in accordance with FASB Interpretation ("FIN") No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. FIN No. 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes by defining criteria that a tax position on an individual matter must meet before that position is recognized in the financial statements. FIN No. 48 also provides guidance on measurement, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods and disclosure. The Corporation classifies interest and penalties on tax uncertainties as a component of the provision for income taxes.

Reclassifications
Certain 2007 amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2008 combined financial statement presentation.

3. Regulation

Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS file financial statements with insurance departments in their states of domicile. These financial statements are prepared in accordance with statutory accounting principles prescribed by such regulatory authorities. Prescribed statutory accounting principles include state laws, regulations and general administrative rules, as well as a variety of publications of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners ("NAIC"). Permitted statutory accounting practices encompass all accounting practices not prescribed.

Financial statements prepared for state insurance departments in accordance with statutory accounting principles differ from the combined financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. The principal differences are: in statutory accounting (1) certain assets, such as accounts receivable aged more than 90 days, office furniture and equipment, nonoperating software, certain provider advances, certain intangible assets and prepaid expenses, are excluded from statutory reserves; (2) pharmacy rebates receivable are limited based on the timing of billing and collection activities; (3) debt securities are carried at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, not fair value as required under GAAP; (4) equity income or loss of subsidiaries, affiliates and limited partnerships is recorded directly to reserves rather than in results of operations as required under GAAP, with dividends or distributions recognized in statutory net income when declared; (5) the liability for qualified pension and other postretirement benefits is limited to vested benefits and is not reported at the funded status in the statutory balance sheet in accordance with SFAS No. 158; (6) deferred tax asset recognition is limited; and (7) uncertain tax position assessments are based on Statutory Accounting Principles No. 10 criteria, not FIN No. 48 as required under GAAP.

As a result of the foregoing, statutory reserves at December 31, 2008 and 2007 and statutory net income for the years then ended were:

	2008	2007
Highmark (excluding MSBCBS)
Statutory reserves	$ 3,063,138	$ 3,483,388
Statutory net income	$ 51,752	$ 260,447
MSBCBS
Statutory reserves	$ 205,315	$ 164,082
Statutory net income	$ 49,623	$ 41,802

Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS are subject to minimum risk-based capital ("RBC") requirements that were developed by the NAIC and adopted by various state legislatures. The formula for determining the amount of RBC specifies various weighting factors that are applied to financial balances and various levels of activity based on perceived degrees of risk.

The RBC ratios of Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS are compared to authorized control levels established by the NAIC. Companies below specific ratio thresholds may be required to take specific corrective actions. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and MSBCBS exceeded their respective minimum RBC requirements.

The Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner (the "Commissioner") has determined that an appropriate sufficient operating surplus range for Highmark is 550% - 750% of the health RBC ratio or the Pennsylvania Insurance Department's consolidated risk factor ratio, whichever is lower. As long as Highmark operates above the 550% ratio, it is not permitted to include a risk and contingency factor in its filed premium rates. If Highmark's ratio exceeds 750%, it will be required to justify its surplus level and could be required to submit a plan to bring its surplus within the designated appropriate sufficient operating surplus range. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, Highmark's health RBC ratio was within the appropriate sufficient operating surplus range of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department.

Highmark is party to a six-year Community Health Reinvestment ("CHR") Agreement with the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, which established an annual CHR commitment for Highmark based on certain Pennsylvania direct written health premiums, and quantified Highmark's minimum social mission commitment at approximately $110,000 and $100,000 for 2008 and 2007, respectively. Sixty percent of the CHR is directed by Pennsylvania and is dedicated to programs for uninsured persons of low income. Forty percent of the CHR is directed by Highmark, subject to approval by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, and is dedicated to permitted CHR endeavors. The Pennsylvania-directed net expenses were $60,711 and $59,328 in 2008 and 2007, respectively, and were recorded in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. The Highmark-directed CHR obligation was reported in the combined statements of operations in 2008 and 2007 as incurred.

At December 31, 2008, the Corporation held debt securities with gross unrealized losses of $100,343. Management evaluated the unrealized losses in the debt securities and determined that they were due primarily to volatility in the interest rate environment and market conditions. For debt securities, losses in market values are viewed as temporary if the debt security can be and is intended to be held to maturity and the issuer will be able to service the debt, both as to interest and principal. The Corporation believes that the unrealized losses do not represent an other-than-temporary impairment at December 31, 2008.

At December 31, 2008, the Corporation held equity securities with gross unrealized losses of $120,053. Management reviews marketable equity securities in which fair value falls below cost. In determining whether a marketable equity security is other-than-temporarily impaired, management considers both quantitative and qualitative information. The impairment review process is subjective and considers a number of factors, including, but not limited to, the length of time and extent to which the fair value has been less than book value, the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer, recommendations of investment advisors, the intent and ability to hold securities for a time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in value, and general market conditions and industry or sector-specific factors, including forecasts of economic, market or industry trends. The Corporation believes that the unrealized losses do not represent an other-than-temporary impairment at December 31, 2008.

The amortized cost and fair value of available-for-sale debt securities at December 31, 2008 are shown below by contractual maturity. Expected maturities could differ from contractual maturities as borrowers may have the right to call or prepay obligations with or without call or prepayment penalties.

	Amortized Cost	Fair Value
Due within one year or less	$ 158,002	$ 158,655
Due after one year through five years	724,919	716,123
Due after five years through ten years	661,079	648,883

Mortgage- and asset-backed securities and CMOs	707,922	690,470
Total	$ 2,600,811	$ 2,614,034

Gross realized gains on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2008 and 2007 were $80,324 and $164,044, respectively. Gross realized losses on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2008 and 2007 were $83,631 and $25,574, respectively. The Corporation recognized losses for other-than-temporary impairment in the amounts of $95,605 in 2008 and $18,032 in 2007, which were included in net realized (loss) gain on investments in the combined statements of operations. Other-than-temporary impairments recognized in 2008 resulted from market conditions, including bankruptcies, credit downgrades and the extent and duration of fair value declines in light of current market conditions. Impaired securities covered a number of industries, led by the banking and financial services sectors.

5. Property and Equipment, Net

Property and equipment at December 31, 2008 and 2007 was comprised of the following:

	2008	2007
Land, buildings and leasehold improvements	$ 399,179	$ 361,644
EDP equipment	140,676	137,081
Office furniture and equipment	212,944	187,751

Less accumulated depreciation and amortization	(631,630)	(561,614)
Property and equipment, net	$ 402,377	$ 354,397

Depreciation and amortization expense related to property and equipment amounted to $93,952 and $96,927 for 2008 and 2007, respectively.

6. Claims Outstanding

Activity in the liability for claims outstanding for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007 was as follows:

	2008	2007
Claims outstanding at January 1	$ 1,763,258	$ 1,578,100
Reinsurance recoverables	(160,405)	(196,550)

Current year	(8,791,702)	(8,146,336)
Prior year	(898,584)	(800,090)
Total paid claims	(9,690,286)	(8,946,426)
Change in advances to providers	2,978	(3,512)
Change in non-risk claim liabilities	62,966	126,255
Net balance at December 31	1,660,259	1,602,853
Reinsurance recoverables	155,509	160,405
Claims outstanding at December 31	$ 1,815,768	$ 1,763,258

Negative amounts reported for prior year incurred claims of $61,779 and $5,555 in 2008 and 2007, respectively, resulted from claims being settled for amounts less than originally estimated due to lower than anticipated utilization.

Management has established estimates for claims outstanding to satisfy its ultimate claims liability. However, these estimates are inherently subject to a number of highly variable circumstances. Consequently, actual results could differ materially from the amounts recorded in the combined financial statements.

7. Employee Benefit Plans

The Corporation covers certain employees through two non-contributory defined benefit pension plans (the "pension plans"). The Highmark Retirement Plan (the "Highmark pension plan") covers all eligible Highmark employees meeting certain age and service requirements and certain employees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The Non-Contributory Retirement Program for Certain Employees of Highmark West Virginia Inc. (the "MSBCBS pension plan") covers all full-time MSBCBS employees meeting certain age and service requirements.

The Corporation's policy is to fund its pension plans according to the limits specified by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended. From time to time, the Corporation may contribute additional amounts to the pension plans as it deems appropriate, subject to funding limitations. In 2008, an additional contribution of $200,000 was made to the Highmark pension plan. During 2009, the Corporation expects to contribute $63,000 to the pension plans for the 2009 plan year, depending on completion of the 2009 actuarial valuation.

Highmark and MSBCBS each sponsors a defined benefit other postretirement plan (collectively the "other postretirement plans"). Highmark and MSBCBS use Voluntary Employees' Beneficiary Association ("VEBA") trusts in addition to a MSBCBS 401(h) account to fund their respective other postretirement plans. The other postretirement plans provide various postretirement health and life insurance benefits to Highmark and MSBCBS retirees and certain retirees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates.

The Corporation's contributions for other postretirement coverage vary based on age and length of service at retirement. VEBA trust funding contributions are determined using entry age actuarial cost as the acceptable actuarial method. From time to time, the Corporation may contribute additional amounts to the other postretirement plans as it deems appropriate, subject to funding limitations. In 2008, an additional contribution of $15,000 was made to the Highmark other postretirement plan. The Corporation expects to contribute between $15,000 and $30,000 to Highmark's VEBA trust, $2,500 to MSBCBS's VEBA trust and $1,500 to MSBCBS's 401(h) account in 2009 to fund other postretirement plan benefits for the 2009 plan year, depending on completion of the 2009 actuarial valuation.

The following table provides the components of net periodic benefit cost for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007:

	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits
	2008	2007	2008	2007
Components of net periodic benefit cost
Service cost	$ 59,950	$ 54,945	$ 8,256	$ 7,683
Interest cost	73,937	68,045	12,504	12,916

Transition obligation	-	-	35	323
Net periodic benefit costs	$ 55,426	$ 55,436	$ 9,245	$ 11,643

The expected return on pension plan assets is developed using inflation expectations and risk factors to arrive at a long-term nominal expected return for each asset class. The nominal expected return for each asset class is then weighted based on the target asset allocation to develop the expected long-term rate of return on plan assets. The expected return on other postretirement plan assets is developed based on historical returns and the future expectations for returns for each asset class as well as the asset allocation of the other postretirement plan assets.

For measurement purposes at December 31, 2008, the assumed annual rate of increase in the per capita costs of covered health care benefits for the other postretirement plans was 9.00% in 2009, gradually decreasing to 5.00% by the year 2016, for the Highmark other postretirement plan, and 8.00% in 2009, gradually decreasing to 5.00% by the year 2013, for the MSBCBS other postretirement plan.

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the other postretirement plans. At December 31, 2008, a one-percentage-point change in assumed health care cost trend rates would have had the following effects:

	One-Percentage-Point
	Increase	Decrease
Effect on total of service and interest cost components	$ 921	$ (1,107)
Effect on other postretirement benefit plan obligations	$ 13,422	$ (12,075)

2009	$ 28,820	$ 9,011
2010	$ 32,005	$ 9,903
2011	$ 35,960	$ 10,927
2012	$ 40,455	$ 11,759
2013	$ 44,670	$ 12,623
2014-2018	$ 302,650	$ 80,227

The asset allocation for the pension plans at December 31, 2008 and 2007, by asset category, was as follows:

	2008	2007
Pension plan assets
Debt securities	41%	38%
Equity securities	32%	56%
Cash and cash equivalents	27%	6%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the Highmark pension plan is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal. The Highmark pension plan asset allocation is reviewed quarterly to determine whether the portfolio mix is within an acceptable range of the target allocation. Target asset allocations are based on asset and liability studies with the goal of enhancing the expected return of the pension portfolio while maintaining acceptable levels of risk. While the target asset allocation for the portfolio is 40% debt securities, 56% equity securities and 4% cash and cash equivalents, the additional contribution remained invested in cash at December 31, 2008.

The MSBCBS pension plan and 401(h) account are administered by BCBSA's National Employee Benefits Association ("NEBA"). NEBA maintains the National Retirement Trust for MSBCBS's pension and 401(h) postretirement plan assets. Investments are made for the sole interest of the participants and beneficiaries of the programs participating in the National Retirement Trust. The MSBCBS other postretirement plan is administered by the Bank of New York Mellon.

The asset allocation for the other postretirement plans at December 31, 2008 and 2007, by asset category, was as follows:

	2008	2007
Other postretirement plan assets
Debt securities	32%	37%
Equity securities	44%	55%
Cash and cash equivalents	24%	8%
Total	100%	100%

(in thousands of dollars)

The primary investment objective for the assets of the other postretirement plans is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, credit quality, diversification and adequate liquidity. Excluding cash and cash equivalents, the investment goal is to outperform an unmanaged hybrid index, 65% of which is the Morgan Stanley Capital International All Country World Index and 35% of which is the Barclays Capital U.S. Aggregate Bond Index. The performance of the portfolio is reviewed periodically to determine the most effective structure of the assets and investment managers to achieve these objectives.

The Corporation sponsors defined contribution savings plans (the "savings plans") covering substantially all of Highmark's employees and employees of certain participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The savings plans allow participating employees to contribute a percentage of their annual salaries, subject to current Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") limitations. Employee contributions are matched by the Corporation at various percentages. The Corporation's contributions to the savings plans were $18,202 and $16,522 in 2008 and 2007, respectively.

The Corporation also sponsors deferred compensation plans for certain eligible employees. Participating employees may contribute a certain amount of their annual compensation to these plans. The Corporation matches a portion of these employee deferrals and pays interest on the deferrals at various rates. The Corporation made matching contributions to the deferred compensation plans of $441 and $409 in 2008 and 2007, respectively. Deferred compensation plan liabilities of $33,973 and $45,152 were recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively. Changes in the liability are reported in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

The Corporation also sponsors unfunded nonqualified supplemental retirement plans (the "supplemental retirement plans") covering certain eligible employees. The weighted-average assumptions used in the measurement of the supplemental retirement plans benefit obligation and net periodic benefit cost are consistent with the assumptions used in the measurement of pension plan benefits. The supplemental retirement plan liabilities recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2008 and 2007 were $62,704 and $60,299, respectively. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, amounts included in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income were $26,023 and $27,484, respectively.

8. Debt

Debt at December 31, 2008 and 2007 consisted of the following:

	2008	2007
Unsecured Senior Notes due August 15, 2013, with interest payable semi-annually at 6.80%, net of an unamortized discount of $396 in 2008 and $481 in 2007	$ 374,604	$ 374,519
Senior Subordinated Notes due February 15, 2015, with interest payable semi-annually at 10.75%, net of an unamortized discount of $1,408 in 2008 and $1,637 in 2007	150,592	150,363
Senior secured term loan due August 1, 2013, with interest payable quarterly at a varying rate of interest (3.71% based on three-month LIBOR plus 2.25% and 7.25% based on average LIBOR plus 0.65%, respectively), collateralized by substantially all assets of HVHC, excluding Eye Care Centers of America, Inc. ("ECCA")	108,513	151,063
Senior secured term loan due March 1, 2012, with interest payable at a varying interest rate (3.95% and 8.00%, respectively, based on average LIBOR plus 0.65%), collateralized by substantially all assets of ECCA	85,225	106,875
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $50,000 expiring June 2009, with interest payable at a varying rate of interest (0.82% based on LIBOR)	50,000	-
Note payable repaid July 2008 at 6.84%, net of unamortized discount of $87	-	7,281
Mortgage payable due November 1, 2028, at 7.00%	269	337
Capital leases payable, due through 2017, at varying interest rates ranging from 3.50% to 47.56%	7,679	9,104
Total	$ 776,882	$ 799,542

A summary of the scheduled principal repayment on debt is as follows:

Year ending December 31
2009	$ 54,318
2010	4,037
2011	3,857
2012	82,593

The Corporation is party to multiple revolving credit arrangements with financial institutions that provide for borrowings totaling $120,000. The revolving credit facilities expire at varying dates between June 30, 2009 and August 1, 2011. Amounts outstanding bear interest at variable interest rates. At December 31, 2008, there was $50,000 outstanding under one of these facilities. At December 31, 2007, there were no amounts outstanding under any of these facilities.

All debt agreements referred to above contain covenants, including covenants relating to such matters as indebtedness, minimum net worth and financial ratings. The Corporation was in compliance with all debt covenants at December 31, 2008 and 2007.

The Corporation is party to multiple interest rate swap agreements which meet the criteria of fair value hedges with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the "counterparties") pursuant to which it has synthetically converted $125,000 of its unsecured fixed rate Senior Notes (the "Highmark Notes") to variable notes through maturity. The Corporation received $20 from the counterparties in 2008 and paid $1,545 to the counterparties in 2007 for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. These amounts were included in interest expense in the combined statements of operations. The Corporation recorded assets of $11,457 and $522 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively, under the interest rate swap agreements, each of which was offset by a fair market value adjustment to the Highmark Notes.

In order to reduce the variability of expected future cash flows associated with variable rate debt, the Corporation is party to two interest rate swap agreements which are designated as cash flow hedges with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the "counterparties") pursuant to which it has synthetically converted a portion of the variable rate term loan due in 2013 to a fixed rate, with the interest rate swaps due to terminate September 30, 2009. The notional amounts of the interest rate swap agreements correspond to scheduled principal payments of the loan. The Corporation paid $1,285 to the counterparties in 2008 and received $135 from the counterparties in 2007 for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. These amounts were included in interest expense in the combined statements of operations. The Corporation recorded liabilities of $2,258 and $1,814 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively, under the interest rate swap agreements. Deferred net holding losses of $1,468 and $1,179 under the interest rate swap agreements were included in accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income, net of deferred income taxes of $790 and $635 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively.

As a result of these interest rate swap agreements, the Corporation is subject to interest rate risk and default risk. Only cash flows related to the differential in the fixed interest rates and the variable interest rates as applied to the notional amounts of the interest rate swaps are subject to interest rate risk over the terms of the interest rate swap agreements. The notional amounts do not represent the amounts at risk; rather, they are used only as the basis for calculating the amounts due under the interest rate swap agreements.

9. Reinsurance

The Corporation is party to various reinsurance agreements. Reinsurance contracts do not relieve the Corporation from its obligations to policyholders. Failure of reinsurers to honor their obligations could result in losses to the Corporation; consequently, allowances are established for estimated uncollectible amounts. The Corporation evaluates the financial condition of its reinsurers and monitors concentrations of credit risk to minimize its exposure to significant losses from reinsurer insolvencies. Reinsurance recoveries amounted to $35,019 in 2008 and $22,872 in 2007.

The effect of reinsurance on premium revenue for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007 was as follows:

	2008	2007
Direct business	$ 11,031,057	$ 10,254,997
Assumed business	84,516	96,792
Ceded business	(95,433)	(99,716)
Premium revenue	$ 11,020,140	$ 10,252,073

10. Income Taxes

The components of the income tax provision for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007 were as follows:

	2008	2007
Federal
Current	$ 4,751	$ 121,573
Deferred	38,699	44,488

(in thousands of dollars)

The components of deferred income taxes at December 31, 2008 and 2007 were as follows:

	2008	2007
Deferred tax assets
Benefit plan liabilities	$ 178,191	$ 123,845
Accrued expenses	105,059	73,857
Tax credit carryforwards	34,350	40,911
Goodwill and other intangible assets	25,538	26,269
Net operating loss carryforwards	17,938	17,891
Allowance for doubtful accounts	15,800	17,421
Hospital grants	12,631	17,193

Impairment reserves on investments	32,949	9,764
Net unrealized losses on available-for-sale securities	21,065	-
Other	27,490	21,090
Total deferred tax asset	472,571	360,140
Less valuation allowance	(55,948)	(54,750)
Total deferred tax assets, net of valuation allowance	416,623	305,390
Deferred tax liabilities
Net unrealized gains on available-for-sale securities	-	112,561
Prepaid expenses	4,777	5,092
Other	4,428	863
Total deferred tax liabilities	9,205	118,516
Deferred income taxes, net	$ 407,418	$ 186,874

In addition to the income tax provision, the deferred tax asset increased $260,743 and $118,350 in 2008 and 2007, respectively, as a result of the tax effect of changes in foreign currency translation adjustments, interest rate swaps, changes in certain benefit plan costs and the net unrealized gain or loss on available-for-sale securities. Additionally, the 2007 increase was impacted by the adoption of FIN No. 48. The change in tax effect is allocated directly to accumulated other comprehensive (loss) income, a component of reserves.

The valuation allowance is recognized primarily to reflect the uncertainty surrounding the realizability of alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards and state net operating loss carryforwards. The realization of net deferred tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future periods. The amount of deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could change if estimates of future taxable income change.

At December 31, 2008, the Corporation had alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards related to MSBCBS of $33,652 available to offset future taxes. These credits do not expire. Utilization of the alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards will not take place until such time as MSBCBS ceases to be in an alternative minimum tax position or a change in the tax laws occurs. Although MSBCBS was not in an alternative minimum tax position in 2008, the events in 2008 do not provide sufficient positive evidence to conclude that it is more likely than not that MSBCBS will be a consistent regular taxpayer in the future. The Corporation recognized a valuation allowance due to the uncertainty of realizing a tax benefit for alternative minimum tax credits and because the lower alternative minimum tax rate is expected to apply when net deductible temporary differences reverse.

(in thousands of dollars)

At December 31, 2008, various subsidiaries of Highmark had state net operating loss carryforwards totaling $283,169 that expire between 2009 and 2028 and are available to offset future state taxable income of the subsidiary that generated the loss carryforward. The utilization of the state net operating loss carryforwards is subject to certain limitations; therefore, the Corporation recognized a valuation allowance of $14,878.

A reconciliation of income tax expense recorded in the combined statements of operations and amounts computed at the statutory federal rate for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007 was as follows:

	2008	2007
Income taxes at statutory rate	35.0 %	35.0 %
State taxes, net of federal tax benefit	8.1 %	1.9 %
Corporate-owned life insurance	3.5 %	(0.1) %
U.S. tax on foreign earnings	4.2 %	0.0 %
Foreign tax credits	(2.0) %	(0.2) %
Contributions of appreciated property	(1.9) %	(0.6) %
Valuation allowance adjustments	(5.2) %	0.0 %
Other	0.7 %	(3.1) %
Effective tax rate	42.4 %	32.9 %

In December 2008, the Corporation changed its permanent reinvestment assertion under Accounting Principles Bulletin No. 23 (As Amended), Accounting for Income Taxes—Special Areas: Accounting Interpretations of APB Opinion No. 23, with respect to its foreign subsidiaries. As a result of the change in this assertion, the Corporation recorded a tax charge in 2008 of $3,153, net of foreign tax credits, related to certain previously unrecorded deferred tax liabilities.

The adoption of FIN No. 48 effective January 1, 2007 resulted in an increase to general reserves of $135,856. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, gross unrecognized tax benefits (excluding the federal benefit received from state positions) were $72,964 and $72,432, respectively, and, if recognized, would have impacted the effective tax rate.

The changes in the carrying amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits from uncertain tax positions for the years ended December 31, 2008 and 2007 were as follows:

	2008	2007
Balance at January 1	$ (86,855)	$ (39,205)
Additions for tax positions related to
Current year	2,322	(11,283)

Balance at December 31	$ (83,541)	$ (86,855)

(in thousands of dollars)

The Corporation recognizes interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in income tax expense. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, the Corporation recorded a net receivable of $9,927 and $8,326, respectively, for the potential payment of interest and penalties in income tax recoverable, net in the combined balance sheets.

The Corporation's consolidated federal income tax return has been examined by the IRS through 2005. While the examinations are complete, the 1991 through 2005 tax years remain open pending resolution of the matter referred to below.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 (the "Act") made all Blue Cross and Blue Shield organizations taxable as of January 1, 1987. The Act included certain tax benefits designed to ease the burden of the organizations' transition to taxable status. One transition benefit was a step-up in tax basis of all assets at January 1, 1987 to fair market value. The assets of the relevant organizations include subscriber and provider relationships as well as assembled workforce. Highmark and the IRS have been unable to reach an agreement as to the value of consequent deductions associated with these intangible assets. As a result, Highmark filed suit against the IRS in the United States Court of Claims. The Corporation expects a resolution of this litigation in 2009 and, in accordance with FIN No. 48, the Corporation recorded a tax benefit of $127,036 and $127,568 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively, related to this matter. The final resolution of this matter could result in a material impact on the financial position of the Corporation. At this time, the Corporation is unable to predict when a conclusion to this matter will be reached.

With the exception of the matter described above, the Corporation does not anticipate that any significant increase or decrease to unrecognized tax benefits will be recorded in 2009.

11. Leases

Several noncancellable operating leases, primarily for EDP equipment, software and office space, were in effect at December 31, 2008. Rental expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Aggregate future rental commitments for all operating leases having initial or remaining noncancellable lease terms in excess of one year with commitments in one or more of the next five years and thereafter are shown in the following table:

Years ending December 31
2009	$	79,650
2010		69,873
2011		62,099
2012		35,622
2013		27,878
Thereafter		63,179
	$	338,301

Total rental expense was $107,078 and $102,918 in 2008 and 2007, respectively.

(in thousands of dollars)

12. Medicare Claims Processing

In 2008 and 2007, the Corporation processed claims of $19,305,502 and $14,939,632, respectively, on behalf of the Medicare program. Fees for claim processing and other related services of $91,142 and $71,907 were reported in other revenue in the combined statements of operations in 2008 and 2007, respectively. These claims were paid directly from the Medicare trust fund and were not included in the combined statements of operations. Medicare program services are subject to audits conducted by CMS and other government agencies.

13. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

In accordance with SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements, financial assets and liabilities recorded at fair value in the combined balance sheets are categorized based upon the level of judgment associated with the inputs used to measure their fair value. Input levels, as defined by SFAS No.157, are as follows:

Level 1 – Pricing inputs are based on unadjusted quoted market prices for identical financial assets in active markets. Active markets are those in which transactions occur in sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis. Equity securities and actively traded United State Treasury securities are generally considered Level 1 assets.

Level 2 – Pricing inputs are based on other than quoted prices in active markets included in Level 1 that are observable unadjusted quoted market prices for similar financial assets or liabilities in active markets or quoted market prices for identical assets in inactive markets. Publicly traded corporate debt securities, United States government agencies' securities, mortgage-backed securities and interest rate swaps are generally classified as Level 2.

Level 3 – Pricing inputs include unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity that reflect management's best estimate of what market participants would use in pricing the asset at the measurement date. Privately held equity securities, distressed debt and other debt securities priced solely on other proprietary pricing methodology are generally classified as Level 3.

The following table summarizes fair value measurements by level at December 31, 2008 for financial assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

	Fair Value	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3
Assets
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 802,467	$ 715,650	$ 86,817	$ -
Investments, available for sale
Debt securities	2,614,034	468,554	2,079,610	65,870
Equity securities	583,354	515,967	51,036	16,351
Grantor trust assets	75,748	75,748	-	-
Interest rate swaps, net	9,200	-	9,200	-
Securities lending invested collateral	566,914	-	566,914	-
Total assets	$ 4,651,717	$ 1,775,919	$ 2,793,577	$ 82,221

Disclosures related to nonfinancial assets and nonfinancial liabilities are not included in the above table in accordance with FASB Staff Position No. 157-2, Effective Date of FASB Statement No. 157, which defers disclosure of nonfinancial assets and nonfinancial liabilities to January 1, 2009.

(in thousands of dollars)

The changes in fair value for assets measured using significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) for the year ended December 31, 2008 were as follows:

Balance at January 1, 2008	$	176,747
Total gains or losses
Realized gain on investments		10,760
Impairment loss on investments		(14,371)
Unrealized net holding losses arising during the period		(33,698)
Purchases, sales, issuances and settlements, net		(66,771)
Transfers in		9,554
Balance at December 31, 2008	$	82,221

In addition to the preceding disclosures on financial assets and liabilities recorded at fair value in the combined balance sheets, FAS No. 107, Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments, requires the disclosures of fair values for certain other financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate fair value, whether or not such values are recognized in the combined balance sheets. The carrying amounts reported in the combined balance sheets for accounts receivable, reinsurance recoverables, pharmacy rebates receivable, income tax recoverables, unearned subscription revenue, amounts held for others, income tax payable and other payables and accrued expenses approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these items.

The carrying amount of debt reported in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2008 and 2007 was $776,882 and $799,542, respectively. Using a discounted cash flow technique that considered the Corporation's credit rating with adjustments for duration and risk profile, the Corporation determined the fair value of its debt at December 31, 2008 and 2007 was $761,723 and $825,773, respectively.

14. Contingencies

Highmark and MSBCBS were defendants in a class action lawsuit brought by physicians, state medical societies and other professional organizations against BCBSA and various Blue Cross and Blue Shield licensees ("Blue Plans") alleging incorrect payments to physicians for services to subscribers. In addition, Highmark, Keystone Health Plan Central, Inc. ("KHPC") and Capital Blue Cross were defendants in a class action lawsuit brought on behalf of providers in the KHPC network alleging conspiracy among the defendants to underpay providers. The Corporation has settled these lawsuits and amounts due under the settlements were paid in November 2008. These settlements did not impact the financial position of the Corporation as provision for the settlements previously had been made in the Corporation's financial statements.

Highmark is a defendant in a class action lawsuit alleging violation of the Pennsylvania Nonprofit Corporation Law and breach of subscriber contracts by reason of its maintenance of allegedly "excessive" surplus. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the claims in this matter, but it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

(in thousands of dollars)

In December 1996, a petition for review was filed in the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania (the "Commonwealth Court") challenging a November 1996 order of the Commissioner related to the consolidation of Medical Services Association of Pennsylvania (d/b/a Pennsylvania Blue Shield) and Veritus Inc. (d/b/a Blue Cross of Western Pennsylvania). The Commonwealth Court transferred the matter to the Pennsylvania Insurance Department and the Commissioner dismissed the petition in May 2006. A petition for review of the Commissioner's decision was dismissed by the Commonwealth Court in November 2007, and a subsequent petition for allowance of appeal to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court was dismissed in January 2009.

The Corporation is subject to various other contingencies, including legal and compliance actions and proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of its business. Due to the complex nature of these actions and proceedings, the timing of the ultimate resolution of these matters is uncertain. In the opinion of management, based on consultation with legal counsel, adequate provision has been made in the combined financial statements for any potential liability related to these matters, and the amount of ultimate liability is not expected to materially affect the financial position of the Corporation.

15. Related Party Transaction

The Highmark Foundation (the "Foundation") is a private foundation exempt from federal taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Foundation was formed for charitable, scientific and educational purposes which promote health and well-being of the communities served by Highmark. The Foundation is not a subsidiary of the Corporation and financial results of the Foundation are not combined with the Corporation's combined financial results. At December 31, 2008 and 2007, the net present value of the Corporation's commitments to the Foundation of $37,628 and $55,093, respectively, was recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

16. Guarantees and Commitments

Because Highmark is not eligible to participate in a Pennsylvania-sponsored guarantee fund, it has established and funded a trust in order to meet a licensing requirement of BCBSA. The fair value of the trust was $277,429 and $264,537 at December 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively, and was reported as debt securities in the combined balance sheets.

At December 31, 2008, the Corporation had committed $18,164 to various limited partnership investments. These commitments are due upon capital calls by the general partners of the partnerships.

Report of Independent Auditors

Highmark Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying combined balance sheets and the related combined statements of operations, changes in reserves and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Highmark Inc. and its subsidiaries and affiliates (the "Corporation") at December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As discussed in Notes 8 and 11 of the combined financial statements, the Corporation changed the manner in which it accounts for defined benefit pension and other postretirement plans as well as the manner in which it accounts for uncertain tax positions in 2007.

1. Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Highmark Inc. ("Highmark") is incorporated as a nonprofit corporation and operates as a hospital plan and a professional health service plan in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As a licensee of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association ("BCBSA"), Highmark underwrites various indemnity and managed care health insurance products. Highmark also underwrites Medicare supplemental, dental, vision and long-term care insurance products. In addition, Highmark jointly markets various health insurance products ("joint programs") with Hospital Service Association of Northeastern Pennsylvania d/b/a Blue Cross of Northeastern Pennsylvania ("BCNEPA") and Independence Blue Cross ("IBC"). Highmark also operates as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary and a Medicare Part B carrier, performing claims processing, customer service and provider relation functions.

Highmark's for-profit and nonprofit subsidiaries and affiliates offer health insurance, dental insurance, vision services, workers compensation insurance, stop-loss insurance, real estate management services and other administrative services.

Markets for Highmark's indemnity, managed care and joint program health insurance products include: national accounts (primarily groups headquartered in Pennsylvania that have operations in other locations), regional accounts, individual accounts and service contract arrangements.

Highmark's controlled affiliate, Highmark West Virginia Inc. d/b/a Mountain State Blue Cross Blue Shield ("MSBCBS"), is a West Virginia nonprofit health services corporation.

On October 24, 2007, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS") entered into a contract with Highmark Medicare Services Inc. ("HMS"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, designating HMS as the Medicare Administrative Contractor for the states of Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, as well as the District of Columbia. Under the contract, HMS will be responsible for performing Medicare Part A and Part B fee-for-service claims adjudication and other administrative services for hospitals, other institutional providers, physicians and other health care practitioners in the named states. The contract has a one-year term with four annual renewal options. HMS is currently engaged in implementation activities.

On March 28, 2007, Highmark's Board of Directors and the Board of Directors of IBC approved a consolidation of the two companies to form a new Pennsylvania nonprofit corporation (the "resulting corporation"). The consolidation was approved by Highmark's corporate members on April 26, 2007. Various other conditions precedent to the consolidation, including approval by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department of the change in control of certain subsidiaries of Highmark and IBC, remain to be satisfied, and a closing date has not been set. If the consolidation is consummated, the resulting corporation will succeed to all assets and liabilities of Highmark and IBC.

Acquisitions and Dispositions

In August 2006, HVHC Inc. ("HVHC"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, purchased all the issued and outstanding stock of ECCA Holdings Corporation, the parent corporation of Eye Care Centers of America, Inc. ("ECCA"), a San Antonio, Texas-based retail optical chain for $317,152 (equity value). The purchase was financed with a capital contribution from Highmark of $225,000 and proceeds of borrowings of $160,000. At the time of acquisition, ECCA had outstanding debt of $314,553.

(in thousands of dollars)

The results of ECCA were included in the combined financial statements from the date of acquisition. In accordance with the purchase method of accounting, the purchase price was allocated to assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair value as follows:

Goodwill	$	523,377
Other intangible assets		7,658
Other assets		162,416
Total assets acquired		693,451
Debt		(314,553)
Other liabilities		(61,746)
Total liabilities assumed		(376,299)
Net assets acquired	$	317,152

The $7,658 in other intangible assets acquired consisted of trade names with useful lives of 25 years.

In July 2006, Highmark sold its 48.38% ownership interest in Medmark Holdings Inc., a holding company for Medmark Inc. (“Medmark”), a specialty pharmacy distribution company, to Walgreen Co. The sale resulted in a realized gain of $37,431 in 2006. An additional realized gain of $3,920 was recognized in 2007 when Medmark achieved certain financial targets defined in the sale agreement.

In June 2006, HM Life Insurance Company (“HM Life”), an indirectly wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, entered into an Assumption Reinsurance Agreement (“reinsurance agreement”) with Fort Dearborn Life Insurance Company (“FDL”) for approximately $16,000. In this reinsurance agreement, HM Life ceded substantially all of its life and disability business to FDL on August 1, 2006. This transaction resulted in a gain of $4,976 of which $348 was recognized in 2007 and $4,628 was recognized in 2006 as contracts novated to FDL. All contracts were novated at December 31, 2007.

Basis of Financial Presentation
The combined financial statements include the accounts of Highmark and its wholly owned subsidiaries (collectively “Consolidated Highmark”) and MSBCBS and its wholly owned subsidiary (collectively “Consolidated MSBCBS”).

As the sole corporate member of MSBCBS, Highmark has the authority to elect all of the members of the Board of Directors of MSBCBS. In accordance with its articles of incorporation, no part of the funds, income or net earnings of MSBCBS may inure to the benefit of Highmark, and in the event of dissolution or winding up of its affairs, MSBCBS’s assets are required to be distributed in the manner provided for nonprofit corporations by West Virginia or the rules and regulations of the Offices of the Insurance Commissioner of West Virginia. Creditors of Highmark may not anticipate that any of the assets or revenues of MSBCBS are or will be available to pay their claims, either currently or at any time in the future. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, MSBCBS total reserves were $161,561 and $140,520, respectively.

Consolidated Highmark and Consolidated MSBCBS are herein referred to as the “Corporation.” The combined financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated from the combined financial statements.

(in thousands of dollars)

The Corporation uses the equity method of accounting for 50% or less owned affiliates and those affiliates for which the Corporation does not hold a controlling financial interest but may influence operating or financial decisions.

The financial position and results of operations of foreign subsidiaries of HVHC are measured using local currency as the functional currency. Assets and liabilities are translated at current exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet dates. Revenue and expenses are translated using an average exchange rate during the year. Translation gains and losses are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income in the combined statements of changes in reserves.

New Accounting Pronouncements
In June 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued FASB Interpretation ("FIN") No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, An Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109. FIN No. 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes by defining criteria that a tax position on an individual matter must meet before that position is recognized in the financial statements. Additionally, FIN No. 48 provides guidance on measurement, classification, interest and penalties, disclosures and transition. The impact of adopting FIN No. 48 was an increase to general reserves of $135,856 on January 1, 2007.

In September 2006, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standard ("SFAS") No. 158, Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans - An Amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R). SFAS No. 158 requires recognition of the funded status of defined benefit pension and other postretirement plans as an asset (over-funded) or liability (under-funded) in the balance sheet, and recognition of changes in that funded status through accumulated other comprehensive income. The Corporation adopted SFAS No. 158 for the year ended December 31, 2007. The impact of adopting SFAS No. 158 was a reduction to accumulated other comprehensive income of $106,667, net of deferred income taxes.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements. SFAS No. 157 defines fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 applies to fair value measurements already required or permitted by existing standards and was effective January 1, 2008. The Corporation is currently evaluating the required disclosure provisions and financial statement impact of adopting SFAS No. 157. Management does not anticipate that the adoption of SFAS No. 157 will have a material impact on the Corporation's financial position or results of operations.

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities. SFAS No. 159 provides an option to report selected financial assets and liabilities at fair value and establishes related presentation and disclosure requirements. The Corporation did not elect to adopt this fair value option under SFAS No. 159.

Use of Estimates
The preparation of the Corporation's combined financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the combined financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
The Corporation considers all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents for purposes of the combined financial statements. Carrying value approximates fair value due to the short-term maturity of the investments.

(in thousands of dollars)

Investments
All debt securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and are carried at fair value (based on quoted or estimated market prices) and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income, net of deferred income taxes. Premiums and discounts are amortized using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are based on amortized cost. Marketable equity securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and carried at fair value (based on quoted market prices) and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income, net of deferred income taxes. Realized gains and losses are based on cost (specific identification method).

The Corporation monitors its investment portfolio for unrealized losses that appear to be other-than-temporary. The Corporation performs a detailed review of these securities to determine the underlying cause of the unrealized loss and whether the security is impaired. At the time a security is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the Corporation reduces the book value of the security to the current market value and records a realized loss in the combined statements of operations. Any subsequent increase in the security's market value is reported as an unrealized gain.

Other investments as shown on the combined balance sheets include nonqualified retirement plan investments, which are carried at fair value, investments in limited partnerships, which are accounted for under the equity method, and notes receivable, which are carried at net realizable value. The Corporation periodically evaluates other investments for impairment. At the time an other investment is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the Corporation reduces its book value to the current market value and records a realized loss in the combined statements of operations.

The Corporation participates in securities lending transactions to maximize investment income. The Corporation maintains effective control over the loaned securities and requires collateral initially equal to at least 102% of loaned securities at the loan date. Collateral received in the form of securities is not recorded in the combined balance sheets as the Corporation does not have the right to sell, pledge or otherwise reinvest the securities collateral. Cash collateral is recorded in the combined balance sheets, with a corresponding liability to reflect the obligation to return the collateral. Loaned securities continue to be carried as investment securities in the combined balance sheets. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, the fair value of securities outstanding under securities lending transactions was $640,861 and $553,162, respectively.

The Corporation's assets are invested in a variety of financial instruments. Accordingly, the related values as presented in the combined financial statements are subject to various market fluctuations, which include changes in the interest rate environment, equity markets and general economic conditions.

Accounts Receivable
In the normal course of business, the Corporation grants credit to its customers under various contractual agreements. The Corporation carries its accounts receivable at estimated net realizable value, which reflects the impact of potential credit losses. Trade accounts receivable include amounts due from commercial health, dental and vision businesses. Government program accounts receivable relate to amounts due in connection with government business, including the TRICARE Dental Plan, the Federal Employee Program and the Medicare program.

Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade accounts receivable are limited due to the large number of employer groups that constitute the Corporation's customer base. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, there were no significant concentrations in a single investee or industry.

(in thousands of dollars)

Reinsurance
In the normal course of business, the Corporation seeks to reduce losses that may arise from risks or occurrences of an unexpected nature that may cause unfavorable underwriting results by reinsuring certain levels of risk in various areas of exposure with other insurance enterprises or reinsurers. Reinsurance premiums and benefits paid or provided are accounted for in a manner consistent with the original policies issued and the terms of the reinsurance contracts. The Corporation also assumes reinsurance risks from other insurance companies. Such assumed reinsurance activity is recorded principally on the basis of reports received from the ceding companies.

Pharmacy Rebates Receivable

Property and Equipment, Net
Property and equipment is recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and amortization. Maintenance, repairs and minor improvements are expensed as incurred. Certain costs related to the internal development of software or software purchased for internal use are capitalized. Gains or losses on sales or disposals of property and equipment are included in operations. Depreciation is computed under the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives as follows: building and building improvements, seven-40 years; leasehold improvements, lesser of lease term or useful life; electronic data processing ("EDP") equipment, three years; office furniture, equipment and purchased software, three to 10 years; and capitalized internally developed software, three years.

Property and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of the assets may not be recoverable. Impairment losses are recognized to the extent the carrying amount of an asset exceeds the undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposal. In 2007 and 2006, no impairment losses were recorded.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, Net
Other intangible assets with definite lives are amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated lives, which range from three to 25 years. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, including goodwill, are not amortized, but are tested for impairment at least annually and more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset may be impaired. If fair value is less than carrying value, an impairment loss is recorded in the combined statements of operations. Management tested goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives for impairment and concluded that no impairment existed at December 31, 2007 and 2006.

Other Assets
Other assets include prepaid expenses, vision business inventory, the cash surrender value of life insurance policies on officers and employees and deferred bond issuance costs.

Vision business inventory consists of eyewear components including frames, lenses and cases, contact lenses and solutions, laboratory supplies and packaging materials and is stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined by using the weighted average method or the first-in first-out method.

(in thousands of dollars)

Claims Outstanding
Claims outstanding include claims reported and adjudicated but unpaid as well as an estimate of incurred but not reported claims ("IBNR"). The liability for IBNR claims is an actuarial estimate based on historical claims paid data, modified for current conditions and coverage changes. The methods to determine the estimate of IBNR claims use past experience adjusted for current trends. The methods and assumptions are continually reviewed and any resulting adjustments are included in current operations. Corresponding administrative costs to process unreported claims are estimated and accrued and are included in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

In the ordinary course of business, the Corporation advances operating funds to health care providers. Claims outstanding are reported net of such advances, which were $25,810 and $22,298 at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

The Corporation recorded $545,505 and $473,764 in IBNR liabilities for certain non-risk administrative arrangements at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The Corporation will bill and collect these claims from groups. Payments to providers are made at the time the claim is presented for payment. These estimated amounts are included in trade accounts receivable and claims outstanding in the combined balance sheets.

Amounts Held for Others
Amounts held for others include reserves for refunds and deposits received from groups for non-risk administrative arrangements. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, the Corporation held deposits received from groups of $135,711 and $159,230, respectively.

Premium Deficiency Reserves
The Corporation establishes a premium deficiency reserve ("PDR") when future claims expense and related maintenance costs are expected to exceed future premiums from contracts in force for a given line of business or product grouping within a contract period. The Corporation evaluates the need for a PDR by grouping policies consistent with the way in which the business is acquired, serviced and measured. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, the Corporation reported PDRs of $8,729 and $6,662, respectively, in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

Revenue Recognition
The Corporation's business consists of both at-risk insurance arrangements and non-risk administrative arrangements. The administrative fees received under non-risk administrative arrangements are shown as management services revenue and recognized in the period in which the related services are performed. Management services revenue also includes fees for management of medical services, claims processing and access to provider networks. Under non-risk administrative arrangements, the customer assumes the risk of funding claims. The Corporation does not record premium revenue and claims incurred on non-risk administrative arrangements.

Risk business includes all insurance contracts. Premiums are generally billed in advance of the contractual coverage periods and are included in premium revenue as they are earned during the coverage period. The unearned portion of premiums collected is reflected in the combined balance sheets as unearned subscription revenue. The expenses associated with administering the risk and non-risk business are included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

(in thousands of dollars)

Medicare Part D
On January 1, 2006, the Corporation began offering prescription drug benefits in accordance with Medicare Part D. Premium revenue includes amounts received from CMS and members. The CMS payment is subject to risk sharing through Medicare Part D risk corridor provisions. Risk corridor provisions compare costs included in the Corporation's annual bid submitted to CMS to actual prescription drug costs. Variances exceeding certain thresholds may result in additional CMS settlements. Premium revenue is adjusted for estimates related to these risk corridor provisions based upon pharmacy claims experience to date as if the annual contract were to terminate at the end of the reporting period. Receivables or payables are recorded based on the expected settlement.

The CMS payment also includes reimbursement for prescription drug costs under Medicare Part D for reinsurance and low-income cost subsidies for which the Corporation is not at risk. Monthly prospective payments from CMS for reinsurance and low-income cost subsidies are based on assumptions submitted with the annual bid to CMS. Premium revenue and claims incurred are not recognized for these subsidies; rather, receipt and payment activity is accumulated at the contract level and net balances are recorded in the combined balance sheets in government programs accounts receivable or other payables and accrued expenses.

Vision Revenue
Vision revenue includes sales from fully integrated eye care services, optical retail stores and the wholesale design and distribution of ophthalmic frames and sunglasses. Revenues are generally recognized when services are completed, upon shipment or delivery of product or during the period in which related services are performed.

Other Revenue
Other revenue includes pharmacy rebates earned on non-risk administrative arrangements. In 2007, the Corporation revised its contracts to provide rebate credits to non-risk groups in the development of their administrative fees. Other revenue also includes the Corporation's proportionate share of net income of affiliates in 2007 and 2006.

Premium Equivalents
Premium equivalents equal incurred claims under non-risk administrative arrangements. The Corporation would have recorded the amount of these incurred claims as additional premiums if these arrangements had been written as insured business.

Premium equivalents for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006 were as follows:

	2007	2006
Premium revenue and management services revenue	$ 10,873,628	$ 10,118,569
Premium equivalents	5,800,495	5,347,157
Total premium and premium equivalents	$ 16,674,123	$ 15,465,726

Comprehensive Income
Comprehensive income is net income plus certain other items, including unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities, interest rate swaps and foreign currency translation adjustments.

Income Taxes
Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to federal income taxes, although they remain tax-exempt entities for state tax purposes. Highmark and MSBCBS file separate consolidated federal income tax returns with their respective wholly owned subsidiaries. Only the non-insurance and health maintenance organization ("HMO") subsidiaries of Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to state income taxes. Insurance subsidiaries, other than the HMOs, are generally subject to state premium taxes.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities, and are measured using tax rates and laws that are expected to be in effect when the difference is reversed. The Corporation records a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets when it determines that it is more likely than not that the entire deferred tax asset will not be recognized.

Reclassifications
Certain 2006 amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2007 combined financial statement presentation.

2. Regulation

Highmark and its insurance subsidiaries and affiliate file financial statements with insurance departments in their states of domicile. These financial statements are prepared in accordance with statutory accounting principles prescribed by such regulatory authorities ("statutory accounting principles"). Prescribed statutory accounting principles include state laws, regulations and general administrative rules, as well as a variety of publications of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners ("NAIC"). Permitted statutory accounting practices encompass all accounting practices not prescribed.

Financial statements prepared for state insurance departments in accordance with statutory accounting principles differ from the combined financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. The principal differences are: (1) certain assets, such as accounts receivable aged more than 90 days, office furniture and equipment, nonoperating software, certain advances, intangible assets and prepaid expenses, are excluded from the statutory balance sheet; (2) certain pharmacy rebates receivable are excluded from the statutory balance sheet based on the timing of billing and collection activities; (3) debt securities are carried in the statutory financial statements at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, not fair value as required under GAAP; (4) equity income or loss of subsidiaries and affiliates is recorded directly to reserves under statutory accounting principles rather than in results of operations as required under GAAP; (5) subsidiary and affiliate dividends or distributions are recognized as investment income in statutory net income when received; (6) the liability for qualified pension and other postretirement benefits is limited to vested benefits under statutory accounting principles; (7) the recognition of deferred tax assets is limited for statutory reporting purposes; (8) benefit plan liabilities are not reported at the funded status in the statutory financial statements in accordance with SFAS No. 158; and (9) uncertain tax position assessments are based on Statement of Statutory Accounting Principles No. 10 criteria, not FIN No. 48 as required under GAAP.

As a result of the foregoing, statutory reserves at December 31, 2007 and 2006 and statutory net income for the years then ended of Highmark, which excludes MSBCBS, and MSBCBS were as follows:

	2007	2006
Highmark
Statutory reserves	$ 3,483,388	$ 3,206,817
Statutory net income	$ 260,447	$ 132,370
MSBCBS
Statutory reserves	$ 163,254	$ 122,011
Statutory net income	$ 41,802	$ 21,181

Highmark and its insurance subsidiaries and affiliate are subject to minimum Risk-Based Capital ("RBC") requirements that were developed by the NAIC and adopted by various state legislatures. The formula for determining the amount of RBC specifies various weighting factors that are applied to financial balances and various levels of activity based on the perceived degree of risk.

The RBC ratios of Highmark and its insurance subsidiaries and affiliate are compared to authorized control levels established by the NAIC. Companies below specific ratio thresholds may require specific corrective action. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, Highmark and its insurance subsidiaries and affiliate exceeded their respective minimum RBC requirements.

The Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner (the "Commissioner") has determined that an appropriate sufficient operating surplus range for Highmark is 550% - 750% of the health RBC ratio or the Pennsylvania Insurance Department's consolidated risk factor ratio, whichever is lower. As long as Highmark operates above the 550% ratio, Highmark is not permitted to include a risk and contingency factor in its filed premium rates. If Highmark's ratio exceeds 750%, it will be required to justify its surplus level and could be required to submit a plan to bring its surplus within the designated appropriate sufficient operating surplus range. At December 31, 2007 and 2006, Highmark's health RBC ratios were within the appropriate sufficient operating surplus range of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department.

Highmark is party to a six-year Community Health Reinvestment Agreement with the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, which established an annual Community Health Reinvestment ("CHR") commitment for Highmark based on certain Pennsylvania direct written health premiums, and quantified Highmark's minimum social mission commitment at approximately $100,000 and $95,000 for 2007 and 2006, respectively. Sixty percent of the CHR is directed by Pennsylvania and is dedicated to programs for uninsured persons of low income. Forty percent of the CHR is directed by Highmark, subject to approval by the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, and is dedicated to permitted community health reinvestment endeavors. The Pennsylvania-directed net expenses were $59,328 and $62,028 in 2007 and 2006, respectively, and were recorded in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. These amounts were calculated based on certain historical Pennsylvania direct written health premiums and were net of certain credits. The Highmark-directed CHR obligation was reported in the combined statements of operations in 2007 and 2006 as incurred.

At December 31, 2007, the Corporation held debt securities with gross unrealized losses of $15,447. Management evaluated the unrealized losses in the debt securities and determined that they were due primarily to normal fluctuations in interest rates and not to credit risk factors. For debt securities, losses in market values are viewed as temporary if the debt security can be and is intended to be held to maturity and it is reasonable to assume that the issuer will be able to service the debt, both as to interest and principal. The Corporation believes that the value of its debt securities will be realized and that the unrealized losses do not represent an other-than-temporary impairment at December 31, 2007.

(in thousands of dollars)

At December 31, 2007, the Corporation held equity securities with gross unrealized losses of $22,292. Management reviews marketable equity securities in which fair value falls below cost. In determining whether a marketable equity security is other-than-temporarily impaired, management considers the magnitude of the unrealized loss, the duration, whether the loss is market driven or company specific and the potential for recovery. The Corporation believes that recovery in market value will occur within a relatively short time and does not consider its equity securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired.

The amortized cost and fair value of available-for-sale debt securities at December 31, 2007 are shown below by contractual maturity. Expected maturities could differ from contractual maturities as borrowers may have the right to call or prepay obligations with or without call or prepayment penalties.

	Amortized Cost	Fair Value

In August 2007, HMO of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Inc. d/b/a First Priority Health ("FPH"), a nonprofit HMO, repaid $15,820 of surplus notes held by Highmark and issued to Highmark a replacement surplus note in the same aggregate principal amount but providing for the accrual of interest. The replacement surplus note bears interest at an annual rate of 6.50%; provided that interest is not payable until FPH and First Priority Life Insurance Company, Inc. ("FPLIC"), a for-profit corporation, achieve a combined health RBC of at least 700% for six consecutive calendar quarters.

5. Property and Equipment, Net

Property and equipment at December 31, 2007 and 2006 was comprised of the following:

	2007	2006
Land, buildings and leasehold improvements	$ 361,586	$ 332,449
EDP equipment	169,439	157,932

6. Claims Outstanding

Activity in the liability for claims outstanding for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006 was as follows:

	2007	2006
Claims outstanding at January 1	$ 1,491,290	$ 1,646,558
Reinsurance recoverables	(182,442)	(190,661)

Change in advances to providers	(3,512)	8,509
Change in non-risk claim liabilities	126,075	(47,283)
Net balance at December 31	1,544,276	1,308,848
Reinsurance recoverables	140,848	182,442
Claims outstanding at December 31	$ 1,685,124	$ 1,491,290

Negative amounts reported for prior year incurred claims resulted from claims being settled for amounts less than originally estimated due to lower than anticipated utilization.

Management believes that its estimates for claims outstanding are adequate to satisfy its ultimate claim liability. However, these estimates are inherently subject to a number of highly variable circumstances. Consequently, actual results could differ materially from the amounts recorded in the combined financial statements.

7. Medicare Part D

CMS subsidies and risk corridor settlement amounts due from (to) CMS at December 31, 2007 and 2006 were as follows:

	2007		2006
	CMS Subsidies	Risk Corridor Settlement	CMS Subsidies	Risk Corridor Settlement
Government programs receivable	$ 45,282	$ 3,684	$ 10,371	$ 2,500

Net receivable (liability)	$ 40,780	$ (6,772)	$ (20,212)	$ (13,570)

In 2007, net settlement payments to CMS related to 2006 Medicare Part D activity were $34,635, subject to final settlement with CMS.

8. Employee Benefit Plans

The Corporation covers certain employees through two non-contributory defined benefit pension plans (the "pension plans"). The Highmark Retirement Plan ("Highmark pension plan") covers all eligible Highmark employees meeting certain age and service requirements and certain employees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The Non-Contributory Retirement Program for Certain Employees of Highmark West Virginia Inc. ("MSBCBS pension plan") covers all full-time MSBCBS employees meeting certain age and service requirements.

The Corporation's policy is to fund its pension plans according to the limits specified by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended. From time to time, the Corporation may contribute additional amounts to the pension plans as it deems appropriate, subject to funding limitations. During 2008, the Corporation expects to contribute $48,000 to the pension plans for the 2008 plan year, depending on completion of the 2008 actuarial valuation.

Highmark and MSBCBS each sponsors a defined benefit other postretirement plan (collectively the "other postretirement plans"). Highmark and MSBCBS use Voluntary Employees' Beneficiary Association ("VEBA") trusts in addition to a MSBCBS 401(h) account to fund their respective other postretirement plans. The other postretirement plans provide various postretirement health and life insurance benefits to their respective retirees and certain retirees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates.

The Corporation's contributions for other postretirement coverage vary based on age and length of service at retirement. VEBA trust funding contributions are determined using Entry Age Actuarial Cost as the acceptable actuarial method. The Corporation expects to contribute $19,800 to Highmark's VEBA trust, $2,500 to MSBCBS's VEBA trust and $1,500 to MSBCBS's 401(h) account in 2008 to fund other postretirement plan benefits for the 2008 plan year, depending on completion of the 2008 actuarial valuation.

The pension plans' accumulated benefit obligation at December 31, 2007 and 2006 was $910,650 and $826,403, respectively.

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the Highmark pension plan were $1,194,896, $871,663 and $950,213, respectively, at December 31, 2007 and $1,098,828, $790,345 and $860,948, respectively, at December 31, 2006.

(in thousands of dollars)

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the MSBCBS pension plan were $50,052, $38,987 and $49,375, respectively, at December 31, 2007 and $46,649, $36,058 and $43,677, respectively, at December 31, 2006.

The assumptions used in the measurement of the Corporation's benefit obligations were as follows:

	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits

The expected return on pension plan assets is developed using inflation expectations and risk factors to arrive at a long-term nominal expected return for each asset class. The nominal expected return for each asset class is then weighted based on the target asset allocation to develop the expected long-term rate of return on plan assets. The expected return on other postretirement plan assets is developed based on historical returns and the future expectations for returns for each asset class as well as the asset allocation of the other postretirement plan assets.

For measurement purposes at December 31, 2007, the assumed annual rate of increase in the per capita costs of covered health care benefits for the other postretirement plans is 8.75% in 2008, gradually decreasing to 5.00% by the year 2014, for the Highmark other postretirement plan, and 9.50% in 2008, gradually decreasing to 5.00% by the year 2012, for the MSBCBS other postretirement plan.

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the other postretirement plans. At December 31, 2007, a one-percentage-point change in assumed health care cost trend rates would have had the following effects:

	One-Percentage-Point
	Increase	Decrease
Effect on total of service and interest cost components	$ 3,541	$ (3,007)
Effect on other postretirement benefit plan obligations	$ 35,224	$ (31,211)

(in thousands of dollars)

Estimated benefit payments, which reflect future service as appropriate, are expected to be paid in the following years:

	Pension Benefits	Other Postretirement Benefits
2008	$ 25,717	$ 12,051
2009	$ 28,734	$ 13,540
2010	$ 32,356	$ 14,948
2011	$ 36,848	$ 16,573
2012	$ 42,546	$ 17,825
2013-2017	$ 304,502	$ 112,549

The asset allocation for the pension plans at December 31, 2007 and 2006, by asset category, was as follows:

	2007	2006
Pension plan assets
Equity securities	56%	55%
Debt securities	38%	37%
Cash and cash equivalents	6%	8%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the Highmark pension plan is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, given the asset mix, credit quality and diversification guidelines and restrictions approved by the Investment Committee of the Board of Directors of Highmark. The Highmark pension plan asset allocation is reviewed quarterly to determine whether the portfolio mix is within an acceptable range of the target allocation. Target asset allocations are based on asset and liability studies with the goal to enhance the expected return of the pension portfolio while maintaining acceptable levels of risk. The target asset allocation for the portfolio is 56% equity and 44% debt securities, including cash equivalents.

The MSBCBS pension plan and 401(h) account are administered by BCBSA's National Employee Benefits Association ("NEBA"). NEBA maintains the National Retirement Trust for MSBCBS's pension and 401(h) assets. Investments are made for the sole interest of the participants and beneficiaries of the programs participating in the National Retirement Trust. The MSBCBS other postretirement plan is administered by Mellon Bank.

The asset allocation for the other postretirement plans at December 31, 2007 and 2006, by asset category, was as follows:

	2007	2006
Other postretirement plan assets
Equity securities	55%	40%
Debt securities	37%	27%
Cash and cash equivalents	8%	33%
Total	100%	100%

(in thousands of dollars)

The primary investment objective for the assets of the other postretirement plans is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, credit quality, diversification and adequate liquidity. Excluding cash and cash equivalents, the investment goal being to outperform an unmanaged hybrid index, 60% of which is the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index and 40% of which is the Lehman Brothers Aggregate Bond Index. The performance of the portfolio is reviewed periodically to determine the most effective structure of the assets and investment managers to achieve these objectives.

The Corporation sponsors defined contribution savings plans (the "savings plans") covering substantially all of Highmark's employees and employees of certain participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The savings plans allow participating employees to contribute a percentage of their annual salary, subject to current Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") limitations. Employee contributions are matched by the Corporation at various percentages. The Corporation's contributions to the savings plans were $16,522 and $15,412 in 2007 and 2006, respectively.

The Corporation also sponsors deferred compensation plans for certain eligible employees. Participating employees may contribute a certain amount of their annual compensation to these plans. The Corporation matches a portion of these employee deferrals and pays interest on the deferrals at various rates. The Corporation made matching contributions to the deferred compensation plans of $409 and $384 in 2007 and 2006, respectively. Deferred compensation plan liabilities of $45,152 and $41,286 were recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

The Corporation also sponsors unfunded nonqualified supplemental retirement plans (the "supplemental retirement plans") covering certain eligible employees. The weighted-average assumptions used in the measurement of the supplemental retirement plans benefit obligation and net periodic benefit cost are consistent with the assumptions used in the measurement of pension plan benefits. Highmark's supplemental retirement plan accumulated benefit obligation exceeded the liability recognized in the combined balance sheet at December 31, 2006 and, as a result, the Corporation recorded additional minimum pension liabilities of $6,958 in other payables and accrued expenses, intangible assets of $3,434 and net unrealized losses in accumulated other comprehensive income of $2,291. The supplemental retirement plan liabilities recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2007 and 2006 were $60,299 and $34,326, respectively. At December 31, 2007, $15,983 was included in accumulated other comprehensive income related to the supplemental retirement plans' adoption of SFAS No. 158, net of deferred income taxes of $8,442.

9. Debt

Debt at December 31, 2007 and 2006 consisted of the following:

	2007	2006
Unsecured Senior Notes due August 15, 2013, with interest payable semi-annually at 6.80%, net of an unamortized discount of $481 in 2007 and $567 in 2006.	$ 374,519	$ 374,433
Senior Subordinated Notes due February 15, 2015, with interest payable semi-annually at 10.75%, net of an unamortized discount of $1,637 in 2007 and $1,865 in 2006.	150,363	150,135
Senior secured term loan due August 1, 2013, with interest payable quarterly at a varying rate of interest (7.25% and 7.75% at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively, based on average LIBOR plus 0.65%), collateralized by substantially all assets of HVHC, excluding ECCA.	151,063	154,613
Senior secured term loan due March 1, 2012, with interest payable at a varying interest rate (8.00% at December 31, 2007 and 2006, based on average LIBOR plus 0.65%), collateralized by substantially all assets of ECCA.	106,875	137,112
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $35,000 with interest payable monthly at a varying rate of interest (5.65% at December 31, 2006, based on one-month LIBOR). In June 2007, outstanding borrowings were transferred to a new facility, at which time this facility was terminated.	-	35,000
Note payable due August 1, 2008, with monthly principal and interest payments at 6.84%, net of an unamortized discount of $87 in 2007 and $249 in 2006, collateralized by an office tower complex and assignment of rents.	7,281	19,089
Promissory note due July 2007 at 4.71%.	-	305
Mortgage payable due November 1, 2028, with monthly principal and interest payments at 7.00%.	337	293
Capital leases payable due through 2017 at varying interest rates ranging from 3.50% to 47.56%.	9,104	10,696
Total	$ 799,542	$ 881,676

(in thousands of dollars)

A summary of the scheduled principal repayment on notes payable is as follows:

Year ending December 31
2008	$ 12,326
2009	4,231
2010	3,945
2011	3,760
2012	102,490
Thereafter	672,790
	$ 799,542

The Corporation is party to multiple revolving credit arrangements with financial institutions that provide for borrowings totaling $120,000. The revolving credit facilities expire at varying dates between February 10, 2009 and August 1, 2011. Amounts outstanding bear interest at variable interest rates. At December 31, 2007, there were no amounts outstanding under any of these facilities. At December 31, 2006, there was $35,000 outstanding under a facility that was terminated in 2007.

All debt agreements referred to above contain covenants, including covenants relating to such matters as indebtedness, minimum net worth and financial ratings. The Corporation was in compliance with all debt covenants at December 31, 2007 and 2006.

The Corporation is party to multiple interest rate swap agreements, which meet the criteria of fair value hedges, with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the “counterparties”) pursuant to which it has synthetically converted $125,000 of its unsecured fixed rate Senior Notes (the “Highmark notes”) to variable notes through maturity. The interest rate swap agreements expire on August 15, 2013 and provide for the Corporation and the counterparties to exchange, on a semi-annual basis, the difference between the fixed rate (6.80%) and the variable rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed-upon notional principal amount of $125,000. During 2007 and 2006, the Corporation paid $1,545 and $328, respectively, to the counterparties for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. These amounts were included in interest expense in the combined statements of operations. The Corporation recorded a net asset of $522 at December 31, 2007 and a net liability of $5,375 at December 31, 2006 under the interest rate swap agreements, each of which was offset by a fair market value adjustment to the Highmark notes.

(in thousands of dollars)

In order to reduce the variability of expected future cash flows associated with variable rate debt, the Corporation is party to two interest rate swap agreements, which are designated as cash flow hedges, with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the "counterparties") pursuant to which it has synthetically converted a portion of the variable rate term loan due in 2013 to a fixed rate, with the interest rate swaps due to terminate September 30, 2009. The notional amounts of the interest rate swap agreements correspond to scheduled principal payments of the loan. The interest rate swap agreements provide for the Corporation and the counterparties to exchange, on a quarterly basis, the difference between the variable rate interest amounts (4.83% at December 31, 2007, based on the three-month LIBOR rate) and the fixed rate (5.18%) interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed-upon notional principal amount of $76,531 and $77,306 at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. For the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, the Corporation received $135 from the counterparties and paid $54 to the counterparties, respectively, for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. These amounts were included in interest expense in the combined statements of operations. The Corporation recorded net liabilities of $1,814 and $340 at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively, under the interest rate swap agreements. Deferred net holding losses of $1,179 and $221 under the interest rate swap agreements were included in other comprehensive income, net of deferred income taxes of $635 and $119 at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Until March 12, 2006, the Corporation was party to an interest rate swap agreement, which met the criteria of a cash flow hedge, with a highly rated, major U.S. financial institution (the "counterparty") in order to limit its exposure to cash flow risks associated with the interest payments on the outstanding principal of a variable rate revolving credit facility of $125,000. During 2006, the Corporation paid $355 to the counterparty for settlements under the interest rate swap agreement. This amount was included in interest expense in the combined statement of operations.

As a result of these interest rate swap agreements, the Corporation is subject to interest rate risk and default risk. Only cash flows related to the differential in the fixed interest rates and the variable interest rates as applied to the notional amounts of the interest rate swaps are subject to interest rate risk over the term of the interest rate swap agreements. The notional amounts do not represent the amounts at risk; rather, they are used only as the basis for calculating the amounts due under the interest rate swap agreements.

10. Reinsurance

The Corporation is party to various reinsurance agreements. Reinsurance contracts do not relieve the Corporation from its obligations to policyholders. Failure of reinsurers to honor their obligations could result in losses to the Corporation; consequently, allowances are established for estimated uncollectible amounts. The Corporation evaluates the financial condition of its reinsurers and monitors concentrations of credit risk to minimize its exposure to significant losses from reinsurer insolvencies. Reinsurance recoveries amounted to $22,872 in 2007 and $25,250 in 2006.

The effect of reinsurance on premium revenue for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006 was as follows:

	2007	2006
Direct business	$ 10,245,117	$ 9,513,856
Assumed business	106,672	117,268
Ceded business	(99,716)	(197,737)
Premium revenue	$ 10,252,073	$ 9,433,387

Total deferred tax liabilities	118,516	134,741
Deferred income taxes, net	$ 186,874	$ 112,890

(in thousands of dollars)

In addition to the income tax provision, the deferred tax asset increased $118,350 in 2007 and decreased $35,763 in 2006 as a result of the tax effect of the changes in foreign currency translation adjustments, minimum pension liability adjustments and the net unrealized gain or loss on available-for-sale securities. Additionally, the 2007 decrease was impacted by the adoption of FIN No. 48. The change in tax effect is allocated directly to accumulated other comprehensive income, a component of reserves.

The valuation allowance is recognized primarily to reflect the uncertainty surrounding the realizability of alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards and state net operating loss carryforwards. The realization of net deferred tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future periods. The amount of deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could change if estimates of future taxable income change.

At December 31, 2007, the Corporation had alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards related to MSBCBS of $40,645 available to offset future taxes. These credits do not expire. Utilization of the alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards will not take place until such time as MSBCBS ceases to be in an alternative minimum tax position or a change in the tax law occurs. The Corporation recognized a valuation allowance due to the uncertainty of realizing a tax benefit for the alternative minimum tax credits and because the lower alternative minimum tax rate is expected to apply when net deductible temporary differences reverse.

At December 31, 2007, various subsidiaries of Highmark have state net operating loss carryforwards totaling $288,924 that expire between 2008 and 2027 and are available to offset the future state taxable income of the subsidiary that generated the loss carryforward. The utilization of the state net operating loss carryforwards is subject to certain limitations; therefore, the Corporation recognized a valuation allowance of $13,972.

A reconciliation of income tax expense recorded in the combined statements of operations and amounts computed at the statutory federal rate for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006 was as follows:

	2007	2006
Income taxes at statutory rate	35.0 %	35.0 %
State taxes, net of federal benefit	1.9 %	1.6 %
Other	(4.0) %	(1.5) %
Effective tax rate	32.9 %	35.1 %

The Corporation intends to indefinitely reinvest undistributed earnings of certain foreign subsidiaries in operations outside the U.S. Undistributed earnings of these foreign subsidiaries at December 31, 2007 amounted to $26,245. Accordingly, a provision for deferred income taxes was not recorded. If management did not intend for these earnings to be permanently reinvested, a U.S. deferred tax liability of approximately $6,000 would have been recognized. The Corporation provides for the U.S. and additional non-U.S. taxes on earnings anticipated by management to be repatriated from non-U.S.-based subsidiaries.

The Corporation adopted the provisions of FIN No. 48 effective January 1, 2007 and recorded an increase to general reserves of $135,856. At December 31, 2007, gross unrecognized tax benefits (excluding the federal benefit received from state positions) was $72,432 and, if recognized, would have impacted the effective tax rate. There were no accrued interest or penalties resulting from these unrecognized tax benefits.

(in thousands of dollars)

The change in the carrying amount of gross unrecognized tax benefits from uncertain tax positions for the year ended December 31, 2007 was as follows:

Balance at January 1, 2007	$	(39,205)
Additions for tax positions related to
Current year		(11,283)
Prior years		(31,468)
Reductions to balance relating to
Changes in tax positions of prior years		(1,081)

Balance at December 31, 2007	$	(86,855)

The Corporation's consolidated federal income tax return has been examined by the IRS through 2005. While the examinations are complete, the 1991 through 2005 tax years remain open pending resolution of the matter referred to below.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 (the "Act") made all Blue Cross and Blue Shield organizations taxable as of January 1, 1987. The Act included certain tax benefits designed to ease the burden of organizations' transition to taxable status. One transition benefit was a step-up in the tax basis of all assets at January 1, 1987 to fair market value. The assets of the relevant organizations include subscriber and provider relationships as well as assembled workforce. The IRS and the Corporation have been unable to agree on the value and subsequent deductions associated with these intangible assets of the Corporation. As a result, the Corporation has filed suit in the U.S. Court of Claims. In accordance with FIN No. 48, the Corporation has recorded a tax benefit of $125,638, net of deferred taxes of $43,890 at January 1, 2007, and $127,568, net of deferred taxes of $28,720 at December 31, 2007, related to this matter. The future settlement of this dispute could result in a material impact on the financial position of the Corporation as the tax benefit ranges from $0 to as much as $200,000. At this time, the Corporation is unable to predict when a conclusion to this matter will be reached.

With the exception of the matter described above, the Corporation does not anticipate that any significant increase or decrease to unrecognized tax benefits will be recorded in 2008.

12. Leases

Several noncancellable operating leases, primarily for EDP equipment, software and office space, were in effect at December 31, 2007. Rental expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Aggregate future rental commitments for all operating leases having initial or remaining noncancellable lease terms in excess of one year with commitments in one or more of the next five years and thereafter are shown in the following table:

	Operating Lease Commitments
Year ending December 31
2008	$ 89,320
2009	58,852
2010	45,915
2011	38,294
2012	20,901
Thereafter	40,659
	$ 293,941

Total rental expense was $99,226 and $70,426 in 2007 and 2006, respectively.

13. Medicare Claims Processing

The Corporation operates as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary in Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia and as Medicare Part B carrier in Pennsylvania. In 2007 and 2006, the Corporation processed claims of $14,939,632 and $14,504,221, respectively, on behalf of the Medicare Part A and Part B programs ("Medicare program"). Medicare claims are paid directly from the Medicare trust fund and are not included in the combined statements of operations. The Corporation received reimbursement of administrative expenses related to the Medicare program of $71,907 and $78,427 in 2007 and 2006, respectively, which were recorded as a reduction of operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. Claims systems and processes of the Medicare program are subject to audits conducted by CMS and other government agencies.

14. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Fair values are disclosed for all financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate fair value, whether or not such values are recognized in the combined balance sheets. Fair values of investment securities are estimated based on quoted market prices of the same or similar securities. The fair values of interest rate swaps are based on market prices quoted by the financial institution that is the counterparty to the swap. The fair values of notes receivable, including affiliate surplus notes, and debt are estimated using present value techniques. These techniques are significantly affected by the Corporation's assumptions, including discount rates and estimates of future cash flows. Potential taxes and other transaction costs are not considered in estimating fair values.

The carrying amounts reported in the combined balance sheets for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, reinsurance recoverables, pharmacy rebates receivable, income tax recoverables, securities lending, unearned subscription revenue, amounts held for others, income tax payable and other payables and accrued expenses approximate fair value because of the short-term nature of these items.

(in thousands of dollars)

The estimated fair value of financial instruments with estimated fair values that differ from their carrying values are summarized as follows:

	2007		2006
	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value
Assets
Notes receivable	$ 16,570	$ 18,378	$ 120,361	$ 121,265
Liabilities
Debt	$ 799,542	$ 813,273	$ 881,676	$ 900,316

15. Contingencies

Highmark and MSBCBS are defendants in a class action lawsuit brought by physicians, state medical societies and other professional organizations against BCBSA and various Blue Cross and Blue Shield licensees ("Blue Plans") alleging incorrect payments to physicians for services to subscribers. In addition, Highmark, Keystone Health Plan Central, Inc. ("KHPC") and Capital Blue Cross are defendants in a class action lawsuit brought on behalf of providers in the KHPC network alleging conspiracy among the defendants to underpay providers. The Corporation has reached settlements in these lawsuits. The settlement in the case involving KHPC is subject to final court approval. Provision for these settlements was made in the Corporation's financial statements. Highmark is a defendant in a similar class action lawsuit brought on behalf of chiropractors and other professional providers against BCBSA and several Blue Plans. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the claims in this matter but it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss. An unfavorable outcome in this matter is not likely to have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

MSBCBS is a defendant in a lawsuit brought in the state courts of West Virginia on behalf of a class of health care providers alleging that MSBCBS engaged in behaviors similar to those alleged in the other cases described above. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the claims asserted in this matter, but it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss. An unfavorable outcome in this matter is not likely to have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

Highmark is a defendant in a class action lawsuit alleging violation of the Pennsylvania Nonprofit Corporation Law and breach of subscriber contracts by maintenance of "excessive" surplus. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the claims in this matter, but is unable to predict the outcome of the matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

In December 1996, a petition for review was filed in the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania (the "Commonwealth Court"), challenging a November 1996 order of the Commissioner (the "1996 Order") related to the consolidation of Medical Services Association of Pennsylvania (d/b/a Pennsylvania Blue Shield) and Veritus Inc. (d/b/a Blue Cross of Western Pennsylvania). The court transferred the matter to the Pennsylvania Insurance Department. In May 2006, the Commissioner issued an adjudication and order (the "2006 Order") dismissing the petition. Robert B. Sklaroff, M.D., filed a petition for review in the Commonwealth Court, which the court dismissed in November 2007, affirming the 1996 Order and the 2006 Order. A petition for allowance of appeal from this decision has been filed in the Pennsylvania Supreme Court and is pending before the court. Capital Blue Cross and Capital Advantage Insurance Company ("Capital Blue Cross") also filed a petition for review of the 2006 Order with the Commonwealth Court. In November 2007, Capital Blue Cross's petition was quashed. Capital Blue Cross did not seek review of this action. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the claims in this matter but it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the Corporation.

The Corporation is subject to various other contingencies, including legal and compliance actions and proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of its business. Due to the complex nature of these actions and proceedings, the timing of the ultimate resolution of these matters is uncertain. In the opinion of management, based on consultation with legal counsel, adequate provision has been made in the combined financial statements for the liability related to these matters, and the amount of ultimate liability with respect to these contingencies is not expected to materially affect the financial position of the Corporation.

16. Related Party Transaction

The Highmark Foundation (the "Foundation") is a private foundation exempt from federal taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Foundation was formed for charitable, scientific and educational purposes which promote health and well-being of the communities served by Highmark. The Foundation is not a subsidiary of the Corporation and financial results of the Foundation are not combined with the Corporation's combined financial results. In June 2006, the Corporation recorded a five-year $100,000 commitment to the Foundation to fund education, communications, community activities, grants and programming to promote healthy behaviors in children and adolescents. The Corporation contributed $20,000 in each of 2007 and 2006. The remaining outstanding liability was recorded by the Corporation at net present value of $55,093 and $71,729 in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

17. Guarantees and Commitments

Because Highmark is not eligible to participate in a Pennsylvania-sponsored guarantee fund, it has established and funded a trust in the amount of its claims liability in order to meet a licensing requirement of BCBSA. The value of the contributed assets in the trust was $264,537 and $267,409 at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

At December 31, 2007, the Corporation had committed $13,491 to various limited partnership investments. These commitments are due upon capital calls by the general partners of the partnerships.

At December 31, 2007, the Corporation had committed $32,200 in capital to FPLIC, of which $16,000 was contributed in January 2008.

Report of Independent Auditors

Highmark Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying combined balance sheets and the related combined statements of operations, changes in reserves and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Highmark Inc. and its subsidiaries and affiliates (the Corporation) at December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

1. Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Highmark Inc. (Highmark) is incorporated as a nonprofit corporation and operates as a hospital plan and a professional health service plan in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As a licensee of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association (BCBSA), Highmark underwrites various indemnity and managed care health insurance products. Highmark also underwrites Medicare supplemental, dental, vision and long-term care insurance products. In addition, Highmark jointly markets various health insurance products (joint programs) with Hospital Service Association of Northeastern Pennsylvania d/b/a Blue Cross of Northeastern Pennsylvania (BCNEPA) and Independence Blue Cross (IBC). Highmark also operates as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary and a Medicare Part B carrier, performing claims processing, customer service and provider relation functions.

Highmark's for-profit and nonprofit subsidiaries and affiliates offer health insurance, dental insurance, vision services, life insurance, stop-loss insurance, services through health maintenance organizations (HMOs), real estate management and third-party and other administrative services.

Markets for Highmark's indemnity, managed care and joint program health insurance products include: national accounts (primarily groups headquartered in Pennsylvania that have operations in other locations), regional accounts, individual accounts and service contract arrangements. Highmark's subsidiary HMO business operates in western Pennsylvania. Highmark's affiliate HMO business operates in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Highmark's controlled affiliate, Highmark West Virginia Inc. d/b/a Mountain State Blue Cross Blue Shield (MSBCBS) is a West Virginia nonprofit health services corporation.

Acquisitions and Dispositions

In August 2006, HVHC Inc. (HVHC), a wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, purchased all the issued and outstanding stock of ECCA Holdings Corporation, the parent corporation of Eye Care Centers of America, Inc. (ECCA), a San Antonio, Texas-based retail optical chain for $317,152 (equity value). The purchase was financed with a capital contribution from Highmark of $225,000 and proceeds of borrowings of $160,000. At the time of acquisition, ECCA had outstanding debt of $314,553.

The results of ECCA were included in the combined financial statements from the date of acquisition. In accordance with the purchase method of accounting, the purchase price was allocated to assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair value as follows:

Goodwill	$ 523,301
Other intangible assets	7,658
Other assets	162,492
Total assets acquired	693,451
Debt	(314,553)
Other liabilities	(61,746)
Total liabilities assumed	(376,299)
Net assets acquired	$ 317,152

The $7,658 in other intangible assets acquired consisted of trade names with useful lives of 25 years.

In July 2006, Highmark sold its 48.38% interest in Medmark Holdings Inc. for $51,226 and realized a gain of $37,431. Medmark Holdings Inc. owns all the issued and outstanding stock of Medmark Inc. (Medmark), a specialty pharmacy distribution company. The Corporation may be entitled to additional consideration, subject to Medmark meeting certain financial targets measured through March 2007.

In June 2006, HM Life Insurance Company (HM Life), an indirectly wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, entered into an Assumption Reinsurance Agreement (reinsurance agreement) with Fort Dearborn Life Insurance Company (FDL) for approximately $16,000. In this reinsurance agreement, HM Life ceded all of its life and disability business to FDL on August 1, 2006. This transaction resulted in a gain of $4,976, recognized as contracts novated to FDL. In 2006, $4,628 was recognized as a gain on sale of business interests in the statement of operations and the remaining gain of $348 was deferred to 2007 as contracts novate to FDL.

In August 2005, Highmark acquired all the issued and outstanding stock of Trigon Health and Life Insurance Company, subsequently renamed HM Health Insurance Company (HM Health), for $16,249. HM Health is a Pennsylvania domestic insurance company licensed to underwrite coverage in 47 jurisdictions. Acquired assets consisted of cash equivalents and debt securities of $13,236, other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives relating to insurance licenses of $2,850 and interest and other receivables of $299, offset by liabilities assumed of $136.

In April 2005, Highmark purchased $15,000 of stock and a $15,000 surplus note of a nonprofit HMO, HMO of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Inc., d/b/a First Priority Health (FPH); and purchased a minority (40.1%) interest in a for-profit life insurance company, First Priority Life Insurance Company, Inc. (FPLIC), for $4,029. These companies offer, or will offer health insurance and related products and services to customers in BCNEPA's service area of northeastern Pennsylvania. The FPH transaction resulted in recognition of $4,875 in goodwill. The surplus note and goodwill are recorded with the FPH equity investment in affiliates on the combined balance sheets. The unpaid principal amount of this surplus note and an additional $820 in FPH surplus notes bear interest at an annual rate of 6.50%. Interest is payable annually after FPH and FPLIC achieve a combined health RBC percentage of at least 700% for six consecutive calendar quarters. Surplus notes issued before 2006 may be redeemed, in whole or in part, at the option of the issuer after July 1, 2015. The $500 surplus note issued in 2006 is due July 1, 2016 but may be redeemed at any time at the option of the issuer. No payments on any of the surplus notes may be made without the approval of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department.

In February 2005, HVHC acquired all the issued and outstanding stock of Viva Optique, Inc. (Viva), a privately held New Jersey corporation engaged in the design and international distribution of eyewear and sunglasses for $145,125. The purchase was financed with a capital contribution from Highmark of $100,000 and proceeds of $45,000 from borrowings under an outstanding credit agreement. The results of operations of Viva were included in the combined financial statements from the date of acquisition.

In accordance with the purchase method of accounting, the purchase price was allocated to assets acquired and liabilities assumed, which included proceeds from borrowings under the outstanding credit agreement, based on their estimated fair value as follows:

Goodwill	$	90,865
Other intangible assets		33,900
Other assets		69,222
Total assets acquired		193,987
Liabilities assumed		(93,862)
Net assets acquired	$	100,125

The $33,900 in acquired other intangible assets consisted of exclusive contracts with licensors, distribution relationships, a patent license agreement, trademarks and non-compete agreements. These other intangible assets have estimated lives that vary from three to 15 years.

Basis of Financial Presentation
The combined financial statements include the accounts of Highmark and its wholly and majority-owned subsidiaries (collectively Consolidated Highmark) and MSBCBS and its wholly owned subsidiary (collectively Consolidated MSBCBS).

As the sole corporate member of MSBCBS, Highmark has the authority to elect all of the members of the Board of Directors of MSBCBS. In accordance with its articles of incorporation, no part of the funds, income or net earnings of MSBCBS may inure to the benefit of Highmark, and in the event of dissolution or winding up of its affairs, MSBCBS's assets are required to be distributed in the manner provided for nonprofit corporations by West Virginia or the rules and regulations of the Offices of the Insurance Commissioner of West Virginia. Creditors of Highmark may not anticipate that any of the assets or revenues of MSBCBS are or will be available to pay their claims, either currently or at any time in the future.

Consolidated Highmark and Consolidated MSBCBS are herein referred to as the Corporation. The combined financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated from the combined financial statements.

The Corporation uses the equity method of accounting for 50% or less owned affiliates and those affiliates for which the Corporation does not hold a controlling financial interest but may influence operating or financial decisions. The Corporation's share of affiliate net results is included in other revenue on the combined statements of operations.

The financial position and results of operations of Viva's foreign subsidiaries are measured using local currency as the functional currency. Assets and liabilities are translated at current exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Revenue and expenses are translated using an average exchange rate during the year. Translation gains and losses are recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income.

New Accounting Pronouncements
In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 158, Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans. SFAS No. 158 requires recognition of the funded status of defined benefit pension and other postretirement plans as an asset (over-funded) or liability (under-funded) in its balance sheet, and to recognize changes in that funded status in the year in which the changes occur through other comprehensive income. SFAS No. 158 also requires measurement as of the date of its year-end statement of financial position. The Corporation is required to adopt SFAS No. 158 for its fiscal year ending December 31, 2007. Based on currently available actuarial data, the estimated financial impact of SFAS No. 158 is a reduction to reserves of approximately $96,200, net of deferred income tax.

In June 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation (FIN) No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, an Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109. FIN No. 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes by defining criteria that a tax position on an individual matter must meet before that position is recognized in the financial statements. Additionally, FIN No. 48 provides guidance on measurement, classification, interest and penalties, disclosures and transition. FIN No. 48 became effective on January 1, 2007. The impact of adopting FIN No. 48 is currently being analyzed and at this time the impact is estimated to be an increase to reserves of between $120,000 and $150,000.

Use of Estimates
The preparation of the Corporation's combined financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Reclassifications
Certain 2005 amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2006 financial statement presentation including $488,268 at December 31, 2005 in incurred but not reported (IBNR) liabilities for certain non-risk administrative arrangements.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
The Corporation considers all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents for purposes of the combined financial statements. The carrying amount approximates fair value due to the short-term maturity of these financial instruments.

Investments
All debt securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and are carried at fair value (based on quoted or estimated market prices) and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income, net of applicable income taxes. Premiums and discounts are amortized using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are based on amortized cost. Marketable equity securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and carried at fair value (based on quoted market prices) and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income, net of applicable income taxes. Realized gains and losses are based on cost (specific identification method).

The Corporation monitors its investment portfolio for unrealized losses that appear to be other-than-temporary. The Corporation performs a detailed review of these securities to determine the underlying cause of the unrealized loss and whether the security is impaired. At the time a security is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the Corporation reduces the book value of the security to the current market value and records a realized loss in the combined statements of operations. Any subsequent increase in the security's market value is reported as an unrealized gain.

Other investments as shown on the combined balance sheets include nonqualified retirement plan assets, which are carried at estimated fair value, investments in limited partnerships, which are accounted for under the equity method, and notes receivable, which are carried at net realizable value. The Corporation periodically evaluates other investments. At the time an other investment is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the Corporation reduces the book value of the other investment to the current market value and records a realized loss in the combined statements of operations.

The Corporation participates in securities lending transactions through lending agents as transferors of securities for which the lending agents receive on behalf of the Corporation other securities or cash as collateral from the borrowers. The Corporation maintains effective control over the loaned securities and requires collateral as of the transaction date equal to 102% of loaned securities at that date. Collateral received in the form of securities is not recorded in the combined balance sheets as the Corporation does not have the right to sell, pledge or otherwise reinvest the securities collateral. Cash collateral is recorded in the combined balance sheets, with a corresponding liability to reflect the obligation to return the collateral. Loaned securities continue to be carried as investment securities in the combined balance sheets. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the fair value of securities outstanding under securities lending transactions was $553,162 and $4,643, respectively.

The Corporation's assets are invested in a variety of financial instruments. Accordingly, the related values as presented in the combined financial statements are subject to various market fluctuations, which include changes in the interest rate environment, equity markets and general economic conditions.

Accounts Receivable
In the normal course of business, the Corporation grants credit to its customers under various contractual agreements. The Corporation carries its accounts receivable at estimated net realizable value, which reflects the impact of potential credit losses. Trade accounts receivable relate to commercial health, dental and vision businesses. Government program accounts receivable include amounts due for government business, including the Tricare Dental Plan, the Federal Employee Program and the Medicare program.

Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade accounts receivable are limited due to the large number of employer groups that constitute the Corporation's customer base. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, there were no significant concentrations in a single investee or industry.

Reinsurance
In the normal course of business, the Corporation seeks to reduce losses that may arise from risks or occurrences of an unexpected nature that cause unfavorable underwriting results by reinsuring certain levels of risk in various areas of exposure with other insurance enterprises or reinsurers.

The Corporation accounts for reinsurance contracts using the gross reporting method and reports unpaid claim liabilities and unearned premiums ceded to reinsurers separately as an asset for reinsurance recoverables on unpaid losses. Reinsurance recoverables on unpaid losses are estimated and recognized in a manner consistent with the claim liability associated with the reinsured policy. The Corporation also assumes reinsurance risks from other insurance companies. Such assumed reinsurance activity is recorded principally on the basis of reports received from the ceding company.

Pharmacy Rebates Receivable
Pharmacy rebates receivable are carried at estimated net realizable value based on actual prescriptions filled and historical settlement amounts.

Property and Equipment, Net
Property and equipment is carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. Maintenance, repairs and minor improvements are expensed as incurred. Certain costs related to internally developed software or purchased software for internal use are capitalized. Gains or losses on sales or disposals of property and equipment are included in operations. Depreciation is computed under the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives as follows: buildings, seven-40 years; leasehold improvements, lesser of lease term or useful life; Electronic Data Processing (EDP) equipment, three years; office furniture, equipment and purchased software, three-10 years; and capitalized internally developed software, three years.

Property and equipment is reviewed for impairment whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of such assets may not be recoverable. Impairment losses are recognized to the extent the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposal.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, Net
Other intangible assets with definite lives are amortized using the straight-line method over their estimated lives, which range from three to 25 years. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, including goodwill, are not amortized, but are tested for impairment at least annually. If fair value is less than carrying value, an impairment loss is recorded in the combined statements of operations. Management tested goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives for impairment and concluded that no impairment existed at December 31, 2006 and 2005.

Other Assets
Other assets includes prepaid expenses, vision business inventory, the cash surrender value of life insurance policies on officers and employees, prepaid benefit plan assets and deferred bond issuance costs.

Vision business inventory consists of eyewear components including frames, lenses and cases, contact lenses and solutions, laboratory supplies and packaging materials and is stated at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined by using the weighted average method or the first-in first-out (FIFO) method.

Claims Outstanding
The liability for claims outstanding is an actuarial estimate based on historical claims paid data modified for current conditions and coverage changes. The methods to determine the estimate of incurred but not reported claims use past experience adjusted for current trends. The methods and assumptions are continually reviewed and any resulting adjustments are included in current operations. Corresponding administrative costs to process unreported claims are estimated and accrued and are included in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

In the ordinary course of business, the Corporation advances operating funds to health care providers. Claims outstanding are reported net of such advances, which were $22,298 and $30,807 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

The Corporation recorded $473,764 and $488,268 in IBNR liabilities for certain non-risk administrative arrangements at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The Corporation will bill and collect these claims from groups. Payments to providers are made at the time the claim is presented for payment. These estimated amounts are included in trade accounts receivable and claims outstanding in the combined balance sheets.

Amounts Held for Others
Amounts held for others includes reserves for refunds and deposits received from groups for non-risk administrative arrangements. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the Corporation held deposits received from groups of $159,230 and $174,671, respectively.

Premium Deficiency Reserves
The Corporation establishes a premium deficiency reserve (PDR) when future claims expense and related maintenance costs are expected to exceed future premiums from contracts in force for a given line of business or product grouping within a contract period. The Corporation evaluates the need for a PDR by grouping policies consistent with the way in which the business is acquired, serviced and measured. Accordingly, the Corporation groups policies based primarily on its designated customer segment groups.

At December 31, 2006, Highmark and Keystone Health Plan West, Inc. (KHPW), a wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, determined that, due to higher than anticipated cost and utilization trends related to several managed care products, establishment of a premium deficiency reserve of $6,662 was necessary. At December 31, 2005, a premium deficiency reserve of $13,472 related primarily to these same managed care products existed.

Revenue Recognition
The Corporation's business consists of both at-risk insurance arrangements and non-risk administrative arrangements. Non-risk administrative arrangements include Administrative Services Contracts (ASC), Administrative Services Only (ASO) and Cost Plus contracts. The administrative fees received under non-risk administrative arrangements are shown as management services revenue and recognized in the period in which related services are performed. Management services revenue also includes fees for management of medical services, claims processing and access to provider networks. Under non-risk administrative arrangements, the customer assumes the risk of funding claims and, as a result, the Corporation does not record premium revenue and claims incurred on non-risk administrative arrangements.

Risk business includes all insurance contracts. Premiums are generally billed in advance of the contractual coverage periods and are included in premium revenue as they are earned during the coverage period. The unearned portion of premiums collected is reflected in the combined balance sheets as unearned subscription revenue. The expenses associated with administering the risk and non-risk business are included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

Medicare Part D
On January 1, 2006, the Corporation began offering prescription drug benefits in accordance with Medicare Part D. Premium revenue includes amounts received from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) and members. The CMS payment is subject to risk sharing through Medicare Part D risk corridor provisions. Risk corridor provisions compare costs included in the Corporation's annual bid to actual prescription drug costs. Variances exceeding certain thresholds may result in additional CMS settlements. Premium revenue is adjusted for estimates related to these risk corridor provisions based upon pharmacy claims experience to date as if the annual contract were to terminate at the end of the reporting period. Receivables or payables are recorded based on the expected settlement.

The CMS payment also includes reimbursement for prescription drug costs under Medicare Part D for reinsurance and low-income cost subsidies for which the Corporation is not at risk. Monthly prospective payments from CMS for reinsurance and low-income cost subsidies are based on assumptions submitted with the annual bid. Premium revenue and claims incurred are not recognized for these subsidies; rather, receipt and payment activity is accumulated at the contract level and net balances are recorded in the combined balance sheet in government programs accounts receivable or other payables and accrued expenses.

Vision Revenue
Vision revenue includes sales from fully integrated eye care services, optical retail stores and the wholesale design and distribution of ophthalmic frames and sunglasses. Revenues are generally recognized when services are completed, upon shipment or delivery of product or during the period in which related services are performed.

Premium Equivalents
Premium equivalents equal incurred claims under non-risk administrative arrangements. The Corporation would have recorded the amount of these incurred claims as additional premiums if these arrangements had been written as insured business. Premium equivalents for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 were as follows:

	2006	2005
Premium revenue and management services revenue	$ 10,118,569	$ 9,225,073
Premium equivalents	5,347,157	5,061,915
Total premium and premium equivalents	$ 15,465,726	$ 14,286,988

Comprehensive Income
Comprehensive income is net income plus certain other items, including unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities, interest rate swaps, foreign currency translation adjustments and additional minimum pension liabilities recorded directly to reserves.

Income Taxes
Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to federal income taxes, although they remain tax-exempt entities for state tax purposes. Highmark and MSBCBS file separate consolidated federal income tax returns with their respective wholly owned subsidiaries. Only the non-insurance and HMO subsidiaries of Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to state income taxes. Insurance subsidiaries, but not the HMOs, are generally subject to state premium taxes.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities, and are measured using tax rates and laws that are expected to be in effect when the difference is reversed. The Corporation records a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets when it determines that it is more likely than not that the entire deferred tax asset will not be recognized.

2. Regulation

The Corporation's insurance subsidiaries and affiliates file financial statements with insurance departments in their states of domicile. These financial statements are prepared in accordance with statutory accounting principles prescribed by such regulatory authorities (statutory accounting principles). Prescribed statutory accounting principles include state laws, regulations and general administrative rules, as well as a variety of publications of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC). Permitted statutory accounting practices encompass all accounting practices not prescribed.

Financial statements prepared for state insurance departments in accordance with statutory accounting principles differ from the combined financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. The principal differences are: (1) certain assets, such as accounts receivable aged more than 90 days, office furniture and equipment, nonoperating software, certain advances, intangible assets and prepaid expenses, are excluded from the statutory balance sheet; (2) certain pharmacy rebates receivable are excluded from the statutory balance sheet based on the timing of billing and collection activities; (3) debt securities are carried in the statutory financial statements at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, not fair value as required under GAAP; (4) equity income or loss of subsidiaries is recorded directly to reserves under statutory accounting principles rather than in results from operations as required under GAAP; (5) the liability for qualified pension and other postretirement benefits is limited to vested benefits under statutory accounting principles; and (6) the recognition of deferred tax assets and goodwill is limited for statutory reporting purposes.

As a result of the foregoing, statutory reserves at December 31, 2006 and 2005 and statutory net income for the years then ended of Highmark, which excludes MSBCBS, and MSBCBS were as follows:

	2006	2005
Highmark
Statutory reserves	$ 3,206,817	$ 2,844,615
Statutory net income	$ 132,370	$ 157,092
MSBCBS
Statutory reserves	$ 122,201	$ 99,149
Statutory net income	$ 21,181	$ 24,385

Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and affiliates and MSBCBS are subject to minimum Risk-Based Capital (RBC) requirements that were developed by the NAIC and adopted by various state legislatures. The formula for determining the amount of RBC specifies various weighting factors that are applied to financial balances and various levels of activity based on the perceived degree of risk. The RBC ratios of Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and affiliates and MSBCBS are compared to authorized control levels established by the NAIC. Companies below specific ratio thresholds may require specific corrective action. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and affiliates, and MSBCBS exceeded their respective minimum RBC requirements.

In February 2005, the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner issued a Determination and Order that an appropriate sufficient operating surplus range for Highmark is 550% - 750% of the health RBC ratio or the Pennsylvania Insurance Department's consolidated risk factor ratio, whichever is lower. As long as Highmark operates above the 550% ratio, Highmark will not be permitted to include a risk and contingency factor in its filed premium rates. If Highmark's ratio exceeds 750%, Highmark will be required to justify its surplus level and could be required to submit a plan to bring its surplus within the designated appropriate sufficient operating surplus range. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, Highmark's Health RBC ratios were within the appropriate sufficient operating surplus range of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department.

In February 2005, Highmark entered into a six-year Community Health Reinvestment Agreement with the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, which established Highmark's annual Community Health Reinvestment (CHR) commitment based on certain Pennsylvania direct written health premiums and quantified Highmark's minimum social mission commitment at approximately $94,500 and $90,000 for 2006 and 2005, respectively. A portion of the CHR is directed by Pennsylvania and has been dedicated to programs for uninsured persons of low income. The remaining portion of the CHR is directed by Highmark, subject to the approval of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, and is dedicated to permitted community endeavors. The Pennsylvania-directed net expense was $62,028 and $53,105 in 2006 and 2005, respectively, and was recorded in net operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. These amounts were calculated based on certain Pennsylvania direct written health premiums and are net of certain credits. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, settlement amounts due from Pennsylvania of $4,942 and $842, respectively, were recorded in other accounts receivable in the combined balance sheets. The Highmark-directed CHR obligation was reported in the combined statements of operations in 2006 and 2005 as incurred.

3. Investments

Total temporarily impaired securities	$1,487,429	$(30,527)	$306,524	$ (7,624)	$1,793,953	$(38,151)

At December 31, 2006, the Corporation held debt securities with gross unrealized losses of $17,909. Management has evaluated the unrealized losses in the debt securities and determined that they are due primarily to normal fluctuations in interest rates and not attributable to credit risk factors. For debt securities, losses in market values are viewed as temporary if the debt security can be and is intended to be held to maturity, and it is reasonable to assume that the issuer will be able to service the debt, both as to interest and principal. The Corporation believes that the value of its debt securities will be realized and that the unrealized losses do not represent an other-than-temporary impairment at December 31, 2006.

At December 31, 2006, the Corporation held equity securities with gross unrealized losses of $4,774. Management reviews marketable equity securities in which fair value falls below cost. In determining whether a marketable equity security is other-than-temporarily impaired, management considers the magnitude of the unrealized loss, the duration, whether the loss is market driven or company specific and the potential for recovery. Unrealized losses on marketable equity securities are generally of low magnitude. The Corporation believes that recovery in market value will occur within a relatively short time and does not consider its equity securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired.

The amortized cost and fair value of available-for-sale debt securities at December 31, 2006 are shown below by contractual maturity. Expected maturities could differ from contractual maturities as borrowers may have the right to call or prepay obligations with or without call or prepayment penalties.

	Amortized Cost	Fair Value
Due within one year or less	$ 193,256	$ 192,476
Due after one year through five years	962,478	964,981
Due after five years through ten years	639,863	640,383
Due after ten years	390,457	408,475
Mortgage- and asset-backed securities and CMOs	531,328	527,363
Total	$ 2,717,382	$ 2,733,678

Gross realized gains on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2006 and 2005 were $59,261 and $80,065, respectively. Gross realized losses on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2006 and 2005 were $31,908 and $26,501, respectively. The Corporation recognized losses for other-than-temporary impairment in the amounts of $6,084 in 2006 and $10,524 in 2005, which were included in net realized gain on investments in the combined statements of operations.

The following is a summary of gross realized gains (losses) on investments for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005:

	2006	2005
Debt securities
Gross realized gains	$ 4,048	$ 8,316

Certain debt securities are restricted for use by the Corporation and are on deposit with various regulatory agencies or maintained in a trust arrangement as required by BCBSA. In 2005, restricted debt securities held as collateral were released upon termination of a revolving credit agreement. These arrangements, in the aggregate, amounted to $331,707 and $486,233 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

In August 2000, the Corporation made a loan in the amount of $125,000 (the WPAHS Loan) to West Penn Allegheny Health System, Inc. (WPAHS). The WPAHS Loan is collateralized by liens on, and security interests in, substantially all the real property and other assets of WPAHS and certain of its affiliates. The outstanding principal balance of the WPAHS Loan at December 31, 2006 and 2005 was $120,000 and $125,000, respectively. The principal of the WPAHS Loan is payable in semi-annual installments, with final payment due August 15, 2030. The unpaid principal amount of the WPAHS Loan bears interest at an annual rate of 9.00% at December 31, 2006. The Corporation's right to payment on the WPAHS Loan is contractually subordinated to the rights of certain other creditors of WPAHS and its affiliates upon the occurrence of certain events. The WPAHS Loan, net of an impairment allowance, was included in other investments in the combined balance sheets.

4. Investments in Affiliates

The following is a summary of the operations and financia l position of unconsolidated affiliates at and for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005:

	2006	2005

Expenses	(1,566,208)	(1,462,826)
Net income	$ 65,687	$ 11,490
The Corporation's proportionate share of net income	$ 31,300	$ 1,160
Financial position
Total assets	$ 591,855	$ 476,515
Claims outstanding	(201,328)	(129,411)
Other liabilities	(168,255)	(148,520)
Equity	$ 222,272	$ 198,584
The Corporation's proportionate share of equity	$ 125,055	$ 107,704

The Corporation records its proportionate share of net income in affiliates in other revenue in the combined statements of operations.

5. Property and Equipment, Net

Property and equipment at December 31, 2006 and 2005 was comprised of the following:

	2006	2005
Land, buildings and leasehold improvements	$ 332,449	$ 290,636
EDP equipment	157,932	161,653
Office furniture, equipment and purchased software	242,050	184,559
Capitalized internally developed software	104,788	93,833
	837,219	730,681
Less accumulated depreciation and amortization	(481,534)	(433,699)
Property and equipment, net	$ 355,685	$ 296,982

Depreciation and amortization expense related to property and equipment amounted to $84,424 and $76,102 for 2006 and 2005, respectively.

6. Claims Outstanding

Activity in the liability for claims outstanding for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 was as follows:

	2006	2005
Claims outstanding at January 1	$ 1,622,474	$ 1,479,254
Reinsurance recoverables	(190,661)	(163,100)

Change in advances to providers	8,509	(5,726)
Change in non-risk IBNR	(14,504)	(2,733)
Net balance at December 31	1,317,543	1,431,813
Reinsurance recoverables	182,442	190,661
Claims outstanding at December 31	$ 1,499,985	$ 1,622,474

Premium equivalents for ASC and cost plus business were $5,333,640 and $5,044,308 in 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Negative amounts reported for incurred claims related to prior years resulted from claims being settled for amounts less than originally estimated. This experience was primarily attributable to actual claim cost experience more favorable than that assumed at the time the liability was estimated due to low utilization.

Management believes that its estimates for claims outstanding are adequate to satisfy its ultimate claim liability. However, these estimates are inherently subject to a number of highly variable circumstances. Consequently, the actual results could differ materially from the amount recorded in the combined financial statements.

7. Employee Benefit Plans

The Corporation covers certain employees through two non-contributory defined benefit pension plans (the pension plans). The Highmark Retirement Plan (Highmark pension plan) covers all eligible Highmark employees meeting certain age and service requirements and certain employees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The Non-Contributory Retirement Program for Certain Employees of Highmark West Virginia Inc. (MSBCBS pension plan) covers all full-time MSBCBS employees meeting certain age and service requirements.

The Corporation's policy is to fund its pension plans according to the limits specified by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended. From time to time, the Corporation may contribute additional amounts to the pension plans as it deems appropriate, subject to funding limitations. During 2007, the Corporation expects to contribute between $55,000 and $60,000 to the pension plans for the 2007 plan year depending on completion of the 2007 actuarial valuation.

Highmark and MSBCBS each also sponsors a defined benefit other postretirement plan (collectively the other postretirement plans). Highmark and MSBCBS use Voluntary Employees' Beneficiary Association (VEBA) trusts in addition to a MSBCBS 401(h) account to fund their respective other postretirement plans. The other postretirement plans provide various postretirement health and life insurance benefits to their respective retirees and certain retirees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates.

The Corporation's contributions for other postretirement coverage vary based on age and length of service at retirement. VEBA trust funding contributions are determined using Entry Age Actuarial Cost as the acceptable actuarial method. The Corporation expects to contribute $15,000 to Highmark's VEBA trust and $1,000 to MSBCBS's 401(h) account in 2007 to fund other postretirement plan benefits for the 2007 plan year depending on completion of the 2007 actuarial valuation.

In 2006, the Highmark other postretirement plan was amended to offer a prescription drug program, which resulted in a decrease to the benefit obligation of approximately $13,300 at December 31, 2006.

The Corporation uses a measurement date of December 31, 2006 for its employee benefit plans.

The funded status of the pension plans and other postretirement plans of the Corporation and amounts recognized in the combined balance sheets were as follows:

	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits

The pension plans' accumulated benefit obligation at December 31, 2006 and 2005 was $826,403 and $812,957, respectively.

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the Highmark pension plan were $1,098,828, $790,345 and $860,948, respectively, at December 31, 2006 and $1,100,499, $778,682 and $723,198, respectively, at December 31, 2005.

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the MSBCBS pension plan were $46,649, $36,058 and $43,677, respectively, at December 31, 2006 and $43,941, $34,275 and $35,260, respectively, at December 31, 2005.

The assumptions used in the measurement of the Corporation's benefit obligations were as follows:

The expected return on pension plan assets is developed using inflation expectations and risk factors to arrive at a long-term nominal expected return for each asset class. The nominal expected return for each asset class is then weighted based on the target asset allocation to develop the expected long-term rate of return on plan assets. The expected return on other postretirement plan assets is developed based on historical returns and the future expectations for returns for each asset class as well as the asset allocation of the other postretirement plan assets.

For measurement purposes at December 31, 2006, the assumed annual rate of increase in the per capita costs of covered health care benefits for the other postretirement plans is 9% in 2007, gradually decreasing to 5% by the year 2015, for the Highmark other postretirement plan, and 11% in 2007, gradually decreasing to 5% by the year 2011, for the MSBCBS other postretirement plan.

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the other postretirement plans. At December 31, 2006, a one-percentage-point change in assumed health care cost trend rates would have the following effects:

	One-Percentage-Point Increase	One-Percentage-Point Decrease
Effect on total of service and interest cost components	$ 3,302	$ (2,674)
Effect on other postretirement benefit plan obligations	$ 32,028	$ (27,217)

Estimated benefit payments, which reflect future service as appropriate, are expected to be paid in the following years:

	Pension Benefits	Other Postretirement Benefits
2007	$ 23,278	$ 8,864
2008	25,277	9,320
2009	28,460	10,113
2010	32,084	10,994
2011	36,786	11,866
2012-2016	269,506	69,457

The asset allocation for the pension plans at December 31, 2006 and 2005, by asset category, was as follows:

	2006	2005
Pension plan assets
Equity securities	55%	56%
Debt securities	37%	39%
Cash and cash equivalents	8%	5%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the Highmark pension plan is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, given the asset mix, credit quality and diversification guidelines and restrictions approved by the Investment Committee of the Board of Directors of Highmark. The Highmark pension plan asset allocation is reviewed quarterly to determine whether the portfolio mix is within an acceptable range of the target allocation. Target asset allocations are based on asset and liability studies with the goal to enhance the expected return of the pension portfolio while maintaining acceptable levels of risk. The target asset allocation for the portfolio is 56% equity and 44% debt securities, including cash equivalents.

The MSBCBS pension plan and 401(h) are administered by the BCBSA's National Employee Benefits Association (NEBA). NEBA maintains the National Retirement Trust for MSBCBS's pension and other postretirement plan assets. Investments are made for the sole interest of the participants and beneficiaries of the programs participating in the National Retirement Trust.

The asset allocation for the other postretirement plans at December 31, 2006 and 2005, by asset category, was as follows:

	2006	2005
Other postretirement plan assets
Equity securities	40%	54%
Debt securities	27%	37%
Cash and cash equivalents	33%	9%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the other postretirement plans is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, credit quality, diversification and adequate liquidity. Excluding cash and cash equivalents, the investment goal is to outperform an unmanaged hybrid index, 60% of which is the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index and 40% of which is the Lehman Brothers Aggregate Bond Index. The performance of the portfolio is reviewed periodically to determine the most effective structure of the assets and investment managers to achieve these objectives.

The Corporation sponsors defined contribution savings plans (the savings plans) covering substantially all of its employees and employees of certain participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The savings plans allow participating employees to contribute a percentage of their annual salary, subject to current Internal Revenue Service (IRS) limitations. Employee contributions are matched by the Corporation at various percentages. The Corporation's contributions to the savings plans were $15,412 and $13,563 in 2006 and 2005, respectively.

The Corporation also sponsors deferred compensation plans for certain eligible employees. Participating employees may contribute a certain amount of their annual compensation to these plans. The Corporation matches a portion of these employee deferrals and pays interest on the deferrals at various rates. The Corporation made matching contributions to the deferred compensation plans of $384 and $369 in 2006 and 2005, respectively. Deferred compensation plan liabilities of $41,286 and $36,497 were recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

The Corporation also sponsors unfunded nonqualified supplemental retirement plans (the supplemental retirement plans) covering certain eligible employees. The weighted-average assumptions used in the measurement of the supplemental retirement plans benefit obligation and net periodic benefit cost are consistent with the assumptions used in the measurement of pension plan benefits. As a result of Highmark's supplemental retirement plan accumulated benefit obligation exceeding the liability recognized in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2006 and 2005, the Corporation recorded additional minimum pension liabilities of $6,958 and $12,550, respectively, in other payables and accrued expenses, intangible assets of $3,434 and $3,843, respectively, and net unrealized losses in accumulated other comprehensive income of $2,291 and $5,660, respectively. The supplemental retirement plan liabilities, including the additional minimum pension liability, recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2006 and 2005 were $34,326 and $35,413, respectively.

8. Debt

Debt at December 31, 2006 and 2005 consisted of the following:

	2006	2005
Unsecured Senior Notes due August 15, 2013, with interest payable semi-annually at an interest rate of 6.80%, net of an unamortized discount and a fair value adjustment of $5,942 in 2006 and $5,587 in 2005.	$ 374,433	$ 374,348
Senior Subordinated Notes due February 15, 2015, with interest payable semi-annually at an interest rate of 10.75%, net of an unamortized discount of $1,865 in 2006.	150,135	-
Senior secured term loan due August 1, 2013, with interest payable quarterly at a varying rate of interest (7.75% at December 31, 2006, which was based on average LIBOR plus 0.65%), collateralized by substantially all assets of HVHC, excluding ECCA.	154,613	-
Senior secured term loan due March 1, 2012, with interest payable at a varying interest rate (8.00% at December 31, 2006, which was based on average LIBOR plus 0.65%), collateralized by substantially all assets of ECCA.	137,112	-
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $35,000 with interest payable monthly at a varying rate of interest (5.65% at December 31, 2006, which was based on a one-month LIBOR). The facility expires on May 29, 2007.	35,000	-
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $125,000. This facility was terminated in June 2006.	-	125,000
Credit agreement with maximum available for draw of $100,000. This credit agreement was repaid with proceeds from the term loan due in 2013 and terminated in August 2006.	-	72,500
Note payable with monthly principal and interest payments of $1,077 at an interest rate of 6.84% due through August 1, 2008 (net of an unamortized discount of $249 in 2006 and $410 in 2005), collateralized by an office tower complex and assignment of rents.	19,089	30,108
Promissory note payable at an annual rate of interest of 4.71% due July 2007.	305	-
Mortgage payable with monthly principal and interest payments of $2 at an interest rate of 7.00% due through November 1, 2028.	293	299
Capital leases payable at varying amounts of interest ranging from 3.50% to 47.56% due through 2017.	10,696	9,462
Total	$ 881,676	$ 611,717

A summary of the scheduled principal repayment on notes payable is as follows:

Year ending December 31
2007	$ 60,770
2008	12,324
2009	4,231
2010	3,942
2011	3,758
Thereafter	796,651
	$ 881,676

The Corporation is party to a $15,000 revolving credit agreement which expires on February 10, 2008. Amounts outstanding under this agreement bear interest at prevailing interest rates. There were no amounts outstanding under this agreement at December 31, 2006 and 2005.

The Corporation is party to a $30,000 revolving credit facility which expires on August 1, 2011. Amounts outstanding under this agreement bear interest at prevailing interest rates. There were no amounts outstanding under this credit facility at December 31, 2006.

The Corporation is party to a $25,000 revolving credit facility which expires on March 1, 2010. Amounts outstanding under this agreement bear interest at prevailing interest rates. There were no amounts outstanding under this credit facility at December 31, 2006.

All debt agreements referred to above contain covenants, including covenants relating to such matters as indebtedness, minimum net worth and financial ratings. The Corporation was in compliance with all debt covenants at December 31, 2006 and 2005.

The Corporation is party to multiple interest rate swap agreements, which meet the criteria of fair value hedges, with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the counterparties) pursuant to which it has synthetically converted $125,000 of its unsecured fixed rate Senior Notes (the Highmark Notes) to variable notes through maturity. The interest rate swap agreements expire on August 15, 2013 and provide for the Corporation and the counterparties to exchange, on a semi-annual basis, the difference between the fixed rate (6.80%) and the variable rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed-upon notional principal amount of $125,000. The Corporation paid $328 to the counterparties in 2006 and received $794 from the counterparties in 2005 for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. These amounts were included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. At December 31, 2006 and 2005, the Corporation recorded a net liability of $5,375 and $4,935, respectively, under the interest rate swap agreements, which was offset by a fair market value adjustment to the Highmark Notes.

The Corporation is party to two interest rate swap agreements, which are designated as cash flow hedges, with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the counterparties) pursuant to which it has synthetically converted $77,306 of the variable rate term loan due in 2013 to a fixed rate through maturity. The notional amounts of the interest rate swap agreements correspond to principal payments of the variable rate term loan due in 2013. The interest rate swap agreements provide for the Corporation and the counterparties to exchange, on a quarterly basis, the difference between the variance rate interest amounts and the fixed rate (7.43%) interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed-upon notional principal amount of $77,306 at December 31, 2006. During 2006, the Corporation paid $54 to the counterparties for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements.

Until March 12, 2006, the Corporation was party to an interest rate swap agreement, which met the criteria of a cash flow hedge, with a highly rated, major U.S. financial institution (the counterparty) in order to limit its exposure to cash flow risks associated with the interest payments on the outstanding principal of a variable rate revolving credit facility of $125,000. During 2006 and 2005, the Corporation paid $355 and $3,073, respectively, to the counterparty for settlements under the interest rate swap agreement. These amounts were included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

As a result of these interest rate swap agreements, the Corporation is subject to interest rate risk and default risk (counterparty risk). Only cash flows related to the differential in the fixed interest rates and the variable interest rates as applied to the notional amounts of the interest rate swaps are subject to interest rate risk over the term of the swap agreements. The notional amounts do not represent the amounts at risk; rather, they are used only as the basis for calculating the amounts due under the interest rate swap agreements.

9. Reinsurance

The Corporation is party to various reinsurance agreements. Reinsurance contracts do not relieve the Corporation from its obligations to policyholders. Failure of reinsurers to honor their obligations could result in losses to the Corporation; consequently, allowances are established for estimated uncollectible amounts. The Corporation evaluates the financial condition of its reinsurers and monitors concentrations of credit risk to minimize its exposure to significant losses from reinsurer insolvencies. Reinsurance recoveries amounted to $25,250 in 2006 and $96,134 in 2005.

The effect of reinsurance on premium revenue for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 was as follows:

	2006	2005
Direct business	$ 9,521,380	$ 8,604,371
Assumed business	109,744	93,721
Ceded business	(197,737)	(159,080)
Premium revenue	$ 9,433,387	$ 8,539,012

10. Income Taxes

The components of the income tax provision for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 were as follows:

	2006	2005
Federal
Current	$ 205,603	$ 168,856
Deferred	(8,016)	(5,353)
	197,587	163,503

Total income tax provision	$ 215,085	$ 172,759

The components of deferred income taxes at December 31, 2006 and 2005 were as follows:

	2006	2005
Deferred tax assets
Pension and other postretirement benefits	$ 72,363	$ 88,407
Accrued expenses	90,000	69,940
Minimum tax credit carryforwards	35,658	31,284
Net operating loss carryforwards	14,891	29,692
Allowance for doubtful accounts	16,964	20,904
Hospital grants	21,787	17,018
Property and equipment	7,607	-
Investment reserves	7,425	12,189
Other	27,735	29,791
Total deferred tax asset	294,430	299,225
Less valuation allowance	(46,799)	(58,458)
Total deferred tax assets net of valuation allowance	247,631	240,767
Deferred tax liabilities
Net unrealized gains on securities	131,739	96,164
Property and equipment	-	6,915
Other	3,002	10,020
Total deferred tax liabilities	134,741	113,099
Deferred income taxes, net	$ 112,890	$ 127,668

In addition to the income tax provision, the deferred tax asset decreased $35,763 in 2006 and increased $13,802 in 2005 as a result of the tax effect of the changes in foreign currency translation adjustments, additional minimum pension liability adjustments and the net unrealized gain or loss on available-for-sale securities. This change in tax effect is allocated directly to accumulated other comprehensive income, a component of reserves.

The valuation allowance is recognized primarily to reflect the uncertainty surrounding the realizability of alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards and state net operating loss carryforwards. The realization of net deferred tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future periods. The amount of deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could change if estimates of future taxable income change.

At December 31, 2006, the Corporation had alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards related to MSBCBS of $34,043 available to offset future taxes. These credits do not expire. Utilization of the alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards will not take place until such time as MSBCBS ceases to be in an alternative minimum tax position or a change in the tax law occurs. The Corporation recognized a valuation allowance due to the uncertainty of realizing a tax benefit for the alternative minimum tax credits and because the lower alternative minimum tax rate is expected to apply when net deductible temporary differences reverse.

At December 31, 2006, various subsidiaries of Highmark have state net operating loss carryforwards totaling $292,264 that expire between 2007 and 2026 and are available to offset the future state taxable income of the subsidiary that generated the loss carryforward. The utilization of the state net operating loss carryforwards is subject to certain limitations; therefore, the Corporation recognized a valuation allowance of $12,970.

A reconciliation of income tax expense recorded in the combined statements of operations and amounts computed at the statutory federal rate for the years ended December 31, 2006 and 2005 was as follows:

	2006	2005
Income taxes at statutory rate	35.0 %	35.0 %
State taxes, net of federal benefit	1.6 %	1.1 %
Other	(1.5) %	(2.5) %
Effective tax rate	35.1 %	33.6 %

The Corporation intends to indefinitely reinvest undistributed earnings of certain foreign subsidiaries in operations outside the U.S. Undistributed earnings of these foreign subsidiaries at December 31, 2006 amounted to $15,836. Accordingly, a provision for deferred income taxes was not recorded. If management did not intend for these earnings to be permanently reinvested, a U.S. deferred tax liability of $5,543 would have been recognized. The Corporation provides for the U.S. and additional non-U.S. taxes on earnings anticipated by management to be repatriated from non-U.S.-based subsidiaries.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 (the Act) made all Blue Cross and Blue Shield organizations subject to federal income tax as of January 1, 1987. The Act included certain tax benefits designed to ease the burden of transition to taxable status. One transition benefit was a tax basis step-up in all assets at January 1, 1987 to fair market value. These assets include subscriber and provider relationships as well as assembled workforce. The IRS and the Corporation have been unable to agree on the value and subsequent deductions associated with these intangible assets of the Corporation. As a result, the Corporation has filed a suit in the U.S. Court of Claims. Because of the uncertainty surrounding this issue, the Corporation has not recorded any income tax benefits related to the tax basis step-up. An unfavorable result in this matter could require significant future cash expenditures by the Corporation but should have minimal, if any, impact on the combined financial statements, as the amount of the tax-effected disallowance and interest have been fully reserved. The resolution of this matter may entail efforts which could extend beyond 2007.

11. Leases

Several noncancellable operating leases, primarily for EDP equipment, software and office space, were in effect at December 31, 2006. Rental expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Aggregate future rental commitments for all operating leases having initial or remaining noncancellable lease terms in excess of one year with commitments in one or more of the next five years and thereafter are shown in the following table:

Year ending December 31
2007	$ 82,552
2008	56,107
2009	46,499
2010	34,442
2011	25,183
Thereafter	36,621
	$ 281,404

Total rental expense was $52,983 and $47,416 in 2006 and 2005, respectively.

12. Medicare Claims Processing

The Corporation operates as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary and a Medicare Part B carrier in Pennsylvania and began operating as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary in Maryland and the District of Columbia on October 1, 2005. In 2006 and 2005, the Corporation processed claims of $14,504,221 and $10,793,897, respectively, on behalf of the Medicare Part A and Part B programs (Medicare program). Medicare claims were paid directly from the Medicare trust fund and were not included in the combined statements of operations. Reimbursement of administrative expenses related to the Medicare program of $78,427 and $75,878 in 2006 and 2005, respectively, were recorded as a reduction of operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. Claims systems and processes of the Medicare program are subject to audits conducted by CMS and by the Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Inspector General.

13. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The methods and assumptions used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate that value are summarized as follows. The fair values of investment securities and interest rate swaps are estimated based on quoted market prices of similar securities. The fair values of notes receivable, debt and unrecognized financial instruments are determined by discounting scheduled cash flows through maturity using individual estimated market rates. The Corporation's investment securities, which are carried at fair values of $3,789,340 and $3,541,507 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively, are summarized in Note 3. The carrying amounts of cash equivalents approximate fair value because of their short-term nature.

The estimated fair value of financial instruments with estimated fair values that differ from their carrying values are summarized as follows:

	2006		2005
	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value
Notes receivable	$ 104,541	$ 103,330	$ 108,452	$ 107,410
Surplus notes receivable	15,820	17,935	15,320	18,854
Debt	881,676	900,316	611,717	639,552
Unrecognized commitments to extend credit (Note 16)	119,070	110,000	207,589	195,753

14. Contingencies

Highmark and MSBCBS are defendants in a class action lawsuit brought by physicians, together with state medical societies and other professional organizations, against the BCBSA and various Blue Cross and Blue Shield licensees alleging intentional delay in payment, non-payment and underpayment to providers. Highmark is also a defendant in a class action lawsuit brought on similar allegations by chiropractors and other professional providers against the BCBSA and several Blue Plans. In addition, Highmark, along with Keystone Health Plan Central, Inc. (KHPC) and Capital Blue Cross, is a defendant in a class action lawsuit brought by a provider in the KHPC network alleging conspiracy among the defendants to intentionally underpay providers. In December 2006, this lawsuit was certified as a class action. MSBCBS is a defendant in a lawsuit brought in the state courts of West Virginia on behalf of a class of health care providers alleging that MSBCBS engaged in behaviors similar to those alleged in the preceding cases. The Corporation is unable to predict the outcome of these matters and, although the Corporation's financial statements contain a provision for potential liability, an unfavorable outcome in these matters could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

Highmark is a defendant in a class action lawsuit alleging violation of the Pennsylvania Nonprofit Corporation Law and breach of subscriber contracts by reason of its maintenance of allegedly "excessive" surplus. Based on a decision of the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania (Commonwealth Court) in a similar case filed against IBC, the trial court dismissed this action, which dismissal was affirmed by the Commonwealth Court. The Commonwealth Court's decision has been appealed to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, which has stayed the matter pending disposition of the IBC case. In November 2006, the Supreme Court reversed the Commonwealth Court in the IBC case and remanded it to the Commonwealth Court for further consideration. The Supreme Court has taken no further action with regard to the lawsuit against Highmark. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the claims raised in this matter. However, it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss, given the current status of the matter. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

In December 1996, certain parties filed a petition in the Commonwealth Court for review of a November 1996 Order of the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner related to the consolidation of Medical Services Association of Pennsylvania (d/b/a Pennsylvania Blue Shield) and Veritus Inc. (d/b/a Blue Cross of Western Pennsylvania) to form Highmark (Consolidation Order). In May 2006, the Commissioner issued an Adjudication and Order dismissing the challenge to the Consolidation Order. Petitions for review of the May 2006 Adjudication and Order have been filed in the Commonwealth Court. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to this matter. However, it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss, given the current status of the matter. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the Corporation.

The Corporation is subject to various other contingencies, including legal and compliance actions and proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of its business. Due to the complex nature of these actions and proceedings, the timing of the ultimate resolution of these matters is uncertain. In the opinion of management, based on consultation with legal counsel, adequate provision has been made in the combined financial statements for the liability related to these matters, and the amount of ultimate liability with respect to these contingencies is not expected to materially affect the financial position of the Corporation.

15. Related Party Transaction

The Highmark Foundation (the Foundation) is a private foundation exempt from federal taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Foundation was formed for charitable, scientific and educational purposes which promote health and well-being of the communities served by Highmark. The Foundation is not a subsidiary of the Corporation and financial results of the Foundation are not combined with the Corporation's combined financial statements. In June 2006, the Corporation recorded a five-year $100,000 commitment to the Foundation to fund education, communications, community activities, grants and programming to promote healthy behaviors in children and adolescents. In 2006, the Corporation paid $20,000 of its commitment to the Foundation. The remaining liability was recorded by the Corporation at net present value of $71,729 in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheet at December 31, 2006.

16. Guarantees and Commitments

The Corporation has established and funded a trust in order to meet a licensing requirement of the BCBSA. The fair value of the contributed assets in the trust at December 31, 2006 and 2005 was approximately $267,000 and $286,000, respectively, which was included in investments in the combined balance sheets.

At December 31, 2006, the Corporation had committed $15,499 to various limited partnership investments. These commitments are due upon capital calls by the general partners of the partnerships.

At December 31, 2006, the Corporation had committed $19,971 in capital to FPLIC, payable six months after FPLIC products have been introduced to the market.

In December 2006, the Corporation purchased a $163,600 Allegheny County Industrial Development Authority hospital revenue note for the benefit of Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh of UPMC Health System (Children's) and made an initial advance to Children's in the amount of $80,000. Children's has advised the Corporation that it intends to draw the remaining balance of the note in June 2007. Amounts outstanding under the note bear interest at an annual rate of 5.00% (tax-exempt). The note is secured by a mortgage and gross revenues pledge from Children's and a guarantee secured by a gross revenues pledge by UPMC. The note requires the payment of semi-annual interest only until April 2010, at which time principal installments also begin to become due. The note matures in 2032.

Report of Independent Auditors

Highmark Inc.

In our opinion, the accompanying combined balance sheets and the related combined statements of operations, changes in reserves, and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Highmark Inc. and its subsidiaries and affiliates (the Corporation) at December 31, 2005 and 2004, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Corporation's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

1. Description of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Highmark Inc. (Highmark) is incorporated as a nonprofit corporation and operates as a hospital plan and a professional health service plan in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. As a licensee of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association (BCBSA), Highmark underwrites various indemnity and managed care health insurance products. Highmark also underwrites Medicare supplemental, dental, vision and long-term care insurance products. In addition, Highmark jointly markets various health insurance products (joint programs) with Hospital Service Association of Northeastern Pennsylvania d/b/a Blue Cross of Northeastern Pennsylvania (BCNEPA) and Independence Blue Cross (IBC). Highmark also operates as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary and a Medicare Part B carrier, performing claims processing, customer service and provider relation functions.

Highmark's for-profit and nonprofit subsidiaries and affiliates offer life insurance, stop-loss insurance, health insurance, long-term and short-term disability insurance, dental insurance, fully integrated eye care services, wholesale eyewear design and distribution, services through health maintenance organizations (HMOs), specialty pharmacy distribution, real estate management and third-party and other administrative services. Effective January 1, 2006, Highmark's wholly owned subsidiary, Highmark Senior Resources Inc. (HSR), began offering a stand-alone Medicare-approved prescription drug plan in Pennsylvania and the State of West Virginia. HSR, a licensee of BCBSA, was formed by Highmark in February 2005.

Markets for Highmark's indemnity, managed care and joint program health insurance products include: national accounts (primarily groups headquartered in Pennsylvania that have operations in other locations), regional accounts, individual accounts and service contract arrangements. Highmark's subsidiary HMO business operates in western and central Pennsylvania. Highmark's affiliate HMO business operates in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Acquisitions and Dispositions

In August 2005, Highmark acquired all the issued and outstanding stock of Trigon Health and Life Insurance Company, subsequently renamed HM Health Insurance Company (HM Health), for $16,249. HM Health is a Virginia domestic insurance company licensed to underwrite coverage in 47 jurisdictions. Acquired assets consisted of cash equivalents and debt securities of $13,236, other intangible assets relating to insurance licenses of $2,850 and interest and other receivables of $299, offset by liabilities assumed of $136.

In April 2005, Empire Vision Center, Inc., an indirectly wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, acquired in a bankruptcy court sale substantially all the assets of Cambridge Eye Associates, Inc. and Douglas Vision World, retail eye care centers in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island, for $6,418, which resulted in goodwill of $5,610.

In April 2005, Highmark purchased $15,000 of stock and a $15,000 surplus note of a nonprofit HMO, HMO of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Inc., d/b/a First Priority Health (FPH); and purchased a minority (40.1%) interest in a for-profit life insurance company, First Priority Life Insurance Company, Inc. (FPLIC), for $4,029. These companies offer, or will offer health insurance and related products and services to customers in BCNEPA's service area of northeastern Pennsylvania. The FPH transaction resulted in recognition of $4,875 in goodwill. The surplus note and goodwill are recorded with the FPH equity investment in affiliates on the combined balance sheet. The unpaid principal amount of this surplus note and an additional $320 FPH surplus note bear interest at an annual rate of 6.50%. Interest is payable annually after FPH and FPLIC achieve a combined minimum health RBC percentage of 700% for six consecutive calendar quarters. No payments may be made on the surplus notes without the approval of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department. The surplus notes may be redeemed, in whole or in part, after July 1, 2015.

In February 2005, HVHC Inc. (HVHC), a wholly owned subsidiary of Highmark, acquired all the issued and outstanding stock of Viva Optique, Inc. (Viva), a privately held New Jersey corporation engaged in the design and international distribution of eyewear and sunglasses. Under the terms of the purchase agreement, HVHC paid $138,000, subject to certain adjustments. The purchase was financed with a capital contribution from Highmark of $100,000 and proceeds from borrowings under an outstanding credit agreement.

The results of operations of Viva were included in the combined financial statements from the date of acquisition. In accordance with the purchase method of accounting, the purchase price was allocated to assets acquired and liabilities assumed, which included proceeds from borrowings under the outstanding credit agreement, based on their estimated fair value as follows:

Goodwill	$	90,865
Other intangible assets		33,900
Other assets		69,222
Total assets acquired		193,987
Liabilities assumed		(93,862)
Net assets acquired	$	100,125

The $33,900 in acquired other intangible assets consisted of: $23,700 of exclusive contracts with licensors with estimated lives that vary from five to 14 years, $6,000 of distribution relationships with estimated useful lives that vary from four to 12 years, $2,400 for a patent license agreement with an estimated useful life of 15 years, $1,300 of trademarks with an estimated useful life of 13 years and $500 of non-compete agreements with estimated lives that vary from three to five years.

On May 1, 2004, Highmark became the sole corporate member of Highmark West Virginia Inc. d/b/a Mountain State Blue Cross & Blue Shield (MSBCBS). MSBCBS is incorporated as a nonprofit corporation and operates a health service plan in West Virginia and, as a licensee of BCBSA, provides a variety of health insurance products and services to customers in West Virginia. Service center agreements for third-party administrative services are offered through MSBCBS's for-profit subsidiary.

As the sole corporate member of MSBCBS, Highmark has the authority to elect all of the members of the Board of Directors of MSBCBS. In accordance with its articles of incorporation, no part of the funds, income or net earnings of MSBCBS may inure to the benefit of Highmark, and in the event of dissolution or winding up of its affairs, MSBCBS's assets are required to be distributed in the manner provided for nonprofit corporations by West Virginia or the rules and regulations of the Offices of the Insurance Commissioner of West Virginia. Creditors of Highmark may not anticipate that any of the assets or revenues of MSBCBS are or will be available to pay their claims, either currently or at any time in the future.

The combination of MSBCBS was accounted for using the pooling of interests method as required by Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 16, Business Combinations, and, accordingly, the financial statements at and for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004 are presented on a combined basis. Total assets, total reserves, total revenue and net income prior to the combination at and for the four-month period ended April 30, 2004 were as follows:

	At and for the four-month period ended April 30, 2004
	Consolidated Highmark	Consolidated MSBCBS	Eliminations	Total
Total assets	$ 5,566,776	$ 203,823	$ (3,411)	$ 5,767,188
Total reserves	2,440,859	80,272	-	2,521,131
Total revenue	2,859,368	177,587	(2,834)	3,034,121
Net income	70,365	6,439	-	76,804

In March 2004, certain third-party investors purchased stock in Medmark Inc. (Medmark) and a portion of Highmark's ownership was redeemed for $23,000, resulting in recognition of a gain of $3,208 and a reduction in Highmark's ownership interest to 48.38%. As a result of the redemption, Highmark no longer held a controlling interest in Medmark, and earnings from that point forward were accounted for under the equity method.

Basis of Financial Presentation

The combined financial statements include the accounts of Highmark and its wholly and majority-owned subsidiaries (collectively Consolidated Highmark) and MSBCBS and its wholly owned subsidiary (collectively Consolidated MSBCBS). Consolidated Highmark and Consolidated MSBCBS are herein referred to as the Corporation. The combined financial statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated from the combined financial statements. The Corporation uses the equity method of accounting for 50% or less owned affiliates and those affiliates for which the Corporation does not hold a controlling financial interest but may influence the operating or financial decisions. The Corporation's share of affiliate net results is included in other revenue on the combined statements of operations.

The financial position and results of operations of Viva's international subsidiaries are measured using local currency as the functional currency. Assets and liabilities are translated at current exchange rates and related revenue and expenses are translated using an average monthly exchange rate. The effect of the cumulative translation adjustments is recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income.

The Corporation reports its share of joint program premium revenue, net investment income, claims incurred and operating expenses in the respective captions in the combined statements of operations. For joint program arrangements where the Corporation's share of the assets and liabilities of the joint programs is separately controlled, balance sheet activity is included in the respective captions on the combined balance sheets.

Exit Activities
In August 2004, the Board of Directors of HealthGuard of Lancaster, Inc. (HealthGuard), Highmark's wholly owned HMO subsidiary in central Pennsylvania, authorized withdrawal of its products from the marketplace in response to the market shift away from HMOs and to avoid significant costs necessary to integrate HealthGuard and Highmark systems. Pursuant to the formal withdrawal plan filed with the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, market exit began in 2005. All contracts will continue through the end of their contract period, with run-out operations expected to continue through the fourth quarter of 2006. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, HealthGuard's total assets were $35,763 and $65,079, respectively. Revenue and net loss of HealthGuard were $98,570 and $144, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2005. Revenue and net loss of HealthGuard were $160,513 and $15,571, respectively, for the year ended December 31, 2004.

During 2004, Highmark's wholly owned subsidiary, Alliance Ventures, Inc. (AVI), and its subsidiaries withdrew from the business of managing and providing services to affiliated physician practices. Affiliated physician practices were either transitioned to an independent status or aligned with other physician support organizations.

New Accounting Pronouncements
In January 2005, the Corporation adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation (FIN) No. 46R, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities, an interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51, Consolidated Financial Statements. FIN No. 46R defines a variable interest entity as an entity that does not have sufficient equity to operate on its own or an entity in which the equity investors do not have certain essential characteristics of a controlling financial interest, such as decision-making, absorption of losses and the right to receive residual returns. The Corporation's adoption of FIN No. 46R did not have a material impact on the Corporation's combined financial statements.

Use of Estimates
The preparation of the Corporation's combined financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. The combined financial statements include estimates for accounts receivable, other-than-temporary impairments of investments, reinsurance recoverables, deferred taxes, claims outstanding, income tax liabilities, reserves for experience-rated refunds, reserves for contingent liabilities, premium deficiency reserves and benefit plan liabilities. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Reclassifications
Certain 2004 amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2005 financial statement presentation.

Cash and Cash Equivalents
The Corporation considers all highly liquid instruments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents for purposes of the combined financial statements. The carrying amount approximates fair value for these financial instruments.

Investments
All debt securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and are carried at fair value (based on quoted or estimated market prices) and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income, net of applicable income taxes. Premiums and discounts are amortized using the effective interest method. Realized gains and losses are based on amortized cost. Marketable equity securities are classified as available-for-sale investments and carried at fair value (based on quoted market prices) and unrealized gains and losses are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income, net of applicable income taxes. Realized gains and losses are based on cost (specific identification method).

The Corporation monitors its investment portfolio for unrealized losses that appear to be other-than temporary. The Corporation performs a detailed review of these securities to determine the underlying cause of the unrealized loss and whether the security is impaired. At the time a security is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the Corporation reduces the book value of the security to the current market value and records a realized loss in the combined statements of operations. Any subsequent increase in the security's market value is reported as an unrealized gain.

Other investments as shown on the combined balance sheets include nonqualified retirement plan assets, which are carried at estimated fair value, investments in limited partnerships, which are accounted for under the equity method, and notes receivable, which are carried at net realizable value. The Corporation periodically evaluates other investments. At the time an other investment is determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired, the Corporation reduces the book value of the other investment to the current market value and records a realized loss in the combined statements of operations.

The Corporation participates in securities lending transactions through a lending agent as a transferor of securities for which the lending agent receives on behalf of the Corporation other securities or cash as collateral from the borrower. The Corporation maintains effective control over the loaned securities and requires collateral as of the transaction date equal to 102% of loaned securities at that date. Collateral received in the form of securities is not recorded in the combined balance sheets because the Corporation does not have the right to sell, pledge or otherwise reinvest the securities collateral. Loaned securities continue to be carried as investment securities on the combined balance sheets. At December 31, 2005, the fair value of debt securities outstanding under securities lending transactions was $4,643. At December 31, 2004, no securities lending transactions were outstanding.

The Corporation's assets are invested in a variety of financial instruments. Accordingly, the related values as presented in the combined financial statements are subject to various market fluctuations, which include changes in the interest rate environment, equity markets and general economic conditions.

Accounts Receivable
In the normal course of business, the Corporation grants credit to its customers under various contractual agreements. The Corporation carries its accounts receivable at estimated net realizable value, which reflects the impact of potential credit losses. Trade accounts receivable relate to commercial risk and non-risk business. Government program accounts receivable include amounts due for government business, including the Tricare Dental Plan, the Federal Employee Program and the Medicare program.

Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade accounts receivable are limited due to the large number of employer groups that constitute the Corporation's customer base. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, there were no significant concentrations of financial instruments in a single investee, industry or geographic location.

Reinsurance
In the normal course of business, the Corporation seeks to reduce losses that may arise from risks or occurrences of an unexpected nature that cause unfavorable underwriting results by reinsuring certain levels of risk in various areas of exposure with other insurance enterprises or reinsurers.

The Corporation accounts for reinsurance contracts using the gross reporting method and reports unpaid claim liabilities and unearned premiums ceded to reinsurers separately as an asset for reinsurance recoverables on unpaid losses. Reinsurance recoverables on unpaid losses are estimated and recognized in a manner consistent with the claim liability associated with the reinsured policy. The Corporation also assumes reinsurance risks from other insurance companies. Such assumed reinsurance activity is recorded principally on the basis of reports received from the ceding company.

Property and Equipment, Net
Property and equipment, including expenditures for significant improvements and purchased software, are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and amortization. Maintenance, repairs and minor improvements are expensed as incurred. When property and equipment are retired or otherwise disposed, the cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is included in operations. Depreciation is computed under the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives of the various classes of property and equipment are as follows: buildings, 7-40 years; leasehold improvements, lesser of lease term or useful life; Electronic Data Processing (EDP) equipment, 3 years; office furniture, equipment and purchased software, 3-10 years; and capitalized internally developed software, 3 years.

The Corporation capitalizes certain costs incurred for internally developed software or purchased software for internal use. External direct costs of materials and services and payroll-related costs of employees working solely on development of the software system portions of projects are capitalized. Capitalized costs are amortized over three years beginning when the system is placed in service. Training costs and costs to reengineer business processes are expensed as incurred.

Property and equipment are reviewed for impairment whenever changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of such assets may not be recoverable. Impairment losses are recognized to the extent the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposal. During 2005 and 2004, the Corporation recognized impairment losses of $373 and $4,873, respectively, on certain physician practice buildings held for sale. The impairment charges were included in operating expenses on the combined statements of operations.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, Net
Goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized, but are tested for impairment annually. If fair value is less than carrying value, an impairment loss is recorded in the combined statements of operations. Management tested goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives for impairment and concluded that no impairment existed at December 31, 2005.

Other Assets
Other assets includes prepaid expenses, the cash surrender value of life insurance policies on officers and employees, prepaid pension plan assets and deferred bond issuance costs.

Claims Outstanding
The liability for claims outstanding is an actuarial estimate based on historical claims paid data modified for current conditions and coverage changes. The methods to determine the estimate of incurred but not reported claims use past experience adjusted for current trends. The methods and assumptions are continually reviewed and any resulting adjustments are included in current operations. Corresponding administrative costs to process unreported claims are estimated and accrued and are included in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets.

The Corporation records pharmacy rebates receivable based on actual prescriptions filled and the terms of the rebate contracts. Claims outstanding are reported net of such pharmacy rebates receivable, which were $61,337 and $45,012 at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

In the ordinary course of business, the Corporation advances operating funds to health care providers. Claims outstanding are reported net of such advances, which were $30,807 and $25,081 at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

At December 31, 2005 and 2004, claims that have been incurred and are expected to be paid to providers in the future related to non-risk administrative arrangements were estimated to be approximately $467,000 and $490,000, respectively. The Corporation bills and collects these claims from non-risk groups. Payments are made to providers at the time the claim is presented for payment. These amounts are not included in claims outstanding on the combined balance sheets.

Amounts Held for Others
Amounts held for others includes reserves for refunds, credits to experience-rated groups, excess premiums collected from national groups and deposits received from groups for non-risk administrative arrangements. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the Corporation held deposits received from groups of approximately $175,000 and $162,000, respectively.

Premium Deficiency Reserves
The Corporation establishes a premium deficiency reserve (PDR) when future claims expense and related maintenance costs are expected to exceed future subscriber premiums and net investment income of contracts in force for a given line of business or product grouping. The Corporation evaluates the need for a PDR by grouping policies consistent with the way in which the business is acquired, serviced and measured. Accordingly, the Corporation groups policies based primarily on its designated customer segment groups. At December 31, 2005, Highmark and its wholly owned HMO subsidiary in western Pennsylvania, Keystone Health Plan West, Inc. (KHPW), determined that, due to higher than anticipated cost and utilization trends related to several managed care contracts, establishment of a premium deficiency reserve of $13,330 was necessary. At December 31, 2004, a premium deficiency reserve of $9,500 related to two of KHPW's managed care contracts existed.

The Corporation established PDRs of $11,100 at December 31, 2004 on two of HealthGuard's products, mainly attributable to contract rate guarantees. These PDRs were released over the remaining period of the underlying insurance contracts, which extended through January 31, 2006. Net PDRs were $142 at December 31, 2005.

During 2004, the Corporation released $28,000 related to a PDR established on one of its managed care products. Management performed a premium deficiency analysis on the product at December 31, 2004 and determined that a premium deficiency no longer existed.

Revenue Recognition
The Corporation's business consists of both at-risk insurance arrangements and non-risk administrative arrangements. Non-risk administrative arrangements include both Administrative Services Contracts (ASC) and Cost Plus contracts. The administrative fees received under non-risk administrative arrangements are shown as management services revenue and recognized in the period in which related services are performed. Management services revenue also includes management of medical services, claims processing and access to provider networks. Under non-risk administrative arrangements, the customer assumes the risk of funding claims and, as a result, the Corporation does not record premium revenue and claims incurred on non-risk administrative arrangements.

Risk business includes all insurance contracts. Premiums are generally billed in advance of the contractual coverage periods and are included in premium revenue as they are earned during the coverage period. The unearned portion of premiums collected is reflected in the combined balance sheets as unearned subscription revenue. The expenses associated with administering the risk and non-risk business are included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations.

Premium Equivalents
Premium equivalents equal incurred claims under non-risk administrative arrangements. The Corporation would have recorded the amount of these incurred claims as additional premiums if these arrangements had been written as insured business. Premium equivalents for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004 were as follows:

	2005	2004
Premium revenue and management services revenue	$ 9,225,073	$ 8,650,916
Premium equivalents	5,061,915	4,431,963
Total adjusted premium and premium equivalents	$ 14,286,988	$ 13,082,879

Comprehensive Income
Comprehensive income is net income plus certain other items, including unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities, foreign currency translation adjustments and additional minimum pension liabilities recorded directly to reserves.

Income Taxes
Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to federal income taxes, although they remain tax-exempt entities for state tax purposes. Highmark and MSBCBS file separate consolidated federal income tax returns with their respective wholly owned subsidiaries. Only the non-insurance and HMO subsidiaries of Highmark and MSBCBS are subject to state income taxes. Insurance subsidiaries other than the HMOs are generally subject to state premium taxes.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the financial reporting and tax basis of assets and liabilities, and are measured using tax rates and laws that are expected to be in effect when the difference is reversed. The Corporation records a valuation allowance against its deferred tax assets when it determines that it is more likely than not that the entire deferred tax asset will not be recognized.

2. Regulation

The Corporation's insurance subsidiaries and affiliates file financial statements with Insurance Departments in their states of domicile. These financial statements are prepared in accordance with statutory accounting principles prescribed or permitted by such regulatory authorities (statutory accounting principles). Prescribed statutory accounting principles and practices include state laws, regulations and general administrative rules, as well as a variety of publications of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC). Permitted statutory accounting practices encompass all accounting practices not so prescribed. All of the Corporation's statutory accounting practices are prescribed.

Financial statements prepared for state insurance departments in accordance with statutory accounting practices differ from the combined financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP. The principal differences are: (1) certain assets, such as accounts receivable aged more than 90 days, office furniture and equipment, nonoperating software, certain advances and prepaid expenses are excluded from the statutory balance sheet; (2) certain pharmacy rebates receivable are excluded from the statutory balance sheet based on the timing of billing and collection activities; (3) debt securities are carried on the statutory financial statements at the lower of amortized cost or fair value, not fair value as required under GAAP; (4) equity income or loss of subsidiaries is included directly in reserves under statutory accounting practices rather than in the results from operations as required under GAAP; (5) the liability for qualified pension and other postretirement benefits is limited to vested benefits under statutory accounting principles; and (6) the recognition of deferred tax assets and goodwill is limited for statutory reporting purposes.

As a result of the foregoing, statutory reserves at December 31, 2005 and 2004 and statutory net income for the years then ended of Highmark, which exclude MSBCBS, and MSBCBS were as follows:

	2005	2004
Highmark
Statutory reserves	$ 2,844,615	$ 2,544,518
Statutory net income	157,092	213,602
MSBCBS
Statutory reserves	99,149	87,348
Statutory net income	24,385	25,774

Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and affiliates and MSBCBS are subject to minimum Risk-Based Capital (RBC) requirements that were developed by the NAIC and have been adopted by various state legislatures. The formula for determining the amount of RBC specifies various weighting factors that are applied to financial balances and various levels of activity based on the perceived degree of risk. The RBC ratios of Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and affiliates and MSBCBS are compared to authorized control levels established by the NAIC. Companies below specific ratio thresholds may require specific corrective action. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, Highmark, its insurance subsidiaries and affiliates and MSBCBS exceeded their respective minimum RBC requirements.

In February 2005, the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner issued a Determination and Order that an appropriate sufficient operating surplus range for Highmark is 550% - 750% of the Health RBC ratio or the Pennsylvania Insurance Department's consolidated risk factor ratio, whichever is lower. As long as Highmark operates above the 550% ratio, Highmark will not be permitted to include a risk and contingency factor in its filed premium rates. If Highmark's ratio exceeds 750%, Highmark will be required to justify its surplus level and could be required to submit a plan to bring its surplus within the designated appropriate sufficient operating surplus range. At December 31, 2005, Highmark's Health RBC ratio was within the appropriate sufficient operating surplus range of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department.

In February 2005, Highmark entered into a six-year Community Health Reinvestment Agreement with the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, which established Highmark's annual Community Health Reinvestment (CHR) commitment based on certain Pennsylvania direct written health premiums and quantified Highmark's minimum social mission commitment in 2005 at approximately $90,000. Sixty percent of the CHR will be directed by Pennsylvania and dedicated to programs for uninsured persons of low income. Forty percent of the CHR will be directed by Highmark, subject to the approval of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department, and dedicated to permitted community endeavors. The Corporation recognized a 2005 Pennsylvania-directed net obligation of $53,105 in net operating expenses in the combined statement of operations. The remaining 2005 CHR obligation was reported as incurred and was included in the combined statement of operations.

3. Investments

The amortized cost and fair value of investments in securities classified as available-for-sale at December 31, 2005 were as follows:

The gross unrealized losses and fair value of investments classified as available-for-sale securities by investment category and length of time an individual security is in a continuous unrealized loss position at December 31, 2005 were as follows:

	Less than 12 months		12 months or more		Total
	Fair Value	Unrealized Losses	Fair Value	Unrealized Losses	Fair Value	Unrealized Losses
U.S. Treasury and other U.S. government corporations and agencies	$ 670,474	$ (8,836)	$175,490	$ (3,203)	$ 845,964	$(12,039)

Total debt securities	1,377,465	(22,223)	305,736	(7,497)	1,683,201	(29,720)
Marketable equity securities	109,964	(8,304)	788	(127)	110,752	(8,431)
Total temporarily impaired securities	$ 1,487,429	$(30,527)	$306,524	$ (7,624)	$1,793,953	$(38,151)

At December 31, 2005, the Corporation held debt securities with gross unrealized losses of $29,720. Management has evaluated the unrealized losses in the debt securities and determined that they are due primarily to normal fluctuations in interest rates and not attributable to credit risk factors. For debt securities, losses in market values are viewed as temporary if the debt security can be held to maturity and it is reasonable to assume that the issuer will be able to service the debt, both as to interest and principal. The Corporation believes that the value of its debt securities will be realized and that the unrealized losses do not represent an other-than-temporary impairment at December 31, 2005.

At December 31, 2005, the Corporation held equity securities with gross unrealized losses of $8,431. Management reviews marketable equity securities where fair value falls below cost. In determining whether a marketable equity security is other-than-temporarily impaired, management considers the magnitude of the unrealized loss, the duration, whether the loss is market driven or company specific and the potential for recovery. Unrealized losses on marketable equity securities are comprised of a large number of holdings, which in general are of low magnitude. The Corporation believes that recovery in market value will occur within a relatively short time and does not consider its equity securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired.

The amortized cost and fair value of available-for-sale debt securities at December 31, 2005 are shown below by contractual maturity. Expected maturities could differ from contractual maturities as borrowers may have the right to call or prepay obligations with or without call or prepayment penalties.

	Amortized Cost	Fair Value
Due within one year or less	$ 215,574	$ 214,432
Due after one year through five years	985,318	978,576
Due after five years through ten years	633,304	635,289
Due after ten years	271,265	297,142
Mortgage- and asset-backed securities and CMOs	526,112	520,215
Total	$ 2,631,573	$ 2,645,654

Gross realized gains on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2005 and 2004 were $89,035 and $70,918, respectively. Gross realized losses on the sale of available-for-sale securities in 2005 and 2004 were $29,139 and $22,826, respectively. The Corporation recognized losses for other-than-temporary impairment in the amounts of $10,524 in 2005 and $14,259 in 2004, which were included in net realized gain on investments in the combined statements of operations.

The following is a summary of gross realized gains (losses) on investments for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004:

	2005	2004
Debt securities
Gross realized gains	$ 8,316	$ 9,077

Certain debt securities are restricted for use by the Corporation and are on deposit with various regulatory agencies, held as collateral in accordance with a revolving credit agreement or maintained in a trust arrangement as required by BCBSA. These arrangements, in the aggregate, amounted to $486,233 and $482,598 at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

In August 2000, the Corporation made a loan in the amount of $125,000 (the WPAHS Loan) to West Penn Allegheny Health System, Inc. (WPAHS). The WPAHS Loan is collateralized by liens on, and security interests in, substantially all the real property and other assets of WPAHS and certain of its affiliates. The outstanding principal balance of the WPAHS Loan at December 31, 2005 and 2004 was $125,000. The principal of the WPAHS Loan is payable in semi-annual installments commencing February 15, 2006, with final payment due August 15, 2030. The unpaid principal amount of the WPAHS Loan bears interest at an annual rate of 9.00% at December 31, 2005. The Corporation's right to payment on the WPAHS Loan is contractually subordinated to the rights of certain other creditors of WPAHS and its affiliates upon the occurrence of certain events. The WPAHS Loan, net of an impairment loss, was included in other investments on the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2005 and 2004.

4. Investments in Affiliates

The following is a summary of the operations and financial position of unconsolidated affiliates at and for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004:

	2005	2004

(Increase) decrease in advances to providers	(5,726)	12,620
Net balance at December 31	882,208	790,822
Reinsurance recoverables	190,661	163,100
Claims outstanding at December 31	$ 1,072,869	$ 953,922

Negative amounts reported for incurred claims related to prior years resulted from claims being settled for amounts less than originally estimated. This experience was primarily attributable to actual claim cost experience more favorable than that assumed at the time the liability was estimated.

Management believes that its estimates for claims outstanding are adequate to satisfy its ultimate claim liability. However, these estimates are inherently subject to a number of highly variable circumstances. Consequently, the actual results could differ materially from the amount recorded in the combined financial statements.

7. Employee Benefit Plans

The Corporation covers certain employees through two noncontributory defined benefit pension plans (pension plans). The Highmark Retirement Plan (Highmark pension plan) covers all eligible Highmark employees meeting certain age and service requirements and certain employees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries and affiliates. The Non-Contributory Retirement Program for Certain Employees of Highmark West Virginia Inc. (MSBCBS pension plan) covers all full-time MSBCBS employees meeting certain age and service requirements. The Corporation's policy is to fund its pension plans according to the limits specified by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended. From time to time, the Corporation may contribute additional amounts to the pension plans, as it deems appropriate, subject to funding limitations.

During 2006, the Corporation expects to contribute between $40,000 and $65,000 to the pension plans for the 2006 plan year depending on completion of the 2006 actuarial valuation. On or before September 15, 2006, the Corporation intends to make an additional voluntary cash contribution of $20,000 to the Highmark pension plan for the 2005 plan year.

Effective December 31, 2004, the Pension Plan of Gateway Health Plan, L.P. merged into the Highmark pension plan.

Highmark also sponsors a defined benefit other postretirement plan, and MSBCBS sponsors a defined benefit other postretirement plan (collectively the other postretirement plans). Highmark uses a Voluntary Employees' Beneficiary Association (VEBA) trust to fund its other postretirement plan. During 2005, MSBCBS contributed $5,000 to its VEBA and $1,000 to its 401(h) account, both of which will be used to fund its other postretirement plan benefits. The other postretirement plans provide various postretirement health and life insurance benefits to their respective retirees and certain retirees of Highmark's participating subsidiaries.

Other postretirement benefit costs are recognized in the combined financial statements during the employees' credited service period. The Corporation's contributions for other postretirement coverage vary based on age and length of service at retirement. VEBA funding contributions are determined using Entry Age Actuarial Cost as the acceptable actuarial method. The Corporation expects to contribute $27,200 to its VEBA trusts and 401(h) account in 2006 to fund its other postretirement plan benefits.

In May 2004, the FASB issued FASB Staff Position (FSP) No. 106-2, which provided final guidance on accounting for the provisions of the Medicare Prescription Drug, Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003 (MMA). In accordance with FSP No. 106-2, the Corporation made a one-time election to prospectively recognize the impact of MMA at December 31, 2004. The impact of the adoption of FSP No. 106-2 on the Corporation's combined financial statements resulted in a reduction in the accumulated projected benefit obligation of $8,697 at December 31, 2004 and a reduction in the net periodic other postretirement benefit cost of $1,142 in 2004.

The Corporation uses a measurement date of December 31, 2005 for its plans.

The funded status of the pension plans and other postretirement plans of the Corporation and amounts recognized in the combined balance sheets were as follows:

	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits
	2005	2004	2005	2004

The pension plans' accumulated benefit obligation at December 31, 2005 and 2004 was $812,957 and $703,317, respectively.

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the Highmark pension plan were $1,100,499, $778,682 and $723,198, respectively, at December 31, 2005 and $940,988, $674,156 and $645,768, respectively, at December 31, 2004.

The projected benefit obligation, accumulated benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets for the MSBCBS pension plan were $43,941, $34,275 and $35,260, respectively, at December 31, 2005 and $37,531, $29,161 and $30,256, respectively, at December 31, 2004.

The assumptions used in the measurement of the Corporation's benefit obligations are as follows:

	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits
	2005	2004	2005	2004
Weighted-average assumptions at December 31
Highmark plans

The assumptions used in the measurement of the Corporation's net periodic benefit cost were as follows:

	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits
	2005	2004	2005	2004
Weighted-average assumptions for the years ended December 31

The expected return on pension plan assets is developed using inflation expectations and risk factors to arrive at a long-term nominal expected return for each asset class. The nominal expected return for each asset class is then weighted based on the target asset allocation to develop the expected long-term rate of return on plan assets. The expected return on other postretirement plan assets is developed based on historical returns and the future expectations for returns for each asset class as well as the asset allocation of the other postretirement plan assets.

For measurement purposes at December 31, 2005, the assumed annual rate of increase in the per capita costs of covered health care benefits for the other postretirement plans is 9.5% in 2006 gradually decreasing to 5% by the year 2015 for the Highmark other postretirement plan and 10% in 2006 gradually decreasing to 5% by the year 2011 for the MSBCBS other postretirement plan.

Assumed health care cost trend rates have a significant effect on the amounts reported for the other postretirement plans. At December 31, 2005, a one-percentage-point change in assumed health care cost trend rates would have the following effects:

	One-Percentage-Point Increase	One-Percentage-Point Decrease
Effect on total of service and interest cost components	$ 3,588	$ (2,932)
Effect on other postretirement benefit obligations	$ 34,136	$ (28,931)

Estimated benefit payments, which reflect future service as appropriate, are expected to be paid in the following years:

	Pension Benefits	Other Postretirement Benefits
2006	$ 20,881	$ 8,890
2007	22,900	9,505
2008	24,328	9,920
2009	26,982	10,665
2010	30,222	11,330
2011-2015	208,843	67,085

The asset allocation for the pension plans at December 31, 2005 and 2004, by asset category, was as follows:

	2005	2004
Pension plan assets
Equity securities	56%	55%
Debt securities	39%	41%
Cash and cash equivalents	5%	4%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the Highmark pension plan is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, given the asset mix, credit quality and diversification guidelines and restrictions approved by the Investment Committee of the Board of Directors of Highmark. The Highmark pension plan asset allocation is reviewed quarterly to determine whether the portfolio mix is within an acceptable range of the target allocation. Target asset allocations are based on asset and liability studies with the goal to enhance the expected return of the pension portfolio while maintaining acceptable levels of risk. The target asset allocation for the portfolio is 56% equity and 44% debt securities.

The MSBCBS pension plan participates in the National Retirement Trust administered by BCBSA. The investment objectives of the National Retirement Trust are based on the precepts of capital market theory that are generally accepted and followed by institutional investors, who by definition are long-term-oriented investors.

The asset allocation for the other postretirement plans at December 31, 2005 and 2004, by asset category, was as follows:

	2005	2004
Other postretirement plan assets
Equity securities	54%	53%
Debt securities	37%	36%
Cash and cash equivalents	9%	11%
Total	100%	100%

The primary investment objective for the assets of the other postretirement plans is to achieve maximum rates of return commensurate with safety of principal, credit quality, diversification and adequate liquidity. Excluding cash and cash equivalents, the investment goal is to outperform an unmanaged hybrid index, 60% of which is the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index and 40% of which is the Lehman Brothers Aggregate Bond Index. The performance of the portfolio is reviewed periodically to determine the most effective structure of the assets and investment managers to achieve these objectives.

The Corporation sponsors defined contribution savings plans (the savings plans) covering substantially all of its employees and employees of certain participating subsidiaries. The savings plans allow participating employees to contribute a percentage of their annual salary, subject to current Internal Revenue Service (IRS) limitations. Employee contributions are matched by the Corporation at various percentages. The Corporation's contributions to the savings plans were $13,563 and $13,838 in 2005 and 2004, respectively.

The Corporation also sponsors deferred compensation plans for certain eligible employees. Participating employees may contribute a certain amount of their annual compensation to these plans. The Corporation matches a portion of employee deferrals and pays interest on the deferrals at various rates. The Corporation made matching contributions to the deferred compensation plans of $369 and $327 in 2005 and 2004, respectively. Deferred compensation plan liabilities of $31,061 and $25,613 were recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

The Corporation also sponsors unfunded nonqualified supplemental retirement plans (the supplemental retirement plans) covering certain eligible employees. The weighted-average assumptions used in the measurement of the supplemental retirement plans benefit obligation and net periodic benefit cost are consistent with the assumptions used in the measurement of pension benefits. As a result of Highmark's supplemental retirement plan accumulated benefit obligation exceeding the liability recognized in the combined balance sheet at December 31, 2005, the Corporation recorded an additional minimum pension liability of $12,550 in other payables and accrued expenses, an intangible asset of $3,843 and an unrealized loss in accumulated other comprehensive income of $5,660, net of deferred taxes. The supplemental retirement plan liabilities, including the additional minimum pension liability, recorded in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets at December 31, 2005 and 2004 were $35,413 and $18,397, respectively.

8. Notes Payable

Notes payable at December 31, 2005 and 2004 consisted of the following:

	2005	2004
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $125,000 and a fee of 0.09% on the unused average daily amount available. The facility expires on October 14, 2007, with three optional annual extensions upon agreement of the parties. Interest payments are due quarterly based on the Euro rate plus 0.45% (4.78% at December 31, 2005).	$ 125,000	$ 125,000
Credit agreement with maximum available for draw of $100,000. Principal payment is due on December 29, 2009. Interest payments are due quarterly at a varying rate of interest (5.19% at December 31, 2005, which was based on the three-month LIBOR rate plus 0.65%).	72,500	30,000
Note payable with monthly principal and interest payments of $1,077 at an interest rate of 6.84% due through August 1, 2008 (net of an unamortized discount of $410 in 2005 and $572 in 2004), collateralized by an office tower complex and assignment of rents.	30,108	40,390
Revolving credit facility with maximum available for draw of $15,000. The facility expires on February 10, 2007 and is renewable annually. Interest payments are due at a varying rate based on the prime rate plus 0.50%.	-	10,000
Mortgage payable with monthly principal and interest payments of $2 at an interest rate of 7.00% at December 31, 2005 due through November 1, 2028.	299	-
Capital leases payable with monthly principal and interest payments of varying amounts at interest rates ranging between 3.50% and 15.04% due through 2017.	9,462	3,629
Total	$ 237,369	$ 209,019

A summary of the scheduled principal repayment on notes payable is as follows:

Year ending December 31
2006	$ 12,379
2007	137,523
2008	8,033
2009	73,169
2010	680
Thereafter	5,585
	$ 237,369

The Corporation is party to a revolving credit agreement with maximum available draw of $35,000. The agreement expires on March 29, 2007. Amounts outstanding under this agreement bear interest at prevailing interest rates. There were no amounts outstanding under this credit agreement at December 31, 2005 or 2004.

The credit agreements referred to above contain covenants relating to indebtedness, minimum net worth and financial ratings. The Corporation also is required to maintain collateral on borrowings under the $125,000 credit facility in the form of investment securities. The fair value of the investment securities held as collateral at December 31, 2005 and 2004 was $141,791 and $148,766, respectively.

The Corporation was in compliance with all debt covenants at December 31 2005.

Until March 12, 2006, the Corporation was party to an interest rate swap agreement, which met the criteria of a cash flow hedge, with a highly rated, major U.S. financial institution (the counterparty) in order to limit its exposure to cash flow risks associated with the interest payments on the outstanding principal of the Corporation's variable rate revolving credit facility of $125,000. The interest rate swap agreement provided for the Corporation and the counterparty to exchange, on a quarterly basis, the difference between the fixed rate (5.83%) and the variable rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed-upon notional principal amount of $125,000. During 2005 and 2004, the Corporation paid $3,073 and $5,356, respectively, to the counterparty for settlements under the interest rate swap agreement. These amounts were included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. The effect of this agreement is to limit the interest rate exposure on $125,000 of the Corporation's outstanding debt to a fixed rate of interest. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the Corporation recorded a liability in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheets of $282 and $4,062, respectively, under the agreement. Deferred net holding losses of $183 and $2,640 on the interest rate swap were included in accumulated other comprehensive income, net of deferred income taxes of $99 and $1,422 at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

9. Bonds Payable

Highmark issued $375,000 of unsecured Senior Notes (the Notes) at an interest rate of 6.80% in August 2003. Interest is payable semiannually. The Notes are scheduled to mature on August 15, 2013 and can be redeemed at any time, in whole or in part, by the Corporation. The unamortized discount on the Notes was $652 and $738 at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively, and is being amortized over the life of the Notes under the effective interest method. Debt issuance costs of $3,462 were incurred and are being amortized under the straight-line method over the life of the Notes. The Notes are subject to certain restrictive covenants, which include limitations on liens and disposition of stock of certain subsidiaries. The Corporation was in compliance with all covenants at December 31, 2005.

The Corporation is party to multiple interest rate swap agreements, which meet the criteria of fair value hedges, through August 15, 2013 with two highly rated, major U.S. financial institutions (the counterparties) pursuant to which it has synthetically converted $125,000 of the fixed rate Notes to variable notes. The interest rate swap agreements provide for the Corporation and the counterparties to exchange, on a semi-annual basis, the difference between the fixed rate (6.80%) and the variable rate interest amounts calculated by reference to the agreed-upon notional principal amount of $125,000. During 2005 and 2004, counterparties paid the Corporation $794 and $1,431, respectively, for settlements under the interest rate swap agreements. This amount is included in operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. At December 31, 2005 and 2004, the Corporation recorded a net liability of $4,935 and $536, respectively, under the interest rate swap agreements, which was offset by a fair market value adjustment to the Notes.

As a result of the interest rate swap agreements referenced in this Note and Note 8, the Corporation is subject to interest rate risk and default risk (counterparty risk). Only cash flows related to the differential in the fixed interest rates and the variable interest rates as applied to the notional amounts are subject to interest rate risk over the term of the agreements. The notional amounts do not represent the amounts at risk; rather, they are used only as the basis for calculating the amounts due under the agreements.

10. Reinsurance

The Corporation is party to various reinsurance agreements. Reinsurance contracts do not relieve the Corporation from its obligations to policyholders. Failure of reinsurers to honor their obligations could result in losses to the Corporation; consequently, allowances are established for estimated uncollectible amounts. The Corporation evaluates the financial condition of its reinsurers and monitors concentrations of credit risk to minimize its exposure to significant losses from reinsurer insolvencies. Reinsurance recoveries amounted to $96,134 in 2005 and $89,879 in 2004.

The effect of reinsurance on premium revenue for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004 was as follows:

	2005	2004
Direct business	$ 8,604,371	$ 8,109,021
Assumed business	93,721	66,172
Ceded business	(159,080)	(142,796)
Premium revenue	$ 8,539,012	$ 8,032,397

11. Income Taxes

The components of the income tax provision for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004 were as follows:

	2005	2004
Federal
Current	$ 168,856	$ 88,506
Deferred	(5,353)	5,671
	163,503	94,177
Foreign
Current	808	-
Deferred	(10)	-
	798	-
State
Current	9,700	12,010
Deferred	(1,242)	56
	8,458	12,066
Total income tax provision	$ 172,759	$ 106,243

In addition to the income tax provision, the deferred tax asset increased $13,802 in 2005 and decreased $20,179 in 2004 as a result of the tax effect of the changes in foreign currency translation adjustments, additional minimum pension liability adjustments and the net unrealized gain or loss on available-for-sale securities. This change in tax effect is allocated directly to accumulated other comprehensive income, a component of reserves.

The Corporation's 2005 effective tax rate of 33.6% differs from the federal statutory rate of 35.0% as a result of state income taxes (net of federal benefit), charitable contribution of appreciated property, special deductions provided to certain health insurance carriers and changes to the federal valuation allowance.

The Corporation's 2004 effective tax rate of 25.5% differs from the federal statutory rate of 35.0% as a result of state income taxes (net of federal benefit), charitable contributions, dividends received deduction, special deductions provided to certain health insurance carriers, changes to the federal valuation allowance, and favorable settlements reached with the IRS related to prior tax years. These IRS settlements were recorded as a current tax benefit in the 2004 combined statement of operations and resulted in the release of $35,700 in net tax reserves, of which $33,000 was the result of a favorable settlement with the IRS related to the methodology for calculating the special Blue and Cross Blue Shield tax deduction subsequent to the formation of Highmark.

Gross deferred tax assets and liabilities at December 31, 2005 and 2004 were as follows:

	2005	2004
Gross deferred tax assets	$ 328,228	$ 313,214
Less valuation allowance	(58,458)	(58,628)
Net deferred tax assets	269,770	254,586
Deferred tax liabilities	(142,102)	(147,375)
Deferred income taxes, net	$ 127,668	$ 107,211

The temporary differences that result in the significant components of the deferred tax assets and liabilities at December 31, 2005 and 2004 include: allowance for uncollectible receivables, reserves against other investments, discounting of unpaid claim liabilities, unearned premium reserves, net unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities, PDRs, hospital grants, accrued liabilities including pension and other postretirement plan obligations and alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards. The valuation allowance is recognized primarily to reflect the uncertainty surrounding the realizability of alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards associated with MSBCBS, state deferred tax assets associated with certain Highmark subsidiaries and foreign tax credit carryforwards. The realization of the net deferred tax assets is dependent on the Corporation's ability to generate sufficient taxable income in future periods. The amount of the deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could change if estimates of future taxable income change.

The Corporation intends to indefinitely reinvest undistributed earnings of certain foreign subsidiaries in operations outside the U.S. Undistributed earnings of these foreign subsidiaries at December 31, 2005 amounted to $8,366. Accordingly, a provision for deferred income taxes was not recorded. If management did not intend for these earnings to be permanently reinvested, a U.S. deferred tax liability of $2,928 would have been recognized. The Corporation provides for the U.S. and additional non-U.S. taxes on earnings anticipated by management to be repatriated from non-U.S. based subsidiaries.

At December 31, 2005, the Corporation has alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards, related to MSBCBS, of $31,284, available to offset future taxes. These credits do not expire. Utilization of the alternative minimum tax credit carryforwards will not take place until such time as MSBCBS ceases to be in an alternative minimum tax position or a change in the tax law occurs. The Corporation recognized a valuation allowance due to the uncertainty of realizing a tax benefit for the alternative minimum tax credits and because the lower alternative minimum tax rate is expected to apply when net deductible temporary differences reverse.

At December 31, 2005, the Corporation has a foreign tax credit carryforward totaling $1,614 available to offset future taxes that expires between 2006 and 2014. Utilization of the foreign tax credit carryforward is subject to certain limitations. Therefore, the Corporation recognized a valuation allowance offsetting this tax attribute.

At December 31, 2005, various subsidiaries of Highmark have state net operating loss carryforwards totaling $294,533 that expire between 2006 and 2025 and are available to offset the future state taxable income of the subsidiary that generated the loss carryforward. The utilization of the state net operating loss carryforwards is subject to certain limitations; therefore, the Corporation recognized a valuation allowance of $23,510.

The IRS has challenged Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans as to the tax basis step-up of intangible assets owned at January 1, 1987. These assets include subscriber and provider relationships as well as assembled workforce. As a result of the uncertainty surrounding this matter, the Corporation has not recorded any income tax benefits related to the tax basis step-up. An unfavorable result could require significant future cash expenditures but should have minimal, if any, impact on the combined statements of operations as the amount of the tax effected disallowance and interest have been fully reserved in the combined balance sheets. The resolution of this matter may entail efforts including administrative appeals and litigation, which could extend over several years.

12. Leases

Several noncancellable operating leases, primarily for EDP equipment, software and buildings, were in effect at December 31, 2005. Rental expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Aggregate future rental commitments for all operating leases having initial or remaining noncancellable lease terms in excess of one year with commitments in one or more of the next five years and thereafter are shown in the following table:

	Operating Lease Commitments
Year ending December 31
2006	$ 50,701
2007	31,076
2008	22,288
2009	14,615
2010	10,179
Thereafter	8,670
	$ 137,529

Total rental expense was $47,416 and $47,917 in 2005 and 2004, respectively.

A portion of the Corporation's property is leased to retail and other tenants. The initial lease terms generally range from five to 10 years, with certain leases containing one or more five-year renewal options. Several of these leases contain rent abatements. Rental income is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Minimum future rentals during the current leases' terms in each of the next five years and thereafter are as follows:

	Rental Income
Year ending December 31
2006	$ 3,160
2007	2,927
2008	2,680
2009	2,148
2010	1,822
Thereafter	7,447
	$ 20,184

13. Medicare Claims Processing

The Corporation operates as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary and a Medicare Part B carrier in Pennsylvania and began operating as a Medicare Part A fiscal intermediary in Maryland and the District of Columbia on October 1, 2005. In 2005 and 2004, the Corporation processed claims of $10,793,897 and $9,229,855, respectively, on behalf of the Medicare Part A and Part B programs (Medicare Program). Medicare claims are paid directly from the Medicare Trust Fund and therefore, are not included in the combined statements of operations. Reimbursement of administrative expenses related to the Medicare program of $75,878 and $77,007 in 2005 and 2004, respectively, were recorded as a reduction of operating expenses in the combined statements of operations. Claims systems and processes of the Medicare programs are subject to audits conducted by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and the Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Inspector General.

14. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The methods and assumptions used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate that value are summarized as follows. The fair values of investment securities, as well as assets held in nonqualified retirement plan trusts and interest rate swaps, are estimated based on quoted market prices of similar securities. The fair values of notes receivable, notes and bonds payable and unrecognized financial instruments are determined by discounting scheduled cash flows through the maturity of the notes using estimated market rates for the individual classes of notes. The Corporation's investment securities, which are carried at fair values of $3,541,507 and $3,408,807 at December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively, are summarized in Note 3. The carrying amounts of cash equivalents approximate fair value because of their short-term nature.

The estimated fair value of financial instruments with estimated fair values that differ from their carrying values are summarized as follows:

	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value	Carrying Amount	Estimated Fair Value
Notes receivable	$ 108,452	$ 107,410	$ 108,452	$ 107,405
Surplus notes receivable	15,320	18,854	-	-
Notes payable	239,669	239,022	209,019	211,864
Bonds payable	374,348	416,745	374,262	429,993
Unrecognized commitments to extend credit (Note 16)	187,618	175,782	184,430	170,472

15. Contingencies

Highmark and MSBCBS are defendants in two class action lawsuits brought by physicians, chiropractors and other professional providers, together with state medical societies and other professional organizations, against BCBSA and various Blue Cross and Blue Shield licensees alleging intentional delay in payment, non-payment and underpayment to providers. In addition, Highmark, along with Keystone Health Plan Central, Inc. (KHPC) and Capital Blue Cross (CBC), is a defendant in a class action lawsuit brought by a provider in the KHPC network alleging conspiracy among the defendants to intentionally underpay providers. In September 2003, a motion to dismiss the KHPC case was denied. The Corporation is unable to predict the outcome of these matters and, although the Corporation's combined financial statements contain a provision for potential liability, an unfavorable outcome in these matters could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

MSBCBS is a defendant in a lawsuit brought in the state courts of West Virginia on behalf of a class of health care providers alleging that MSBCBS engaged in behaviors similar to those alleged in the cases discussed in the preceding paragraph. The Corporation is unable to predict the outcome of this matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss, given the current status of the matter. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

Highmark and KHPW are defendants in a class action lawsuit challenging the rates paid to ambulance providers under a KHPW MedicareAdvantage product. Similar claims were raised in an individual provider action previously filed against Highmark and KHPW in which a United States District Court determined that the rate paid by KHPW was not correct. In October 2005, the parties entered into a settlement of the individual provider case. The Corporation is unable to predict the outcome of the class action matter and, although the Corporation's combined financial statements contain a provision for a potential liability, an unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

In January 2003, the United States government partially intervened in a lawsuit brought by an employee of Highmark alleging that Highmark caused the filing of false Medicare claims. The claims involve Medicare secondary payor laws, which provide that Medicare is secondary to certain employer group health plans. Highmark's motion to dismiss the complaint in this case was denied. The Corporation is unable to predict the outcome of this matter and, although the Corporation's combined financial statements contain a provision for a potential liability, an unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

Highmark was a defendant in a class action lawsuit alleging violation of the Pennsylvania Nonprofit Corporation Law and breach of subscriber contracts by reason of its maintenance of allegedly "excessive" surplus. Based on a decision of the Commonwealth Court of Pennsylvania (Commonwealth Court) in a similar case filed against IBC, the trial court dismissed this action, which dismissal was affirmed by the Commonwealth Court. That dismissal has been appealed to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, which has stayed the matter pending disposition of the IBC case. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the claims raised in this matter. However, it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss, given the current status of the matter. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the financial position of the Corporation.

In December 1996, certain parties filed a petition in the Commonwealth Court for review of an order of the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner related to the consolidation of Medical Services Association of Pennsylvania (d/b/a Pennsylvania Blue Shield) and Veritus Inc. (d/b/a Blue Cross of Western Pennsylvania) to form Highmark (Consolidation Order). The Commonwealth Court transferred the proceeding to the Pennsylvania Insurance Department to consider the parties' standing to challenge the Consolidation Order and, if it concluded that they had standing, to conduct a hearing to resolve any factual disputes. In January 1999, the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner issued an order dismissing the petition for review to the extent it raised issues with respect to the consolidation and limiting the proceeding to consideration of the change in control of the domestic insurance subsidiaries of Highmark, the certificates of authority of Highmark to operate a nonprofit hospital plan and professional health service plan, and Highmark's bylaws and governance. In December 2002, the Pennsylvania Insurance Department conducted a hearing on this matter. It has issued no further orders in the matter. The Corporation believes, based on consultation with legal counsel, that it has meritorious defenses to the matter. However, it is unable to predict the outcome of the matter, or to reasonably estimate a range of possible loss, given the current status of the matter. An unfavorable outcome in this matter could have a material adverse impact on the Corporation.

The Corporation is subject to various other contingencies, including legal and compliance actions and proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of its business. Due to the complex nature of these actions and proceedings, the timing of the ultimate resolution of these matters is uncertain. In the opinion of management, based on consultation with legal counsel, adequate provision has been made in the combined financial statements for the liability related to these matters, and the amount of ultimate liability with respect to these contingencies is not expected to materially affect the financial position of the Corporation.

16. Guarantees and Commitments

The Corporation has established and funded a trust in order to meet a licensing requirement of BCBSA. The fair value of the contributed assets in the trust at December 31, 2005 and 2004 was approximately $286,000 and $278,000, respectively, which was included in investments in the combined balance sheets.

At December 31, 2005, the Corporation has committed $24,018 to various partnership investments. These commitments are due upon capital calls by the general partners of the partnerships.

In March 2004, the Corporation agreed to purchase from the Allegheny County Industrial Development Authority, upon request of UPMC, a $163,600 tax-exempt revenue note to be issued for the benefit of Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh of the UPMC Health System (Children's). If issued, the note would bear interest at an annual rate of 5.00% and would be secured by a mortgage and gross revenues pledge from Children's and a guarantee secured by a gross revenues pledge by UPMC. Principal payments would be due semi-annually, commencing April 15, 2010, with final payment due on October 15, 2032. The agreement pursuant to which the note would be issued permits UPMC to require the Corporation to purchase the note on certain specific dates beginning March 31, 2006 and ending June 30, 2007. The Corporation has estimated the fair value of this option and has recorded a liability in the amount of $5,600 in other payables and accrued expenses in the combined balance sheet at December 31, 2005.
